'Vive Jackie' Cries For Mrs. Kennedy From Paris Crowds

PARIS (UPI) — A crowd of about 1,000 persons broke through police lines today and surrounded Mrs. John F. Kennedy in a wave of admiration for America's First Lady.

Most of the day Mrs. Kennedy was in the company only of diplomats and statesmen. They were with her on arrival at Orly airport when she stepped out of a jetliner with her husband President John F. Kennedy and at the luncheon with President Charles de Gaulle at the Elysee Palace.

The radiant American First Lady, arriving at the palace for a state luncheon, was hailed with shouts of "Jackie" as she stepped from a limousine and she smiled and waved in response.

De Gaulle beamed at the reception given the lovely young wife of his guest while Kennedy smiled quietly.

Mrs. Kennedy had kept in the background at the arrival ceremony at Orly airport but the French crowds got a good look at her when she arrived at the Quai d'Orsday. She came not only as the president's wife but as a sort of ambassadress of American fashion.

Crowds of tens of thousands cheered her — but only from afar — until mid-afternoon when she paid a 45-minute visit to a child welfare clinic founded by the American Red Cross after World War I.

Then it was the turn of the ordinary housewives, shopkeepers and passerby who applauded her as she entered the red-brick building.

By the time Mrs. Kennedy was ready to leave, the crowd had grown to more than 1,000. They were held in check across the broad Avenue Brune by rows of police.

As the president's wife, in a pale yellow two-piece costume, walked to her car, the crowd began to force through the ranks of police.

The crowd raced across the street shouting "Vive Jackie" and "Bravo."

Mrs. Kennedy just about had time to get into her car when the crowd swept around it. Beaming Frenchmen and women looked into the car chattering voluble compliments and welcoming Mrs. Kennedy in their own way.

She smiled back at the crowd, murmuring "Merci"—thanks—over and over again.

Eventually, police managed to force back some of the throng. But even so, the Kennedy automobile had to roll away slowly in low gear for fear of running over someone.

Tamalpais High School gang fights, which started last Thursday with water bomb throwing and erupted into violence Sunday and last night, resulted today in cancellation of the school's traditional senior "high jinks" day for next year.

Principal Richard L. Campion announced today: "There will be no Bermuda Day next year."

"It was during "Bermuda Day" last Thursday that the water bomb fight occurred. It was followed by gang fights Sunday night and last night near the campus, involving high school students.

A crowd of students and some outsiders milled about C's Drive-In near the high school yesterday, sheriff's deputies reported, as a fight developed between groups of white students and Negroes. About 17 in all, including two non-students, were actually involved in the melee, the officers reported. Four students were reported hurt in the scuffle.

Assassination Of Trujillo Is Reported

Kennedy Told Dominican Republic Leader Slain

PARIS (UPI)—White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said tonight that President Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic had been assassinated.

Salinger said he could give no details of the assassination.

Wearing white tie and tails in preparation for a formal dinner, he walked into the press room at the Crillon Hotel and tried to speak over a microphone, but it was dead. Then he shouted the news.

RUSK ORDERS

"It is our understanding that Rafael Trujillo has been assassinated," Salenger said. "President John F. Kennedy has instructed Secretary of State Dean Rusk to stay in Washington and keep close watch on events in the Dominican Republic in view of the assassination of President Trujillo."

The reference to "president" Trujillo was an error. Rafael Trujillo and his brother Hector both have served as presidents of the Dominican Republic. But Hector resigned Aug. 3, 1960, and was succeeded as president by Vice President Joaquin Balaguer.

SEEMS TRUE

(In Washington, a high State Department official today said the assassination report "seems to be true" but that the department could not flatly confirm the report without further proof.

(A department spokesman said the reports came from "travelers arriving in a nearby country" — presumably Haiti. He said the travelers reported an "unusually tense situation" in the Dominican Republic.

(Officials said there were reports the capital of Ciudad Trujillo is "under heavy military guard."

(They said false rumors of Trujillo's assassination had been circulated many times in the past.)

Khrushchev Arriving In Czechoslovakia

The official Czech news agency said Khrushchev would stay in Bratislava for about 36 hours, leaving for Vienna Friday morning. Bratislava is 35 miles from Vienna.

A Soviet spokesman here said Khrushchev would have no set agenda for his talks with Kennedy Saturday and Sunday. Earlier Moscow press reports said the top Soviet priority issues for the talks would be disarmament, Germany and Soviet-American relations.

CONFERENCES EXPECTED

During his stop-over in Bratislava, Khrushchev was expected to confer with President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia and Hungary's Communist party chief, Janos Kadar, with the possibility that Communist leaders of other Soviet bloc nations would join the talks.

Despite reliable reports here and in Moscow on the Red summit, a Soviet spokesman said such an expanded conference was "unlikely." Czech sources had no comment.

Official information on Khrushchev's movements was sparse, a marked contrast from the fanfare that has accompanied his earlier trips abroad.

LEISURELY TRIP

Khrushchev reached Czechoslovakia after a leisurely train trip through the Ukraine. He stopped en route at Kiev, and was reported to have conferred at length with top advisers along the way.

With him on the train were his wife, Nina, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Russian Ambassador to the United States Mikhail Menshikov.

Injunction Against Klan Thrown Out

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—A federal judge denied today the government's plea for a temporary injunction against some Alabama officials accused of interfering with "freedom riders" and threw out an injunction obtained earlier against a Ku Klux Klan group.

Johnson lifted a temporary injunction against the federated Klans of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., which recently was ordered to stop interfering with interstate passenger travel.

He refused requests for an injunction against Birmingham Police Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor, Police Chief Jamie Moore and Lester C. Hawkins of Montgomery in connection with racial violence in Alabama during "freedom rides."

But Johnson turned down efforts to throw out preliminary injunctions against Montgomery Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan, Montgomery Police Chief G. J. Ruppenthal, the U.S. Klans, Inc., Alvin Horne of Talladaga, the Alabama Knights, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, and two men identified as being present at the Montgomery bus terminal when violence erupted a week ago Saturday.

Johnson told lawyers for the Birmingham officials that his ruling "does not stop the federal government appying for a preliminary injunction again in the event of similar troubles in Birmingham."

Greenbrae Man Saves His Wife

Elden G. Wintle of Greenbrae dived into Snodgrass Slough and rescued his wife Monday afternoon after she was knocked unconscious as she fell into the water and struck her head on the side of their 21-foot cruiser.

The boat bumped Mrs. Melva Wintle, 52, of 200 North Almenar Drive, after she fell into the water.

She slipped and fell while attempting to jump from boat to boat while en route to the dock. The boats were anchored in Snodgrass Slough near Walnut Grove, Sacramento County.

Mrs. Wintle fractured a rib and injured her back. She was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday.

Triumphal Paris Arrival For President Kennedy

Leaders Meet, Agree On Red Berlin Threat

PARIS (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy made a triumphal entry into Paris today on his first overseas mission as president and within a few hours "came to general agreement" with President Charles de Gaulle on how to handle the Soviet threat to Berlin.

Later Kennedy pledged during a speech at a glittering state banquet that U.S. forces would stay in Europe as long as required and meet any threat to the Western Alliance with all necessary weapons.

He said he was certain that neither the United States nor France would ever ignore NATO "to risk war or to accept retreat or to act out of narrow isolation."

RESULT OF TALKS

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger announced the result of the first day's talks between Kennedy and the French president, which are an important preliminary to the summit meeting between Kennedy and Khrushchev in Vienna this weekend.

Hardly had the cheers faded of the hundreds of thousands who applauded the President and Mrs. Kennedy from Orly Airport to their residence at the Quai d'Orsay inside the capital than the two statesmen went into private session. They moved to strengthen Western unity in the face of the crucial confrontation in Vienna this Saturday and Sunday.

STATE SPEECH

Senate Group Rejects 'Red' School Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill aimed at preventing communists and subversives from meeting in California schools was rejected, 5-4, by the Senate Education Committee today.

The measure by Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo) would have required groups meeting in schools to sign a statement that they would not commit a crime.

Francis said subversive organizations have used schools to advocate overthrow of the government, which is a crime.

But opponents said the bill assumed anyone meeting in a school was planning to commit a crime.

"You can throw a man in jail for what he does, not what he is thinking," said Sen. Hugo Fisher (D-San Diego).

The State Supreme Court has ruled unconstitutional a law requiring organizations meeting in schools to sign loyalty oaths.

RUSK ASKS FOREIGN AID PLAN APPROVAL

Secretary Delays European Trip To Fight Congressional Opposition

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today urged approval of President John F. Kennedy's 4.8-billion-dollar foreign aid program as an urgent necessity for the "enlargement of freedom in the world."

Rusk told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the cost "may seem large, but we can afford to do what has to be done. What we cannot afford is to fail to undertake the effort—and a sufficient effort."

The secretary postponed his departure for Europe to join President Kennedy so that he could give the embattled aid program a top-level opening plug. This is a year when congressional opposition is strong to many of its features.

Rusk especially appealed for Kennedy's request to permit five-year borrowing authority to put loans to underdeveloped nations on a more orderly planning and programing basis.

Kennedy's total request include 1.69 billion dollars in economic aid, 900 million dollars for the first year of the requested borrowing authority, and 1.885 billion dollars in military aid.

Long-term development planning is needed, Rusk said, because "we must attempt to forestall crises—not simply live from crisis to crises." He called the borrowing authority "the heart of the new program."

In opening the hearing, Chairman J. William Fullbright (D-Ark.), voiced hopes that "the new program will put vitality into a program which has been missing since the days of the Marshall Plan and Point Four."

Assembly Vote Would Curb Motor Dept.

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly voted today to strip the Department of Motor Vehicles of its general authority to suspend or revoke a driver's license for first offense drunken driving.

The bill, passed without debate, now goes to the Senate.

The department came under fire last year for its declared get-tough program of mandatory suspensions against first offenders. Its action was upheld by the California Supreme Court.

The bill continues the discretionary power of the courts to suspend or revoke licenses. It provides, however, that a judge may merely restrict the driving privilege of a first offender to working hours if loss of his license would affect his livelihood.

GAS CHAMBER VOW

Court Hears More About Trucks Deal

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann promised to blow up the Auschwitz gas chambers if world Jewish leaders agreed to his "blood for trucks" offer in the summer of 1944, the court trying him was told today.

"I am sure he promised it and that we spoke about it in the (Jewish) relief committee and that we also spoke for hours about it at Istanbul," said Joel Brand, a Hungarian Jew who went to the Turkish city to negotiate the deal.

Brand's wife, Hansi, told the court that she was told of this promise by both Eichmann and her husband.

Just before the court recessed for lunch, an elderly orthodox Jew with a large, bushy beard shouted at Eichmann in his glass box, "What are you writing there, you murderer, you bandit?"

He was expelled from the courtroom and taken to a hospital for observation. He was said to be a Hungarian rabbi.

This was the third such incident since the trial opened.

The Brands testified that Eichmann promised to hold 100,000 Hungarian Jews "on ice" in Austria for two weeks while Brand was negotiating with world Jewish leaders and the British.

Eichmann welched on the deal at once and continued shipping 12,000 Jews daily to the gas chambers even while the negotiations were in progress, they testified.

Brand was arrested by the British soon after his arrival in the Middle East and held for 4½ months in Cairo. The deal never went through.

The Brands spent all morning under searching questioning from Eichmann's German defense lawyer Robert Servatius and the three-man bench of Israeli judges. Both stuck to their stories.

Eichmann, who appeared to be suffering from hay fever or head cold in the 95-in-the-shade heat wave in which Jerusalem is sweltering, listened for a time with little interest.

He scribbled a dozen notes which were handed to Servatius by a court police officer.

Donations For Tractors Tax Exemption Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announcement of a controversial tax exemption for donations to the Tractors for Freedom Committee has been delayed because of congressional criticism.

Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, said today the IRS won't issue an opinion until its position has been studied by the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

Caplin, in an interview, would not say what sort of decision will be made. However, other sources gave strong indications that Caplin intends to grant the tax exemption.

The IRS chief is expected to act by the end of the week. His opinion will be in the form of a letter to the tractor committee and will state that an exemption will be granted if the group meets a number of legal conditions.

The committee was formed to try to win freedom for 1,200 Cuban invasion prisoners.

The committee would buy 500 tractors which would be delivered to Cuba in exchange for the prisoners.

President John F. Kennedy has called for public support of the program which is privately sponsored.

Kennedy has said that "tax exemption is granted as a matter of course to any 'charitable' organization engaged in the rehabilitation and assistance of needy refugees."

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), vice chairman of the Senate-House committee, last week questioned the legality of granting the fund-raising organization a tax exemption.

"A ruling of this kind would be a distortion of existing regulations," Byrd said. "This is not charity, it is blackmail."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and most congressional Republicans have been sharply critical of the proposed tractors-for-prisoners trade. They also have called it blackmail by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Caplin said the request of the tractor committee for an exemption was handled in a routine way by the IRS staff. The request was filed a week ago.

Caplin conceded it was not routine to submit a proposed opinion in advance to the Senate-House committee. He said he did this because "I read the headlines" and wanted to acquaint committee members with the reasoning behind the IRS opinion.

The congressional committee has been furnished with a lengthy opinion by the IRS acting chief counsel, Rudolph Hertzog, that an exemption would be legal.

'Pro-Castro Group Backed By U.S. Reds'

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A communist-infiltrated group is actively recruiting members on college campuses and elsewhere in the United States in a pro-Castro organization.

Called the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" (FPCC), the organization plays on American sympathy for the underdog by depicting Cuban Premier Fidel Castro as a misrepresented patriot who is being "bullied" by a big neighbor.

The group now claims a membership of about 7,000, with chapters at 37 colleges and in 23 cities. Although all of its members are by no means Communists, it is heavily infiltrated by Reds.

U.N. DEMONSTRATION

On April 15, when the United Nations was debating a Cuban charge of "aggression" against the United States, a crowd of about 300 demonstrators marched outside the U.N. building waving anti-American placards and shouting, "Cuba si; Yankee, no!"

This demonstration was organized by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

The FPCC's orientation also is clear in its propaganda, which is distributed to members through a newsletter and other literature and to the general public in occasional paid newspaper advertisements.

It consistently blames the United States for friction with the Castro regime, and rarely finds fault with anything that Castro has done, including his mass executions.

There is documentary proof that the committee has been infiltrated by members of not one, but two, communist organizations.

One is the regular Communist Party, U.S.A. The other, less well known to the public, is the Socialist Workers Party. The latter is a dissident communist group that was formed by followers of Leon Trotsky after he was expelled from Russia. It has no ties with the Kremlin and in the past has been a bitter enemy of the Communist Party.

The fact that these long-antagonistic communist factions have begun to work together in the FPCC is extremely interesting to authorities who keep a close watch on Red activities in America. It suggests the possibility that they may be moving toward a united front.

EX-NEWSMAN

The FPCC was organized, a little more than a year ago, by Robert Bruce Taber, a former television newsman who became a Castro supporter during the early days of the Cuban revolution.

An FBI report submitted to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee shows that Taber was arrested in Ohio in 1939, and entered a plea of guilty to charges of armed robbery, auto larceny and kidnaping. He was sentenced to 30 years in prison, but was released on parole in 1942.

Taber is now in Cuba, wielding sword and pen for Castro. During the April invasion attempt by anti-Castro forces, he was photographed wearing the uniform of the Castro militia. He also is reported to be working for Revolucion, official organ of the Castro regime.

LISBON (AP)—High tide was expected to wash more bodies and wreckage ashore today from a Dutch-Venezuelan airliner in which all 61 persons aboard were killed.

The four-engine jet crashed on a storm-swept Atlantic beach early yesterday soon after taking off from Lisbon for the Azores. The plane had come from Rome and Madrid, leased by the Venezuelan airline Viasa from KLM.

The Superconstellation ferrying U.S. military personnel and their families from Germany to McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., was forced to turn back two hours after leaving Shannon when one of its four propellers ran wild and the pilot could not feather it.

PARCHMAN, Miss (UPI)—Negro Robert Lee Goldsby died in Mississippi's gas chamber today for the 1954 murder of a white woman after expressing sympathy for his and her families.

Goldsby, center of a far reaching legal battle, said in a death row interview shortly before he calmly walked into the chamber: "It's a tragic thing for both my family and the other family concerned. I am truly sorry for the heartaches I have caused."

Intently watching Goldsby die was Bryant Nelms, husband of the woman he killed.

Kasavubu Returns

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI)—The Congo capital waited today, following President Joseph Kasavubu's triumphant return from the Coquilhatville conference, to hear how soon parliament would reconvene.

Although no definite date had been set for a new session of the legislature, which had been in forced adjournment since the overthrow of former Premier Patrice Lumumba, it was expected to open before mid-June.

Thousands of persons cheered Kasavubu yesterday when he returned by riverboat from Coquilhatville and rode through the city to his official residence.

Prelate Retiring

LONDON (UPI) — Geoffrey Fisher, the 74-year-old Anglican primate who tried to bring the Church of England and the Roman Catholic Church closer together, retires at midnight as the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The outgoing bishop, 99th primate of all England, said yesterday he planned to retire to the country. He said he might be willing to take a new job if the duties were not too arduous.

'Fuehrer' Out On Bail Alone, Decides It's Time To Eat

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The "Fuehrer" of the American Nazi Party today tried to get his "hate bus" out of the police pound, while his nine "storm troopers" langished in jail.

George Lincoln Rockwell, the Arlington, Va., ex-Navy commander who appointed himself "commander" of America's nazis, left jail yesterday on $300 bond put up by a "local man" whose name was not revealed.

Rockwell's first stop after release from five days imprisonment and hunger striking was a French Quarter restaurant, where he put away a steak dinner.

He fired off a wire to his second in command, "Lt. John Patler, American Nazi Party, New Orleans Parish (county) Prison.

"Your will and dedication is inspiring white men everywhere to stand up and fight. Start eating and God bless you. Seig heil."

Rockwell also said he had learned that the trial would be held either Friday or Monday.

The short-lived hunger strike was called to protest a "conspiracy of the inferior peoples in the world to overthrow the white race."

The Nazis were arrested when they started picketing against Jews and Negroes.

The bus, a Volkswagen plastered with anti-Jewish, anti-Negro slogans, was confiscated along with an unmarked car used by the Nazis to enter New Orleans.

She Didn't Know She'd Die 10 Days After Her Wedding

REDLANDS (AP)—Nancy Fortune, 17, a bride of 10 days, is dead. She never knew her marriage to her childhood sweetheart, Dwight Twomey, was doomed.

Their wedding was planned for years, as they grew up together in nearby Riverside. But Dwight was called for military service, and they decided to wait until he was free.

Twomey went to Okinawa for 13 months, with the Marines. In that time Nancy fell ill. She was brought to Community Hospital here, and Dwight, 19, came home.

They were married last week at the hospital's chapel, in the presence of the family and a few friends. Nancy went back to her hospital bed for more treatment, cheered by dreams of her life with Dwight.

Her husband and relatives knew she hoped in vain. But Nancy never learned that she had leukemia, which took her life Monday night.

Ike Expected To Hit Kennedy At GOP Rally

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are looking to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for a resounding attack on the Kennedy administration's domestic policies at a party rally here tomorrow night.

The former president was represented by those who have talked to him recently as being in a mood to assail President John F. Kennedy's New Frontiers program as one likely to call for a spending spree threatening the stability of the dollar.

With Kennedy scheduled to begin informal talks in Vienna Saturday with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Eisenhower is expected to refrain from any attacks on foreign policy at this time.

TRACTORS

The presence of his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, on the Tractors for Freedom Committee is regarded as an indication that the former president will not join other Republicans in criticizing the proposed exchange with Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Eisenhower's speech at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner will be his first since he left office last Jan. 20.

While Democrats don't think they will like what he says, they are cooperating with Republicans to cut the cost of staging the dinner. The GOP helped reduce the expenses of a similar 6,000-plate birthday affair for Kennedy in the same armory last Saturday night.

SHARED COSTS

While officials of the two national committee have gone about their usual business of exchanging political insults in public, they have collaborated privately to share the cost of building platforms, arranging bunting and transporting tables and chairs. Both committees thus saved several thousand dollars.

Eisenhower will have lunch at the Capitol Hill Club at noon tomorrow with Republican leaders.

The national committee will meet in the afternoon to conduct routine business and to get a report from State Chairman Ray Bliss of Ohio on the findings of a committee studying how Republicans can improve their voting strength in the big cities.

Two Marinites Due Redlands Degrees

Two Marin residents will be graduated Sunday from University of Redlands, both receiving bachelor of arts degrees.

They are Earle Michael Young Jr. of 11 Madrone Avenue, Kentfield, and Robert G. Ketron, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ketron of 5 Tappan Court, San Anselmo.

Anti-Cancer Drug Tests Successful

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General Luther Terry said last night that government tests of an anti-cancer drug indicates "we're on our way" toward conquest of the dread disease.

Terry described as "a very exciting thing" the results of tests in which the chemical methotrexate was used against a rare form of cancer which develops in the womb of pregnant women.

In the tests at the National Cancer Institute at Bethsda, Md., the drug cured or arrested nearly 50 per cent of such womb cancer cases. This type of cancer usually spreads rapidly and almost always has been fatal.

Other public health officials said that the success with methotrexate opened up the prospect of finding other chemicals to cure other forms of cancer.

In the government tests, 63 womb cancer victims—some near death—were treated with methotrexate. In 30, the cancer was arrested or eliminated, of the remainder, 25 died, one showed no improvement and seven are still being treated.

Methotrexate also has prolonged the lives of some victims of leukemia, cancer of the blood which is always fatal. The drug has been used with very limited success against cancer of the testicles.

The government has licensed about 20 anti-cancer drugs for sale to doctors. But officials said none matched methotrexate's apparent ability to prevent recurrence for more than five years in some cases.

The methrotrexate success had been disclosed recently in testimony before a House Appropriations Subcommittee and a meeting of the American Assn. for Cancer Research.

Terry hailed the drug in a radio interview. Officials of the National Cancer Institute and the U.S. Public Health Service gave additional details.

These officials cautioned against considering methotrexate a cure for all forms of cancer. They said scientists probably never would find such a drug but probably would have to develop a specific drug for each form of cancer.

The officials said the methotrexate causes very severe side effects in the patient. But they said doctors have found ways to overcome these.

Bill Would Increase College Activity Fees

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Student activity fees at state colleges would be increased from $66 to $76 under legislation approved by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee last night.

The action came after Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post said the increase was necessary to cover the actual cost of non-classroom activities. The increase would bring in $357,560.

A DOLL FROM NIKITA

Elaine Williams, 10, of Jacksonville, Fla., wrote a letter to Nikita S. Khrushchev asking him to send a doll of his country to her. If he would do that, she wrote, she would send a U.S. doll to his niece. She said she hoped for peace between the two countries. She is holding up the Russian doll sent to her by Premier Khrushchev. GAS CHAMBER VOW

Court Hears More About Trucks Deal

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann promised to blow up the Auschwitz gas chambers if world Jewish leaders agreed to his "blood for trucks" offer in the summer of 1944, the court trying him was told today.

"I am sure he promised it and that we spoke about it in the (Jewish) relief committee and that we also spoke for hours about it at Istanbul," said Joel Brand, a Hungarian Jew who went to the Turkish city to negotiate the deal.

Brand's wife, Hansi, told the court that she was told of this promise by both Eichmann and her husband.

Just before the court recessed for lunch, an elderly orthodox Jew with a large, bushy beard shouted at Eichmann in his glass box, "What are you writing there, you murderer, you bandit?"

He was expelled from the courtroom and taken to a hospital for observation. He was said to be a Hungarian rabbi.

This was the third such incident since the trial opened.

The Brands testified that Eichmann promised to hold 100,000 Hungarian Jews "on ice" in Austria for two weeks while Brand was negotiating with world Jewish leaders and the British.

Eichmann welched on the deal at once and continued shipping 12,000 Jews daily to the gas chambers even while the negotiations were in progress, they testified.

Brand was arrested by the British soon after his arrival in the Middle East and held for 4½ months in Cairo. The deal never went through.

The Brands spent all morning under searching questioning from Eichmann's German defense lawyer Robert Servatius and the three-man bench of Israeli judges. Both stuck to their stories.

Eichmann, who appeared to be suffering from hay fever or head cold in the 95-in-the-shade heat wave in which Jerusalem is sweltering, listened for a time with little interest.

He scribbled a dozen notes which were handed to Servatius by a court police officer.

Donations For Tractors Tax Exemption Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announcement of a controversial tax exemption for donations to the Tractors for Freedom Committee has been delayed because of congressional criticism.

Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, said today the IRS won't issue an opinion until its position has been studied by the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

Caplin, in an interview, would not say what sort of decision will be made. However, other sources gave strong indications that Caplin intends to grant the tax exemption.

The IRS chief is expected to act by the end of the week. His opinion will be in the form of a letter to the tractor committee and will state that an exemption will be granted if the group meets a number of legal conditions.

The committee was formed to try to win freedom for 1,200 Cuban invasion prisoners.

Ike Expected To Hit Kennedy At GOP Rally

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are looking to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for a resounding attack on the Kennedy administration's domestic policies at a party rally here tomorrow night.

The former president was represented by those who have talked to him recently as being in a mood to assail President John F. Kennedy's New Frontiers program as one likely to call for a spending spree threatening the stability of the dollar.

With Kennedy scheduled to begin informal talks in Vienna Saturday with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Eisenhower is expected to refrain from any attacks on foreign policy at this time.

TRACTORS

The presence of his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, on the Tractors for Freedom Committee is regarded as an indication that the former president will not join other Republicans in criticizing the proposed exchange with Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Eisenhower's speech at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner will be his first since he left office last Jan. 20.

While Democrats don't think they will like what he says, they are cooperating with Republicans to cut the cost of staging the dinner. The GOP helped reduce the expenses of a similar 6,000-plate birthday affair for Kennedy in the same armory last Saturday night.

SHARED COSTS

While officials of the two national committee have gone about their usual business of exchanging political insults in public, they have collaborated privately to share the cost of building platforms, arranging bunting and transporting tables and chairs. Both committees thus saved several thousand dollars.

The national committee will meet in the afternoon to conduct routine business and to get a report from State Chairman Ray Bliss of Ohio on the findings of a committee studying how Republicans can improve their voting strength in the big cities.

Two Marinites Due Redlands Degrees

Two Marin residents will be graduated Sunday from University of Redlands, both receiving bachelor of arts degrees.

They are Earle Michael Young Jr. of 11 Madrone Avenue, Kentfield, and Robert G. Ketron, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ketron of 5 Tappan Court, San Anselmo.

Anti-Cancer Drug Tests Successful

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General Luther Terry said last night that government tests of an anti-cancer drug indicates "we're on our way" toward conquest of the dread disease.

Terry described as "a very exciting thing" the results of tests in which the chemical methotrexate was used against a rare form of cancer which develops in the womb of pregnant women.

In the tests at the National Cancer Institute at Bethsda, Md., the drug cured or arrested nearly 50 per cent of such womb cancer cases. This type of cancer usually spreads rapidly and almost always has been fatal.

Other public health officials said that the success with methotrexate opened up the prospect of finding other chemicals to cure other forms of cancer.

In the government tests, 63 womb cancer victims—some near death—were treated with methotrexate. In 30, the cancer was arrested or eliminated, of the remainder, 25 died, one showed no improvement and seven are still being treated.

Methotrexate also has prolonged the lives of some victims of leukemia, cancer of the blood which is always fatal. The drug has been used with very limited success against cancer of the testicles.

The government has licensed about 20 anti-cancer drugs for sale to doctors. But officials said none matched methotrexate's apparent ability to prevent recurrence for more than five years in some cases.

The methrotrexate success had been disclosed recently in testimony before a House Appropriations Subcommittee and a meeting of the American Assn. for Cancer Research.

Terry hailed the drug in a radio interview. Officials of the National Cancer Institute and the U.S. Public Health Service gave additional details.

These officials cautioned against considering methotrexate a cure for all forms of cancer. They said scientists probably never would find such a drug but probably would have to develop a specific drug for each form of cancer.

The officials said the methotrexate causes very severe side effects in the patient. But they said doctors have found ways to overcome these.

Bill Would Increase College Activity Fees

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Student activity fees at state colleges would be increased from $66 to $76 under legislation approved by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee last night.

The action came after Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post said the increase was necessary to cover the actual cost of non-classroom activities. The increase would bring in $357,560.

Traffic Death Toll Reaches Record High

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's traffic death toll, racing along at a tragic steady rate of more than four an hour for 102 hours, hit a record high for the extended Memorial Day weekend.

Late reports covering the period from 6 p.m. Friday to last midnight were expected to boost the final count far past the previous high of 413 for a four-day Memorial Day observance. That was in 1957.

Safety experts expressed fear that belated reports might show one of the heaviest tolls for a holiday weekend during the spring and summer months in 11 years. During the July 4, 1950, weekend of four days 491 persons were killed in traffic accidents.

LAST YEAR'S TOLL

This year's heavy toll on the highways compared with 367 traffic deaths for last year's three-day Memorial Day weekend. Other violent fatalities during the four-day weekend included drownings not involving boats, in boating accidents and from miscellaneous mishaps. The over-all death toll compared to last year's 579.

In the 1957 Memorial Day weekend, there also were 134 drownings and 113 persons killed in miscellaneous accidents for a death toll of 660.

The National Safety Council, which joined with police agencies during the long weekend in urging motorists to drive with caution, underestimated the heavy traffic toll.

COUNCIL STATEMENT

The council, in a pre-holiday statement, estimated 100 persons might be killed in the 30-hour period from 6 p.m. Monday to last midnight. The total was 113. The council did not make an estimate for the entire 102-hour period because Monday was generally observed as a work day. However, it said highway deaths for the period at this time of the year would total 385.

A survey for a 102-hour non-holiday period, from 6 p.m. Friday May 12 to midnight, Tuesday, May 16, showed 341 traffic fatalities. Other violent deaths included 14 in boating, 78 drownings and 106 in miscellaneous type accidents, a total of 539.

Employment Pickup Expected To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department reported today that a gradual employment pickup begun in March is expected to continue at least to mid-July.

The department's Bureau of Employment Security said its May survey of labor market trends show that employers in about two-thirds of the nation's 150 major industrial centers expect further slight seasonal employment gains into midsummer.

Bartender Turns Tables On Assailant

A San Rafael bartender told police today he turned the tables on a would-be robber but suffered minor injuries in struggling with the attacker.

James Henry Curtin, 29, of 79 Woodland Avenue, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital about 2:45 a.m., then released.

He said he had been drinking at the Old Fashioned bar on Fourth Street and walked out to the rear of the bar toward his car about 1 or 1:30 a.m. At the parking lot, a man jumped him and started hitting him. Curtin said he thought the man was trying to rob him.

Curtin told officers he managed to get an arm lock on the attacker, who said he had had enough and ran off toward Third Street.

Strawberry Rec District Accepts Bid On Field Job

Trustees of the Strawberry Recreation District Monday accepted an alternate low bid of $2,152 from Piombo Brothers of San Rafael to grade a play area on the district's recreation field at Belvedere Drive and Ricardo Road.

The bid, which was originally $3,152, was pared down $1,000 by trustees who said they would do the drainage work themselves and try to enlist the help of community volunteers.

Grading, to begin Aug. 15 and end Oct. 15, will be of an area large enough to create two Little League ball fields to be ready for use next spring, said Mrs. James W. Gowen, secretary.

City Of Hope Neighbors March Set Tomorrow

One thousand Marin women are scheduled to go from house to house tomorrow evening to ask their neighbors' support for the City of Hope's free hospital care and pilot medical research.

The one-evening fund appeal is Northern California's sixth annual "Volunteer Neighbors March" for the City of Hope's programs.

Mayor John F. McInnis has proclaimed tomorrow "Hope Thursday" in San Rafael, hailing City of Hope as "one of California's outstanding philanthropies."

City of Hope, a national medical center at Duarte, gives free treatment to victims of such diseases as leukemia, cancer, heart, blood and chest disorders.

Runaway Auto In San Rafael

A parked car rolled out of a San Rafael driveway, bounced off a stone post, and rolled into the lawn at Davidson School yesterday about 10:30 a.m., San Rafael police reported today.

No one was hurt, and the only damage was to the car, police said. Kenneth Edward Valine of 614 Gallerita Way said he had just parked his car on his steep driveway and entered his house. About 10 minutes later, he heard a crash and saw his car on the school lawn.

He said he was sure he had set the emergency brake.

Escapee From Napa Is Caught By CHP

A 20-year-old escapee from Napa State Hospital was caught by the California Highway Patrol yesterday as he walked along the shoulder of Highway 101, southbound, at the Corte Madera overpass.

John A. Manning of San Francisco first told a patrolman he was going home to San Francisco after visiting an aunt in Novato. He later admitted he had walked off the hospital grounds that morning, and hitchhiked part of the way. He was turned over to the sheriff's office and held for Napa.

Bartender Turns Tables On Assailant

A San Rafael bartender told police today he turned the tables on a would-be robber but suffered minor injuries in struggling with the attacker.

James Henry Curtin, 29, of 79 Woodland Avenue, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital about 2:45 a.m., then released.

He said he had been drinking at the Old Fashioned bar on Fourth Street and walked out to the rear of the bar toward his car about 1 or 1:30 a.m. At the parking lot, a man jumped him and started hitting him. Curtin said he thought the man was trying to rob him.

Curtin told officers he managed to get an arm lock on the attacker, who said he had had enough and ran off toward Third Street.

Strawberry Rec District Accepts Bid On Field Job

Trustees of the Strawberry Recreation District Monday accepted an alternate low bid of $2,152 from Piombo Brothers of San Rafael to grade a play area on the district's recreation field at Belvedere Drive and Ricardo Road.

The bid, which was originally $3,152, was pared down $1,000 by trustees who said they would do the drainage work themselves and try to enlist the help of community volunteers.

Grading, to begin Aug. 15 and end Oct. 15, will be of an area large enough to create two Little League ball fields to be ready for use next spring, said Mrs. James W. Gowen, secretary.

City Of Hope Neighbors March Set Tomorrow

One thousand Marin women are scheduled to go from house to house tomorrow evening to ask their neighbors' support for the City of Hope's free hospital care and pilot medical research.

Mayor John F. McInnis has proclaimed tomorrow "Hope Thursday" in San Rafael, hailing City of Hope as "one of California's outstanding philanthropies."

City of Hope, a national medical center at Duarte, gives free treatment to victims of such diseases as leukemia, cancer, heart, blood and chest disorders.

Runaway Auto In San Rafael

A parked car rolled out of a San Rafael driveway, bounced off a stone post, and rolled into the lawn at Davidson School yesterday about 10:30 a.m., San Rafael police reported today.

No one was hurt, and the only damage was to the car, police said. Kenneth Edward Valine of 614 Gallerita Way said he had just parked his car on his steep driveway and entered his house. About 10 minutes later, he heard a crash and saw his car on the school lawn.

He said he was sure he had set the emergency brake.

South Africa Becomes A Republic

White-Ruled Nation Now Independent

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) —South Africa became a republic today with the nation mobilized against demonstrations by the nonwhite majority of its people.

Church bells at midnight and cannon at daybreak heralded the birth of Africa's 22nd independent nation — and the only one still wholly ruled by whites.

Jubilant white throngs — mostly Afrikaners who long wanted a republic free of the 51-year rule under the British crown—braved rain for night-long revelry in this administrative capital.

As the republic was born the government claimed a "total collapse" of the three-day strike launched Monday by leaders of the nation's 13 million nonwhites to demand voting rights reserved for three million whites.

But one African was shot dead and two wounded last night in African townships outside Port Elizabeth, where thousands of Negroes demonstrated against the government by burning South African flags.

Police moved into the African townships with armored cars but claimed they were not responsible for the shootings.

Johannesburg's streets were nearly deserted. Hundreds in the nation's biggest city had stayed home earlier in the week, but today was a holiday for most people anyway. Some Indian and Chinese merchants have kept their shops padlocked in silent protest against white supremacy rule.

4th Annual Kiwanis Club Rodeo Set Sunday At Circle V Ranch

The fourth annual San Rafael Kiwanis Club Rodeo, featuring six regular and four special events, will be presented Sunday at the Circle V Ranch above Fairfax.

The rodeo will open with a parade in the arena, with the Tomales High School Band leading, at 1 p.m. Children under 10 will be admitted free.

The six regular events will consist of calf roping, steer wrestling, bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding and team roping. In the letter event, two riders pair up and each ties the front and rear legs of a running steer. The event is judged by time.

In the barrel race ,the girls try to ride their horse between three barrels—making a figure eight between each barrel—in the fastest possible time. The fastest rider will collect the prize.

The goat-tying contest is also done against time. The girls catch a running goat and try to tie three legs together, holding the goat until the judge passes them.

The saddle cow race is a team event with one of the two-man team riding the frisky cow and the other leading the animal to the judges stand in the fastest possible time. When the rider either gets off the cow or is thrown off, he must carry the saddle with him to the judges stand before time is called.

The cutting horse contest features a horse and rider entering a herd of cattle and separating one of the steers from the herd. The steer which is to be separated is designated and that is the only one that can be separated from the rest.

More than 2,300 persons attended last year's rodeo and Norman A. Ballantine of Kent Woodlands, rodeo chairman, expects another large turn-out this year.

The queen of the rodeo is Zita Grant of San Anselmo who won the title over nine other young women. Her attendents are Pat Dunn of San Anselmo and Ellen Canet of Mill Valley.

The proceeds of the rodeo will go to the underprivileged children's fund.

California Lawmakers Have A Busy Holiday

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California is assured some major political changes. More may be on the way.

A working holiday at the Capitol produced these developments yesterday.

1. Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed a bill establishing a nine-member commission to study possible reapportionment of the State Senate, with an eye on more seats for big city areas.

2. Another bill signed by the governor will permit California voters to send unpledged delegations to national party conventions. The present law requires delegates to state a preference—usually a favorite son candidate.

The new statute, said Brown, "will permit California to make full use of its growing political strength at national conventions." The measure was pushed through by Sen. James A. Cobey (D-Merced).

3. The Assembly accepted Senate amendments and sent Brown a bill by Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) designed to prevent another slow count of California's presidential elections.

The legislation will require absentee voters to get their ballots in three days before election. They now have until six days after election day.

The bill setting up the Senate study calls for five public members, appointed by the governor, and four legislators — two designated by each house.

The commission is directed to hand in its recommendations by next Feb. 10, in time for action by the 1962 legislature and a possible initiative measure on the November ballot.

The study is apart from the legislature's major 1961 chore of working out new lines for the 80 Assembly districts and carving out 38 Congressional districts—a gain of eight— to fit population changes since 1959.

The Senate, heavily rural and northern-controlled, is based on geography—with no more than one senator to a county—and hence not revised every 10 years. Southern California long has complained the present setup is unfair.

Brown has taken the position that the urban areas are entitled to more representation. He has referred especially to Los Angeles County which has six million people and only one senator.

ASSEMBLY UNIT APPROVES BILL ON LOBBYING

SACRAMENTO (AP) — High state officials who develop policy shouldn't be allowed to resign and lobby against that policy for private employers, says Assemblyman Frank Lanterman (R-La Canada).

His bill to prevent such lobbying for two years after the resignation of the state worker was approved yesterday by the Assembly Government Organization Committee.

Violations would be punishable by up to five years in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Education Measures Make Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A series of education measures advanced in the legislature today, including two designed to provide new state aid to junior colleges.

A bill calling for five million dollars in state grants for junior college construction was passed by the Senate yesterday. It now goes to the Assembly.

The bill by Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) would provide the first state building aid to the colleges, which now are built with local district funds.

The Senate Education Committee approved measure which would:

Place on the 1962 ballot a proposed constitutional amendment providing for appointment of the state superintendent of public instruction by the state Board of Education. He is now elected by the people.

Increase state support of junior colleges by about nine million dollars by using surplus money in county school funds.

Provide for allocation by the State Board of Education of some 52 million dollars in federal aid California would receive under pending federal legislation.

The Contractors' State License Board announced today it plans to issue a masonry contractor's license to Joe J. Pedroli, 308 Du Bois Street, San Rafael, if no protests are received by July 1.

Bill To Outlaw Draw Poker Places Killed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to outlaw draw poker places has been defeated by the Assembly Government Organization Committee.

The measure, by Assemblyman John A. O'Connell (D-San Francisco) would have made it a misdemeanor to operate a draw poker establishment with more than 20 players if the operator takes anything but his winnings from the game. The committee voted 7-2 against it.

The attorney general backed the bill on grounds that organized crime develops around large scale gambling.

Officials said the large poker poker establishments are in Gardena, Sacramento County, Seal Beach in Orange County and Emeryville and Hayward in Alameda County.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) asked O'Connell if he introduced the bill to strike back at Assemblyman Clayton Dills (D-Gardena) co-author of the bill increasing narcotics penalties. O'Connell was an opponent of the narcotics bill.

O'Connell said he waited until the narcotics bill was passed before bringing up the poker measure to avoid just such a charge.

Kennedy's Cake To Be Eaten Today

BOSTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy's birthday cake, all 500 pounds of it, will be eaten today.

The huge cake, which went untouched at Monday night's 100-a-plate dinner, was moved intact to Nazareth Child Care Center after the big affair in Commonwealth Armory.

All day yesterday the tempting mountain was on display at the center. The Catholic nuns in charge of the children said many of the children were away for Memorial Day and "we'll have an ice cream and cake party for everybody tomorrow.

About 117 young people from the United States and 125 foreign youths will take part in the 1961 International Farm Youth Exchange program.

'Russ Blocking Test Ban Talks'

GENEVA (AP)—Britain formally accused the Soviet Union today of blocking the Geneva negotiations to halt the nuclear armaments race.

Sir Michael Wright, British delegate to the deadlocked three-power test ban talks, expressed "intense regret" of the British government over the Soviet attitude in the negotiations.

He severely criticized the Soviet delegate, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, for rejecting out-of-hand a Western compromise proposal, presented Monday, to lower the number of inspections on the site of suspicious earth tremors in the Soviet Union.

Weather Prophet

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A snow storm came as no surprise to Paul Arrington, acting safety assistant at the Wichita post-office.

Arrington explains he knows from experience that dogs become friskier in unseasonably warm weather and just before a storm.

His weather tip-off came whein five mail carriers being bitten or threatened by dogs a few days before the storm.

Life Imprisonment Asked For Algerian Insurgents

PARIS, (UPI)—The prosecution asked life imprisonment today for two leaders of last month's abortive "generals' revolt" in Algeria.

Prosecutor General Antonin Besson told the special military tribunal that he found it "impossible" to ask the death penalty for former Generals Maurice Challe, 55, and Andre Zeller, 63. He said he had spent "a week of sleepless nights" in reaching the decision.

Sentencing was expected later today.

Besson asked for prison terms in a dramatic three hour summation on the third day of the trial. Challe and Zeller were charged with organizing an armed insurrection against President Charles de Gaulle and under the articles of the legal code they could have received the death penalty.

Earlier, an attorney for Challe told the court that hopes for American aid for the insurgent forces was merely "wishful thinking" on his client's part.

Reports circulating in Paris after the revolt said U.S. Central Intelligence agents encouraged Challe to rebet and promised American help. The reports were denied by the United States, France and Challe himself.

Brig. Gen. Georges Heritier told the court yesterday that Zeller told him during the insurrection, "We will have the help of a certain number of countries, including Portugal, Spain, South Africa, Israel and parts of South America."

Heritier said Challe interjected: "I would rather have the United States with us than those countries."

3 Negro Churches May Join Whites

ATLANTA (AP)—Three Negro Presbyterian churches have been invited into full membership in the all-white Atlanta Presbytery.

The move received almost unanimous backing from ministers and elders, representing the presbytery's 98 churches, during a voice vote.

The Rev. Cyrus Mallard said he understood the Negro churches would be admitted in the near future but may be necessary to wait until the Synod of Georgia meets next year and votes on the presbytery's decision.

Actor Randolph Scott Better After Operation

Scott has been almost a yearly visitor to the Mayo Clinic for health checkups since 1938. He arrived Sunday and the operation was performed Monday.

Officials said the large poker poker establishments are in Gardena, Sacramento County, Seal Beach in Orange County and Emeryville and Hayward in Alameda County.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) asked O'Connell if he introduced the bill to strike back at Assemblyman Clayton Dills (D-Gardena) co-author of the bill increasing narcotics penalties. O'Connell was an opponent of the narcotics bill.

O'Connell said he waited until the narcotics bill was passed before bringing up the poker measure to avoid just such a charge.

Kennedy's Cake To Be Eaten Today

BOSTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy's birthday cake, all 500 pounds of it, will be eaten today.

The huge cake, which went untouched at Monday night's 100-a-plate dinner, was moved intact to Nazareth Child Care Center after the big affair in Commonwealth Armory.

All day yesterday the tempting mountain was on display at the center. The Catholic nuns in charge of the children said many of the children were away for Memorial Day and "we'll have an ice cream and cake party for everybody tomorrow.

About 117 young people from the United States and 125 foreign youths will take part in the 1961 International Farm Youth Exchange program.

'Russ Blocking Test Ban Talks'

GENEVA (AP)—Britain formally accused the Soviet Union today of blocking the Geneva negotiations to halt the nuclear armaments race.

Sir Michael Wright, British delegate to the deadlocked three-power test ban talks, expressed "intense regret" of the British government over the Soviet attitude in the negotiations.

He severely criticized the Soviet delegate, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, for rejecting out-of-hand a Western compromise proposal, presented Monday, to lower the number of inspections on the site of suspicious earth tremors in the Soviet Union.

Life Imprisonment Asked For Algerian Insurgents

PARIS, (UPI)—The prosecution asked life imprisonment today for two leaders of last month's abortive "generals' revolt" in Algeria.

Prosecutor General Antonin Besson told the special military tribunal that he found it "impossible" to ask the death penalty for former Generals Maurice Challe, 55, and Andre Zeller, 63. He said he had spent "a week of sleepless nights" in reaching the decision.

Sentencing was expected later today.

Besson asked for prison terms in a dramatic three hour summation on the third day of the trial. Challe and Zeller were charged with organizing an armed insurrection against President Charles de Gaulle and under the articles of the legal code they could have received the death penalty.

Earlier, an attorney for Challe told the court that hopes for American aid for the insurgent forces was merely "wishful thinking" on his client's part.

Reports circulating in Paris after the revolt said U.S. Central Intelligence agents encouraged Challe to rebet and promised American help. The reports were denied by the United States, France and Challe himself.

Brig. Gen. Georges Heritier told the court yesterday that Zeller told him during the insurrection, "We will have the help of a certain number of countries, including Portugal, Spain, South Africa, Israel and parts of South America."

Heritier said Challe interjected: "I would rather have the United States with us than those countries."

3 Negro Churches May Join Whites

ATLANTA (AP)—Three Negro Presbyterian churches have been invited into full membership in the all-white Atlanta Presbytery.

The move received almost unanimous backing from ministers and elders, representing the presbytery's 98 churches, during a voice vote.

The Rev. Cyrus Mallard said he understood the Negro churches would be admitted in the near future but may be necessary to wait until the Synod of Georgia meets next year and votes on the presbytery's decision.

Goldfine Wants Plea Of Guilty Withdrawn

BOSTON (UPI) — Counsel for Bernard Goldfine filed a motion today to withdraw a plea of guilty to indictments charging evasion of $790,000 in federal income taxes.

Goldfine, whose gifts and favors to high government officials made nationwide headlines three years ago in a congressional probe, was to have been sentenced Monday by federal Judge George C. Sweeney.

Attorney Burton L. Williams for Goldfine said in his motion that a court-appointed psychiatrist reported earlier this month only that Goldfine was mentally competent to plead guilty, not that he was competent to stand trial.

The guilty plea was entered May 15 on condition that a psychiatric study be held to show he was competent.

Judge Sweeney had declared Goldfine mentally incompetent for trial last Oct. 13, then reversed the finding last February after the wealthy textile industrialist spent four months in mental hospitals where witnesses said he conducted business by bribing attendants to carry messages and conferring with his secretary.

Judge Sweeney will hear arguments Monday on the motion to withdraw the plea. This was the day originally set for sentencing of Goldfine and the secretary, Mildred Paperman.

Together they are under indictment charging evasion of $340,000 in taxes allegedly owned by Strathmore Woolen Co. of Boston. Goldfine is President and Miss Paperman is chief financial officer.

She pleaded guilty earlier but sentencing was postponed.

Goldfine also is charged with evasion of $450,000 in personal taxes. Miss Paperman was fined $12,500 on her guilty plea to charges of evasion of $27,500 in personal taxes.

The work of erecting prestressed bridge girders for the overcrossing will continue through the night, and should be completed by tomorrow morning.

Interest Rate Fight Shaping Up In D.C.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sharp differences are developing between the White House and Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Martin over whether interest rates should go up or down.

Martin was said to feel that interest rates will rise gradually as the business recovery continues and the reserve board cannot prudently push them down.

On the other hand, President John F. Kennedy and his economic advisers want to bring down the rates, especially on long-term borrowing, even as business activity expands.

Officials previously described the difference between Martin and the administration as one only of emphasis. But it is becoming less so as the business recovery progresses.

Depending on economic events, the interest rate question could become a sharply divisive issue between the White House and the reserve board, with the Treasury standing somewhere between them.

Martin was said to feel it would be dangerous to push interest rates down because this would require pumping out by the federal reserve of a dangerously large dose of newly created credit.

The danger would not be immediate. It might develop later, as production and employment approach capacity. Then an excess of money and credit in circulation might fuel runaway demand and lead to inflation.

Martin disavows any desire to stifle business recovery. He depicts himself as a believer in "cheap money" as much as the White House, but not in "artificially cheap money." By this, he means he will not permit the federal reserve to drive down interest rates when the natural tendency of the free market is to lift them.

Like the reserve board, the president's advisers are concerned about the threat of inflation. But they are more disturbed than the reserve board over the possibility that the post-recession recovery will not carry the economy high enough.

The White House advisers—Walter Heller, James Tobin and Kermit Gordon believe lower long-term interest rates are a necessary ingredient in their package of federal policies aimed at restoring "full employment."

For three years after Cuba threw off Spanish rule in 1898, the island was ruled by the U.S. War Department.

Quiet Drive Home Ends In Fiery Death

OAKLAND (AP)—Traffic was heavy on the Nimitz Freeway as Roy Rodriguez, 52, and his wife, Alvisa, 50, drove toward their Oakland home.

It was the Memorial Day weekend and California was leading the nation in traffic deaths. Rodriguez was in no hurry.

He was driving in the slow curb lane Monday night as the freeway turned toward downtown Oakland. The trip was almost over.

Suddnely the car in front of Rodriguez' stopped with a crash as it rammed the car ahead of it.

Rodriguez slammed on his vehicle's brakes too late to avoid the tangle. A huge truck-trailer crunched into the Rodriguez car.

There was a flash of flame. Gasoline from a ruptured tank spilled into a river of fire beneath the autos.

The Rodriguezes were burned beyond recognition in the wreckage of their car.

Machine Developed To Massage Heart

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A machine capable of massaging the heart without surgery has been successfully tested on human patients, it was announced yesterday.

The machine, developed by Dr. George A. Harkins and M. L. Bramson at San Francisco's Presbyterian Medical Center, was first demonstrated at a scientific meeting in Boston last month.

Harkins is a surgeon and Bramson is an engineer.

Consisting of a pulsing device and a padded plunger mounted above a hard mattress, the machine is designed to be activated by gas pressure, its designers said in a report prepared for the Journal of Experimental Surgery.

The mechanical beat can be geared directly to even feeble electric current from the heart muscle itself, the report said.

The machine is based on a technique for closed-chest heart massage announced by researchers at Johns Hopkins University last year. Before the external method of massage was developed, surgeons could only restore the heartbeat by opening the chest cavity and squeezing the heart by hand.

Russ Honors Gagarin's Landing Spot

MOSCOW (AP)—A commemorative pillar has been put up where Maj. Yuri Gagarin landed from the world's first space flight April 12, the paper Red Star said today.

The site, it said, is across the Volga River from Saratov and 450 miles southeast of Moscow.

Red Star, published by the Soviet Defense Ministry, said members of a collective farm near the landing place decided to plant trees there and build an asphalt path to the pillar. It said a young pioneer camp would be organized nearby.

Soviet authorities disclosed Gagarin's takeoff and landing points in a message for the records of the International Aeronautical Federation in Paris.

They said Gagarin took off at a so-called cosmodrome at Baikonur, in western Siberia near Lake Aral.

Gagarin was boosted aloft, the message said, by a rocket with six engines developing a total of 20 million horsepower.

Trouble Predicted For JFK In Talks

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican City weekly L'Osservatore Della Domenica said today President John F. Kennedy will find himself in a difficult position in his talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khruchchev.

Tension of the talks "might presage troubled days for Europe and the world if Kennedy, as all believe and as freedom and liberty require, resists the blandishments and outbursts of his discordant partner in the talks," it said.

viet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev would take the opportunity to raise new threats or new problems over Berlin.

Russ Honors Gagarin's Landing Spot

MOSCOW (AP)—A commemorative pillar has been put up where Maj. Yuri Gagarin landed from the world's first space flight April 12, the paper Red Star said today.

The site, it said, is across the Volga River from Saratov and 450 miles southeast of Moscow.

Red Star, published by the Soviet Defense Ministry, said members of a collective farm near the landing place decided to plant trees there and build an asphalt path to the pillar. It said a young pioneer camp would be organized nearby.

Soviet authorities disclosed Gagarin's takeoff and landing points in a message for the records of the International Aeronautical Federation in Paris.

Gagarin was boosted aloft, the message said, by a rocket with six engines developing a total of 20 million horsepower.

The summer camp chuck wagon will be displayed in the camping booth giving information on the two summer camps owned by the Marin council. The Scout-O-Rama is under the chairmanship of Dr. Virgil Hollis, county superintendent of schools.

Trouble Predicted For JFK In Talks

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican City weekly L'Osservatore Della Domenica said today President John F. Kennedy will find himself in a difficult position in his talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khruchchev.

Tension of the talks "might presage troubled days for Europe and the world if Kennedy, as all believe and as freedom and liberty require, resists the blandishments and outbursts of his discordant partner in the talks," it said.

viet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev would take the opportunity to raise new threats or new problems over Berlin.

WELL GUARDED—Mounted guards formed a solid phalanx behind the open car carrying Presidents John F. Kennedy and Charles de Gaulle as they rode from the Orly Airport to the Quai d'Orsay where the Kennedys are staying in the Royal Suite.

'BRAVO'—Many Parisians got their first look at Jacqueline Kennedy today—and they loved her. She smiled and waved to the crowds as she returned to the Quai d'Orsay after a visit to a French child care center. (AP Wirephotos via radio from Paris) threat with whatever response is needed."

He then made his statement that both he and de Gaulle knew that neither country would "ignore the alliance" to take a dangerous course of its own.

"There is no reason for either nation to dwell on our differences or our disagreements," he added. "For we have so much that unites us, and so great and dangerous a challenge to face together."

Salinger said most of the discussion on Berlin took place during a 35-minute pre-luncheon discussion between de Gaulle and Kennedy. After lunch, during a meeting of more than two hours, they talked about "the problems of Southeast Asia," the situation in Laos, and "started on African problems," Salinger said.

He added that the talks between the two men, at which only interpreters were present, were held in an atmosphere of great "cordiality."

Salinger said Kennedy was "extremely delighted" at his reception in Paris this morning. And it was obvious the French were equally delighted with him and his wife.

From the moment the president and his wife, Jacqueline, stepped off their Air Force jet plane from New York, Paris took them to heart. The greeting far outstripped that accorded Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev when he visited France in March, 1960.

The reception boomed along the boulevards, clad in the brilliant sunshine of a brisk spring day. It followed to the Quai d'Orsay where the Kennedys are staying in the royal suite. It sounded in the echoes of a 101-gun salute, and it swelled to great volume outside the presidential, Elysee Palace where de Gaulle and Kennedy conferred in private.

Two Mill Valley Boys Beaten At Drive-In

Two Mill Valley youths were attacked and beaten by four other youths on Paradise Drive in Tiburon last night, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Officers said the attack was not connected in any way with the series of incidents that have flared among students at Tamalpais High since last week.

Mrs. Mary Rogers of 200½ Bell Lane, Mill Valley, told officers her son Thomas, 19, and a friend, 20, were driving along Paradise Drive about 6:30 p.m. when a car with two girls edged them off the road.

When they stopped to see what the trouble was, two youths in the back seat of the girls' car jumped out and attacked them. Another car pulled up with two more youths. The four beat up Thomas Rogers and his friend and drove off, they complained.

Retiring Teacher Will Be Honored

Vera Stump, Spanish teacher at Tamalpais High School who will retire in June after 38 years teaching, will be honored in a radio show on KGO at 6:30 p.m. Sunday along with Margaret Holstrom, Publisher of Marin This Month, a Sausalito monthly magazine.

Ed (Chip) Collins, president of the student body will be interviewed in place of Miss Stump who underwent surgery at Marin General Hospital yesterday.

Treatment Bill Approved On Narcotics

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Some criminals whose actions are believed due to narcotics addiction could be committed to a treatment facility rather than a prison under legislation approved by an Assembly committee last night.

The measure by Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland) would apply only to persons who are eligible for probation and consent to the commitment.

Those who successfully complete the program could have their original criminal charges dropped later. The first year operating cost was estimated at $2,065,000. Approval by the Ways and Means Committee sends the bill to the Assembly for action.

Gas Price War In Corte Madera

A spot check showed San Rafael service stations selling regular gasoline at 29.9 cents a gallon, and ethyl around 34.9 cents.

One station, Hall and Barnes Mobil at Third and A Streets, reported it was selling regular at 26.9. "We have a private deal going on," said the owner.

In Corte Madera prices went down Monday from 29.9 to 27.9 for regular, and from 33.9 and 34.9 to 32.9 and 30.9 for ethyl.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Fulbert Youlou of the Republic of The Congo will make an informal visit to the United States June 8-10, the White House announced today.

Youlou's nation formerly was affiliated with France. It is independent of The Congo Republic formerly affiliated with Belgium and the recent setting for a political crisis.

Youlou will arrive in Washington June 8 and will be the guest of honor at a White House luncheon hosted by President John F. Kennedy. He later will pay an official call on Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The White House said Youlou also would visit New York during his stay in this country.

Water Skiier Drops Dead

PASO ROBLES (AP)—A water skiier died unexpectedly while being towed by a speedboat on Nacimiento Lake Memorial Day.

John F. Davoll, 52, of Santa Maria had been skiing only about two minutes when he abruptly dropped the tow line and collapsed face down.

Apparently he died of a heart attack.

Plenty Of College Offices But Very Few Candidates

Nominations for next year's student body officers closed today. There was only one nominee for each position.

Unless an overnight write-in campaign develops, the election tomorrow and Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. should be a shoo-in for the following:

For president, Thomas Schulz of Ross, now student vice president; for vice president, Mark Mezzetta of Larkspur; for secretary, Judith Duerson of Corte Madera (incumbent); for publicity commissioner, Ellen Scott of San Anselmo; for yell leader, Pattylou Johnson of Kentfield; for song leader, Elizabeth Yore of Kentfield.

Nobody at all filed for treasurer or rally and assembly commissioner.

Two representatives from the freshman and sophomore classes will be elected to the student council in the fall. This council will then select someone to fill the vacant offices.

WELL GUARDED—Mounted guards formed a solid phalanx behind the open car carrying Presidents John F. Kennedy and Charles de Gaulle as they rode from the Orly Airport to the Quai d'Orsay where the Kennedys are staying in the Royal Suite.

'BRAVO'—Many Parisians got their first look at Jacqueline Kennedy today—and they loved her. She smiled and waved to the crowds as she returned to the Quai d'Orsay after a visit to a French child care center. (AP Wirephotos via radio from Paris) threat with whatever response is needed."

He then made his statement that both he and de Gaulle knew that neither country would "ignore the alliance" to take a dangerous course of its own.

"There is no reason for either nation to dwell on our differences or our disagreements," he added. "For we have so much that unites us, and so great and dangerous a challenge to face together."

Salinger said most of the discussion on Berlin took place during a 35-minute pre-luncheon discussion between de Gaulle and Kennedy. After lunch, during a meeting of more than two hours, they talked about "the problems of Southeast Asia," the situation in Laos, and "started on African problems," Salinger said.

He added that the talks between the two men, at which only interpreters were present, were held in an atmosphere of great "cordiality."

Salinger said Kennedy was "extremely delighted" at his reception in Paris this morning. And it was obvious the French were equally delighted with him and his wife.

From the moment the president and his wife, Jacqueline, stepped off their Air Force jet plane from New York, Paris took them to heart. The greeting far outstripped that accorded Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev when he visited France in March, 1960.

The reception boomed along the boulevards, clad in the brilliant sunshine of a brisk spring day. It followed to the Quai d'Orsay where the Kennedys are staying in the royal suite. It sounded in the echoes of a 101-gun salute, and it swelled to great volume outside the presidential, Elysee Palace where de Gaulle and Kennedy conferred in private.

Two Mill Valley Boys Beaten At Drive-In

Two Mill Valley youths were attacked and beaten by four other youths on Paradise Drive in Tiburon last night, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Officers said the attack was not connected in any way with the series of incidents that have flared among students at Tamalpais High since last week.

Mrs. Mary Rogers of 200½ Bell Lane, Mill Valley, told officers her son Thomas, 19, and a friend, 20, were driving along Paradise Drive about 6:30 p.m. when a car with two girls edged them off the road.

When they stopped to see what the trouble was, two youths in the back seat of the girls' car jumped out and attacked them. Another car pulled up with two more youths. The four beat up Thomas Rogers and his friend and drove off, they complained.

Retiring Teacher Will Be Honored

Vera Stump, Spanish teacher at Tamalpais High School who will retire in June after 38 years teaching, will be honored in a radio show on KGO at 6:30 p.m. Sunday along with Margaret Holstrom, Publisher of Marin This Month, a Sausalito monthly magazine.

Ed (Chip) Collins, president of the student body will be interviewed in place of Miss Stump who underwent surgery at Marin General Hospital yesterday.

Treatment Bill Approved On Narcotics

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Some criminals whose actions are believed due to narcotics addiction could be committed to a treatment facility rather than a prison under legislation approved by an Assembly committee last night.

The measure by Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland) would apply only to persons who are eligible for probation and consent to the commitment.

Those who successfully complete the program could have their original criminal charges dropped later. The first year operating cost was estimated at $2,065,000. Approval by the Ways and Means Committee sends the bill to the Assembly for action.

Gas Price War In Corte Madera

A spot check showed San Rafael service stations selling regular gasoline at 29.9 cents a gallon, and ethyl around 34.9 cents.

One station, Hall and Barnes Mobil at Third and A Streets, reported it was selling regular at 26.9. "We have a private deal going on," said the owner.

In Corte Madera prices went down Monday from 29.9 to 27.9 for regular, and from 33.9 and 34.9 to 32.9 and 30.9 for ethyl.

Water Skiier Drops Dead

PASO ROBLES (AP)—A water skiier died unexpectedly while being towed by a speedboat on Nacimiento Lake Memorial Day.

John F. Davoll, 52, of Santa Maria had been skiing only about two minutes when he abruptly dropped the tow line and collapsed face down.

Apparently he died of a heart attack.

Plenty Of College Offices But Very Few Candidates

Nominations for next year's student body officers closed today. There was only one nominee for each position.

Unless an overnight write-in campaign develops, the election tomorrow and Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. should be a shoo-in for the following:

For president, Thomas Schulz of Ross, now student vice president; for vice president, Mark Mezzetta of Larkspur; for secretary, Judith Duerson of Corte Madera (incumbent); for publicity commissioner, Ellen Scott of San Anselmo; for yell leader, Pattylou Johnson of Kentfield; for song leader, Elizabeth Yore of Kentfield.

Nobody at all filed for treasurer or rally and assembly commissioner.

Two representatives from the freshman and sophomore classes will be elected to the student council in the fall. This council will then select someone to fill the vacant offices.

San Rafael Girl Wins Top Dominican Graduation Honor

The Veritas Medal, highest honor accorded a graduating senior at Dominican Convent Upper School in San Rafael, went to Carol Lyons of San Rafael in prize day ceremonies which preceded the school's graduation last weekend.

Miss Lyons also received honors at entrance from University of California at Davis.

Twin sisters Carol and Stephanie Burns of Sausalito were among the award winners, Carol receiving the English prize and honors at entrance from University of California at Berkeley; Stephanie taking the drama prize, and both receiving Bank of America achievement awards in fine arts.

Mary Larson, a junior, won Latin and music awards.

Surprise Showers Hit Southern California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Light showers, surprising the weatherman, moistened parts of parched Southern California today. But there wasn't enough rain to alleviate the near record drought.

Some crops such as strawberries, in fact, were harmed.

HOW YOU GOIN' TO GET CAR UP THERE?

E. M. Rowland of Mill Valley, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. troubleman, removes Sausalito parking meter from utility pole where amazed police discovered it this morning. Officers had no idea how the meter, uprooted from its position on Bridgeway Boulevard, got atop the power pole at Bridgeway and Bee Street. (Shepard and Associates photo)

$50 Million Welfare Bills Go To Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A 50-age, carrying bigger benefits million-dollar welfare pack-and a letdown in restrictions for California's needy, sped through the Assembly today.

Only a bill which virtually ends the controversial relatives responsibility law stirred up an argument. But it finally cleared, 48-20.

Relatives with net income of $201 a month are now required to help support pensioners. The bill, by Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) and backed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, boosts the amount to $401.

Other bills in the series, passed and sent to the Senate without dissent, would:

Raise the special needs allowance for needy aged from $115 to $165.

Increase the monthly average grant to needy disabled from $98 to $100; liberalize the definition of needy disabled persons.

Provide supplemental aid to needy disabled persons.

Provide supplemental aid to needy and partially self-supporting blind, based upon needy, with total allowance plus income not to exceed $165.

Remove the limit on real property used as a home by recipients of aid to aged, blind and disabled.

The entire package was estimated to involve $50 million in state, federal and county funds for 1961-62, with state cost alone pegged at $27 million.

Unruh told the Assembly that his bill would "effectively eliminate most of the burden on relatives of persons" drawing old age benefits.

Objecting, Minority Leader Joseph C. Shell (R-Los Angeles) warned that "this is one of those items that will continue to plague us."

"It puts California further in the position of being a welfare state, instead of being a business opportunity state," he said.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Selective buying kept the stock market narrowly on the plus side today but heavy profit taking among some electronics, vending and savings and loan issues gave the list a ragged look.

Accumulated orders over four days of inactivity boosted volume sharply above last Friday.

dents and parents packed the Mill Valley City Hall at an impromptu meeting to seek means of ending the disturbances.

This morning another meeting was held at the high school with Principal Campion and John George, dean of boys. Representatives from both battling factions, law enforcement officers and school officials met.

Police Chief Dan Terzich of Mill Valley said the student representatives decided that the arguments had been caused by "misunderstandings" with each group thinking that the other was "out to get them."

They agreed to cooperate to maintain peace and quiet, said Terzich. "Everything has been ironed out."

Until the meeting this morning, sheriff's deputies had been alerted for further trouble at the Canteen near the high school. Twenty deputies sped to the Tam High area between 7 and 9 a.m. today on a tip that gang violence had been set for this morning.

Sheriff's deputies were joined by highway patrolmen and Mill Valley police to nip any violence in the bud. However, no trouble started. Only two youths were picked up, both for loitering in the school area: John Lee Morgan, 19, of House 130, Marin City, and a 15-year-old Marin City boy.

On Monday night, Mill Valley police heard rumors that a group of juveniles might crash a dance at the American Legion Hall. Police, highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies set up a road block in conjunction with Memorial Day traffic check and stopped 671 cars on East Blithedale near Nelson Avenue. No trouble ensued.

On Sunday night, four youths were arrested at a fight near C's Drive In. Hans Randrup, 20, of 2003 Bridgeway, Sausalito; Leif Eric Wooley, 18, of 510 Pine Street, Sausalito and Frederick Collins, 18, of Marin City, were booked on suspicion of disturbing the peace. A 15-year-old Marin City boy was picked up and turned over to his parents.

Law enforcement officers were to meet with the sheriff this afternoon to coordinate their activities in case of further disturbances, although none was expected after this morning's "peace meeting."

Last Wednesday, a water bomb fight by Sir Francis Drake High School students who had left campus for "Senior Day" broke a windshield of one car, catapulting a splinter of glass which narrowly missed four girls inside. Highway patrolmen arrested two students in that disturbance.

Principal Harold Allison of Drake High said today it was questionable whether further "Senior Day" outings will be permitted at the school.

Commission Planning Laos Truce Teams

GENEVA (AP) — The control commission of India, Canada and Poland notified the East-West conference in Laos today that it is taking a new initiative to halt the fighting in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

The commission dispatched a report of plans to send truce teams to trouble spots, including Padong, where Meo tribesmen loyal to the pro-Western Vientiane government are under attack from the artillery of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

The commission said it would also send truce teams to the areas of Tchepone and Phalane-Moung Phing-Sepane.

The commission's report arrived as the conference seemed about to resume after a week's recess to hear the United States demand an end to Communist violations of the cease-fire.

The Soviet Union was expected to counter with a declaration putting emphasis on getting a political settlement in the strategic jungle nation.

Britain and the Soviet Union, as co-chairmen of the conference, reached a tentative agreement Tuesday to resume the sessions in a move that could clarify East-West positions before President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev meet in Vienna this weekend.

An estimated 17 million Americans depend on tobacco products for all or some part of their livelihood.

Family Wound

$50 Million Welfare Bills Go To Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A 50-age, carrying bigger benefits million-dollar welfare pack-and a letdown in restrictions for California's needy, sped through the Assembly today.

Only a bill which virtually ends the controversial relatives responsibility law stirred up an argument. But it finally cleared, 48-20.

Relatives with net income of $201 a month are now required to help support pensioners. The bill, by Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) and backed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, boosts the amount to $401.

Other bills in the series, passed and sent to the Senate without dissent, would:

Raise the special needs allowance for needy aged from $115 to $165.

Increase the monthly average grant to needy disabled from $98 to $100; liberalize the definition of needy disabled persons.

Provide supplemental aid to needy disabled persons.

Provide supplemental aid to needy and partially self-supporting blind, based upon needy, with total allowance plus income not to exceed $165.

Remove the limit on real property used as a home by recipients of aid to aged, blind and disabled.

The entire package was estimated to involve $50 million in state, federal and county funds for 1961-62, with state cost alone pegged at $27 million.

Unruh told the Assembly that his bill would "effectively eliminate most of the burden on relatives of persons" drawing old age benefits.

Objecting, Minority Leader Joseph C. Shell (R-Los Angeles) warned that "this is one of those items that will continue to plague us."

"It puts California further in the position of being a welfare state, instead of being a business opportunity state," he said.

PAUL HOGANCAMP

A heart attack caused the death of Paul W. Hogancamp, 51, county fire lookout, at the Mount Barnaby lookout station, Coroner Frank J. Keaton said today.

An autopsy was performed this morning. Hogancamp was found dead at the lookout station above Samuel P. Taylor State Park yesterday. It was first believed he might have died in an accidental fall down a flight of stairs.

Hogancamp leaves his wife, Pearl, at the family home at 625 Mission Avenue, San Rafael; children and stepchildren, Bob and Gary Smith, Mrs. Hazel Lakeside and Wilma Hogancamp; his mother, Mrs. Pearl Hogancamp of Stockton, and five brothers and three sisters, Glenn, Oroville, Wayne, Harry and Kenneth Hogancamp, Mrs. Juanita Eastman, Mrs. Hazel Heikens, and Mrs. Bernadine Foell, all of Iowa.

A native of Iowa, Hogancamp lived in Marin County since moving to California 16 years ago. He joined the Marin County Fire Department in 1945 after working as a truck driver for a short time.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday at Keaton's, San Rafael. Interment will be in Storm Lake, Iowa.

dents and parents packed the Mill Valley City Hall at an impromptu meeting to seek means of ending the disturbances.

This morning another meeting was held at the high school with Principal Campion and John George, dean of boys. Representatives from both battling factions, law enforcement officers and school officials met.

Police Chief Dan Terzich of Mill Valley said the student representatives decided that the arguments had been caused by "misunderstandings" with each group thinking that the other was "out to get them."

They agreed to cooperate to maintain peace and quiet, said Terzich. "Everything has been ironed out."

Until the meeting this morning, sheriff's deputies had been alerted for further trouble at the Canteen near the high school. Twenty deputies sped to the Tam High area between 7 and 9 a.m. today on a tip that gang violence had been set for this morning.

Sheriff's deputies were joined by highway patrolmen and Mill Valley police to nip any violence in the bud. However, no trouble started. Only two youths were picked up, both for loitering in the school area: John Lee Morgan, 19, of House 130, Marin City, and a 15-year-old Marin City boy.

On Monday night, Mill Valley police heard rumors that a group of juveniles might crash a dance at the American Legion Hall. Police, highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies set up a road block in conjunction with Memorial Day traffic check and stopped 671 cars on East Blithedale near Nelson Avenue. No trouble ensued.

On Sunday night, four youths were arrested at a fight near C's Drive In. Hans Randrup, 20, of 2003 Bridgeway, Sausalito; Leif Eric Wooley, 18, of 510 Pine Street, Sausalito and Frederick Collins, 18, of Marin City, were booked on suspicion of disturbing the peace. A 15-year-old Marin City boy was picked up and turned over to his parents.

Law enforcement officers were to meet with the sheriff this afternoon to coordinate their activities in case of further disturbances, although none was expected after this morning's "peace meeting."

Last Wednesday, a water bomb fight by Sir Francis Drake High School students who had left campus for "Senior Day" broke a windshield of one car, catapulting a splinter of glass which narrowly missed four girls inside. Highway patrolmen arrested two students in that disturbance.

Principal Harold Allison of Drake High said today it was questionable whether further "Senior Day" outings will be permitted at the school.

Commission Planning Laos Truce Teams

GENEVA (AP) — The control commission of India, Canada and Poland notified the East-West conference in Laos today that it is taking a new initiative to halt the fighting in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

The commission dispatched a report of plans to send truce teams to trouble spots, including Padong, where Meo tribesmen loyal to the pro-Western Vientiane government are under attack from the artillery of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

The commission said it would also send truce teams to the areas of Tchepone and Phalane-Moung Phing-Sepane.

The commission's report arrived as the conference seemed about to resume after a week's recess to hear the United States demand an end to Communist violations of the cease-fire.

The Soviet Union was expected to counter with a declaration putting emphasis on getting a political settlement in the strategic jungle nation.

Britain and the Soviet Union, as co-chairmen of the conference, reached a tentative agreement Tuesday to resume the sessions in a move that could clarify East-West positions before President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev meet in Vienna this weekend.

An estimated 17 million Americans depend on tobacco products for all or some part of their livelihood.

Family Wound

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)— Patrolman Albert Edwards felt a sharp pain in his leg when he stepped out of the police car. His wife had left a needle in his trousers after sewing up a small rip. The needle broke as he tried to remove it, and he was admitted to Memorial Hospital.

Interest Growing In Curriculum Changes

Growing interest in a campaign by a group of San Rafael parents to eliminate "life adjustment" courses from the curriculum of San Rafael schools was reported today.

A meeting of parents to examine texts used for the courses in seventh and eight grades was scheduled this evening at the home of David Deutsch of 39 Kinross Drive in Loch Lomond.

Still another is set for 10 a.m. next Tuesday at the home of Loren Schmidt at 127 Mountain View Avenue.

Several similar meetings have been held already in the West End.

The "life adjustment" courses are given in accordance with directive of state law that California public schools shall teach manners and morals. The protestants claim, however, that the texts used may break down rather than improve morals; that the courses are a waste of school time, and that they undermine parental authority.

The parents also asked elimination of the "freshman orientation" and "exploratory language" courses in the ninth grade.

Mob Attacks Young Couple In S.F. Park

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A young couple was mobbed and beaten while bicycling in Golden Gate Park yesterday and seven persons were arrested on charges of felonious assault, police said.

John Ruben, 21, an airline employee, said the attack began when a youth hit his wife, Leanne, 22, on the head with a rock.

Ruben told police he grabbed the boy and was jumped by his companions and a group of men who were leaving a nearby baseball field. He said he was slugged, knocked down and hit with a baseball bat. Mrs. Ruben was also hit, he said.

The Rubens said they broke away and fled to a nearby car and that their assailants got into three separate cars and drove off.

Police said they traced one car and arrested Wendel F. Taylor, 20, Horace Pierson, 42, Lemar Pierson, 27, and four boys whose names were withheld.

MARINITE'S KIN BUILT WINNING CAR

Proudest man in Marin over Texan A. J. Foyt's victory in the Indianapolis Memorial Day 500-mile car race yesterday was John J. Bignotti of 172 Vista Grande, Greenbrae.

His brother built the car.

Another brother was a member of the pit crew.

Bignotti said his brother George, of Burlingame, built the car that Foyt piloted to victory in the race and is co-owner of it with Robert Bowes of Bowes Seal-Fast Corp. of Indiana.

Brother Al, who also lives in Burlingame, was a member of the pit crew.

The three Bignotti brothers grew up in San Francisco. All have driven race cars at one time, John Bignotti said.

Extended Novato Phone Area Sought

Western California Telephone Co. in Novato today filed a request with the State Public Utilities Commission which, if approved, would eliminate toll calls within the city.

The request for "extended area service" ties in with a similar one by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and means that if both are approved, subscribers will be able to call throughout Novato without toll charge and without calling an operator.

Rate hikes requested by Western for the additional service are from a basic $4.85 to $5 monthly for one-party residential subscribers; $4.30 to $4.45 for two-party; $3.55 to $3.70 for four-party residential users. For business lines, the basic monthly rates would rise from $9.75 to $10.25 for one-party lines, and $7.75 to $8.25 for two-party.

Western serves the northern portion of the city; Pacific Telephone Co. serves the southern portion, including Hamilton Air Force Base. City councilmen already have authorized a letter to be sent to the PUC requesting that action be expedited on the PT&T request and that the Novato area be considered separately from the remainder of the county which was included in the PT&T request.

Western California can provide the no-toll, no-dial service by December, 1961, or January, 1962, its application said. PT&T said in its application that it could supply the service six to eight months after PUC approval.

Marin Camp Fire Girls Chosen For Pilot Study

The Marin County Council of Camp Fire Girls has been chosen to do a pilot study about population changes and local camp fire services.

The study will also be carried out later in Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

A committee of Bay Area residents will review information gathered in the study and make recommendations to Camp Fire councils and interested organizations. Study committee chairmen from Marin are Mrs. Edward Zeller and Mrs. Joel Nemschoff of Kentfield.

It takes 10 million tons of peanuts a year to satisfy the world's craving for them.

North Viet Nam Threatens U.S. With 'Tractor Plan'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam today warned it would apply Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's "tractors-for-prisoners" proposal to any American or U. S.-trained guerrillas captured by the Reds in Viet Nam.

The Communist regime was commenting on suggestions that the United States send "guerrillas" to aid President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam to cope with the Reds.

Radio Hanoi "advised" Sen. Thomas Dodd (R-Conn.) to step up "U. S. bulldozer production before sending spies and mercenaries into Viet Nam for sabotage and subversion."

Dodd recently returned to Washington from a tour of southeast Asia and has supported suggestions that guerrilla experts be dispatched to South Viet Nam to train Viet Namese in hit-and-run tactics.

"But there is one thing Dodd perhaps forgot . . ." radio Hanoi said "He forgot to draw lessons from the recent U. S. aggression in Cuba . . .

"He should remember Fidel Castro's proposal to exchange 1,000 friends of Kennedy captured in Cuba for 500 bulldozers.

"Two-to-one, that is the rate. Let Dodd make a simple calculation before sending U. S. mercenaries to Viet Nam."

Condition 'Fair'

Waitress Tells Of Assault At Belvedere

Charles R. Woodrum, 44, of Sausalito was booked in the county jail last night on a charge of rape of a Sausalito waitress on board a boat in Belvedere Cove.

Woodrum was picked up in another boat by Police Chief William S. Woodington, who said he admitted the offense after first saying he thought the girl had drowned.

Police Sgt. Robert Scheiner said Woodrum, who lives at 25 Cazneau Avenue and is in engineering sales with a San Francisco manufacturing company, had been out all day cruising on the bay with friends.

After some conversation, Scheiner said, she decided to go for a ride with Woodrum.

The waitress told the officer she was attacked by Woodrum while the boat was at anchor on the west side of Belvedere Cove. When Woodrum was dozing, she took the keys to the boat, jumped overboard and swam 75 yards to shore.

She sought help from Rick Johnson and Dave Phelps at 222 Beach Road, who telephoned police about 5:40 p.m.

Kindergarten Class Studies Astronauts

By THERON A. NEWELL

The class has a space project going that would do credit to students in a much higher grade.

Mrs. Clark said that when the children saw television programs of the launching of America's first astronaut, they came to school all excited. When this excitement failed to die down in several days, she asked them how they would like to build their own rocket. They told her how big they wanted it and what color it was to be.

A wire frame was built by Mrs. Clark and the school's janitor. It is nine feet high and three feet across.

One wall is decorated with 20 drawings of rockets in flight and one flying saucer. These are going through space with the Earth, moon and stars for a background.

In drawing the rockets in flight, the children all labeled the three stages of the rockets backwards. When they found out the correct sequence of the rocket stages they were quick to admit that they were wrong, but they would not change their numbering.

Naming their big rocket became a game with the children. Because it was yellow, some of the names suggested were Golden Rocket, Golden Hind and Golden Rod.

With all this space activity, the children have been asking questions which show their understanding of the subject. Some of these are: "Why is it dark in space?" and "Why isn't there any air in space?"

Mrs. Clark has read the children several books on space and one on an imaginary trip to the moon. These have helped stimulate their interest in the space project, she said.

Woman Hurt; Dragged After Brakes Fail

A 63-year-old San Francisco woman was dragged 43 feet when the emergency brake on an automobile slipped and her leg was caught in the door yesterday afternoon in San Anselmo.

Mrs. Elyse H. Forni fractured several ribs and suffered abrasions and contusions. Marin General Hospital spokesmen described her condition as satisfactory this morning.

Mrs. Forni parked an automobile in a driveway at 138 Floribel Avenue, San Anselmo, shortly after 3 p.m. The emergency brake released as Mrs. Forni started to get out of the automobile.

Her leg was caught in the door when she attempted to put her foot on the brake pedal. The automobile rolled backward 43 feet until it struck the embankment, police said.

OAS Approves U.S. Agenda

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States scored a diplomatic victory today when the council of the Organization of American States (OAS) voted unanimously to adopt a U.S.-proposed agenda for its inter-American conference opening July 15.

Council Chairman Fernando Lobo said the vote was "a very good omen" for the success of the Uruguay conference, called by President John F. Kennedy to set in motion his plan for social and economic reforms in Latin America.

Cuban delegate Quintin Pino, who had abstained in previous votes on the draft agenda, surprisingly joined in the affirmative ballot.

The Cuban shift appeared to be in line with conciliation gestures launched in Latin America by Cuba Foreign Minister Raul Roa and his deputy, Carlos Olivares, who are currently visiting Mexico and Brazil respectively.

San Rafael Youth Due Bethany Degree

Paul Zinter of 148 Eliseo Drive, San Rafael, will receive the A.B. degree at the 120th annual commencement at 4 p.m. Sunday at Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va.

Zinter majored in economics. He was a member of the Economics Club and the track and tennis teams.

'The Freedom To Advertise Is Not Freedom To Bore'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The right to advertise doesn't include "the right to bore—to bore the blazes out of 170 million Americans."

That's the advice given today to the Advertising Federation of America by its new board chairman, John P. Cunningham of New York.

Cunningham is chairman of Cunningham and Walsh, Inc.

"We must recognize that when we load the television screen with arrows running around people's stomachs and hammers banging away inside their brainpans—we are boring the public," he said.

"We must recognize that when we plaster five different commercial messages right after one another at station break time—we are boring the public.

"We must recognize that there is something very boring about radio programming that alternates two minutes of music with one minute of commercial.

"It is not all broadcasting by any means. In the public print there are certain schools of advertising, that are boring me a bit by their imitativeness. The vodka ads seem to run in schools and all the cigarettes that filter out the bad but so sensitively let the flavor through."

Floriculturists say crabgrass is not likely to be a problem in bluegrass if the grass is cut two inches high or higher and given moderate fertilization.

3,500 Miles —No License

WOONSOCKET, R.I. (AP) — James V. Donathan, 26, of San Francisco, drove his car 3,500 miles to Rhode Island via Mexico City without a license or registration plates.

Donathan was arrested yesterday by a state trooper.

In district court today, Donathan pleaded guilty of operating without a license or registration card.

He was fined $20 and court costs of $8.50 on each charge.

Donathan said he made the trip without once being stopped — although his car had no plates.

He did not say why he undertook the trip without license or registration.

Interest Growing In Curriculum Changes

Growing interest in a campaign by a group of San Rafael parents to eliminate "life adjustment" courses from the curriculum of San Rafael schools was reported today.

A meeting of parents to examine texts used for the courses in seventh and eight grades was scheduled this evening at the home of David Deutsch of 39 Kinross Drive in Loch Lomond.

Still another is set for 10 a.m. next Tuesday at the home of Loren Schmidt at 127 Mountain View Avenue.

Several similar meetings have been held already in the West End.

The "life adjustment" courses are given in accordance with directive of state law that California public schools shall teach manners and morals. The protestants claim, however, that the texts used may break down rather than improve morals; that the courses are a waste of school time, and that they undermine parental authority.

The parents also asked elimination of the "freshman orientation" and "exploratory language" courses in the ninth grade.

Mob Attacks Young Couple In S.F. Park

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A young couple was mobbed and beaten while bicycling in Golden Gate Park yesterday and seven persons were arrested on charges of felonious assault, police said.

John Ruben, 21, an airline employee, said the attack began when a youth hit his wife, Leanne, 22, on the head with a rock.

Ruben told police he grabbed the boy and was jumped by his companions and a group of men who were leaving a nearby baseball field. He said he was slugged, knocked down and hit with a baseball bat. Mrs. Ruben was also hit, he said.

The Rubens said they broke away and fled to a nearby car and that their assailants got into three separate cars and drove off.

Police said they traced one car and arrested Wendel F. Taylor, 20, Horace Pierson, 42, Lemar Pierson, 27, and four boys whose names were withheld.

Woman Hurt; Dragged After Brakes Fail

A 63-year-old San Francisco woman was dragged 43 feet when the emergency brake on an automobile slipped and her leg was caught in the door yesterday afternoon in San Anselmo.

Mrs. Elyse H. Forni fractured several ribs and suffered abrasions and contusions. Marin General Hospital spokesmen described her condition as satisfactory this morning.

Mrs. Forni parked an automobile in a driveway at 138 Floribel Avenue, San Anselmo, shortly after 3 p.m. The emergency brake released as Mrs. Forni started to get out of the automobile.

Her leg was caught in the door when she attempted to put her foot on the brake pedal. The automobile rolled backward 43 feet until it struck the embankment, police said.

MARINITE'S KIN BUILT WINNING CAR

Proudest man in Marin over Texan A. J. Foyt's victory in the Indianapolis Memorial Day 500-mile car race yesterday was John J. Bignotti of 172 Vista Grande, Greenbrae.

His brother built the car.

Another brother was a member of the pit crew.

Bignotti said his brother George, of Burlingame, built the car that Foyt piloted to victory in the race and is co-owner of it with Robert Bowes of Bowes Seal-Fast Corp. of Indiana.

Brother Al, who also lives in Burlingame, was a member of the pit crew.

The three Bignotti brothers grew up in San Francisco. All have driven race cars at one time, John Bignotti said.

Extended Novato Phone Area Sought

Western California Telephone Co. in Novato today filed a request with the State Public Utilities Commission which, if approved, would eliminate toll calls within the city.

The request for "extended area service" ties in with a similar one by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and means that if both are approved, subscribers will be able to call throughout Novato without toll charge and without calling an operator.

Rate hikes requested by Western for the additional service are from a basic $4.85 to $5 monthly for one-party residential subscribers; $4.30 to $4.45 for two-party; $3.55 to $3.70 for four-party residential users. For business lines, the basic monthly rates would rise from $9.75 to $10.25 for one-party lines, and $7.75 to $8.25 for two-party.

Western serves the northern portion of the city; Pacific Telephone Co. serves the southern portion, including Hamilton Air Force Base. City councilmen already have authorized a letter to be sent to the PUC requesting that action be expedited on the PT&T request and that the Novato area be considered separately from the remainder of the county which was included in the PT&T request.

Western California can provide the no-toll, no-dial service by December, 1961, or January, 1962, its application said. PT&T said in its application that it could supply the service six to eight months after PUC approval.

Marin Camp Fire Girls Chosen For Pilot Study

The Marin County Council of Camp Fire Girls has been chosen to do a pilot study about population changes and local camp fire services.

The study will also be carried out later in Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

A committee of Bay Area residents will review information gathered in the study and make recommendations to Camp Fire councils and interested organizations. Study committee chairmen from Marin are Mrs. Edward Zeller and Mrs. Joel Nemschoff of Kentfield.

It takes 10 million tons of peanuts a year to satisfy the world's craving for them.

North Viet Nam Threatens U.S. With 'Tractor Plan'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam today warned it would apply Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's "tractors-for-prisoners" proposal to any American or U. S.-trained guerrillas captured by the Reds in Viet Nam.

The Communist regime was commenting on suggestions that the United States send "guerrillas" to aid President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam to cope with the Reds.

Radio Hanoi "advised" Sen. Thomas Dodd (R-Conn.) to step up "U. S. bulldozer production before sending spies and mercenaries into Viet Nam for sabotage and subversion."

Dodd recently returned to Washington from a tour of southeast Asia and has supported suggestions that guerrilla experts be dispatched to South Viet Nam to train Viet Namese in hit-and-run tactics.

"But there is one thing Dodd perhaps forgot . . ." radio Hanoi said "He forgot to draw lessons from the recent U. S. aggression in Cuba . . .

"He should remember Fidel Castro's proposal to exchange 1,000 friends of Kennedy captured in Cuba for 500 bulldozers.

"Two-to-one, that is the rate. Let Dodd make a simple calculation before sending U. S. mercenaries to Viet Nam."

Condition 'Fair'

Waitress Tells Of Assault At Belvedere

Charles R. Woodrum, 44, of Sausalito was booked in the county jail last night on a charge of rape of a Sausalito waitress on board a boat in Belvedere Cove.

Woodrum was picked up in another boat by Police Chief William S. Woodington, who said he admitted the offense after first saying he thought the girl had drowned.

Police Sgt. Robert Scheiner said Woodrum, who lives at 25 Cazneau Avenue and is in engineering sales with a San Francisco manufacturing company, had been out all day cruising on the bay with friends.

After some conversation, Scheiner said, she decided to go for a ride with Woodrum.

The waitress told the officer she was attacked by Woodrum while the boat was at anchor on the west side of Belvedere Cove. When Woodrum was dozing, she took the keys to the boat, jumped overboard and swam 75 yards to shore.

She sought help from Rick Johnson and Dave Phelps at 222 Beach Road, who telephoned police about 5:40 p.m.

Kindergarten Class Studies Astronauts

By THERON A. NEWELL

The class has a space project going that would do credit to students in a much higher grade.

Mrs. Clark said that when the children saw television programs of the launching of America's first astronaut, they came to school all excited. When this excitement failed to die down in several days, she asked them how they would like to build their own rocket. They told her how big they wanted it and what color it was to be.

A wire frame was built by Mrs. Clark and the school's janitor. It is nine feet high and three feet across.

One wall is decorated with 20 drawings of rockets in flight and one flying saucer. These are going through space with the Earth, moon and stars for a background.

In drawing the rockets in flight, the children all labeled the three stages of the rockets backwards. When they found out the correct sequence of the rocket stages they were quick to admit that they were wrong, but they would not change their numbering.

Naming their big rocket became a game with the children. Because it was yellow, some of the names suggested were Golden Rocket, Golden Hind and Golden Rod.

With all this space activity, the children have been asking questions which show their understanding of the subject. Some of these are: "Why is it dark in space?" and "Why isn't there any air in space?"

Mrs. Clark has read the children several books on space and one on an imaginary trip to the moon. These have helped stimulate their interest in the space project, she said.

OAS Approves U.S. Agenda

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States scored a diplomatic victory today when the council of the Organization of American States (OAS) voted unanimously to adopt a U.S.-proposed agenda for its inter-American conference opening July 15.

Council Chairman Fernando Lobo said the vote was "a very good omen" for the success of the Uruguay conference, called by President John F. Kennedy to set in motion his plan for social and economic reforms in Latin America.

Cuban delegate Quintin Pino, who had abstained in previous votes on the draft agenda, surprisingly joined in the affirmative ballot.

3,500 Miles —No License

WOONSOCKET, R.I. (AP) — James V. Donathan, 26, of San Francisco, drove his car 3,500 miles to Rhode Island via Mexico City without a license or registration plates.

Donathan was arrested yesterday by a state trooper.

In district court today, Donathan pleaded guilty of operating without a license or registration card.

He was fined $20 and court costs of $8.50 on each charge.

Donathan said he made the trip without once being stopped — although his car had no plates.

He did not say why he undertook the trip without license or registration.

Breaks Arm In Fall

Keith Stothers, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stothers, 2225 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, fractured his left arm when he fell off a bicycle at Fifth and California Avenues shortly after 6 p.m. yesterday.

'The Freedom To Advertise Is Not Freedom To Bore'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The right to advertise doesn't include "the right to bore—to bore the blazes out of 170 million Americans."

Cunningham is chairman of Cunningham and Walsh, Inc.

"We must recognize that when we load the television screen with arrows running around people's stomachs and hammers banging away inside their brainpans—we are boring the public," he said.

"We must recognize that when we plaster five different commercial messages right after one another at station break time—we are boring the public.

"We must recognize that there is something very boring about radio programming that alternates two minutes of music with one minute of commercial.

"It is not all broadcasting by any means. In the public print there are certain schools of advertising, that are boring me a bit by their imitativeness. The vodka ads seem to run in schools and all the cigarettes that filter out the bad but so sensitively let the flavor through."

Floriculturists say crabgrass is not likely to be a problem in bluegrass if the grass is cut two inches high or higher and given moderate fertilization.

San Rafael Youth Due Bethany Degree

Paul Zinter of 148 Eliseo Drive, San Rafael, will receive the A.B. degree at the 120th annual commencement at 4 p.m. Sunday at Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va.

Zinter majored in economics. He was a member of the Economics Club and the track and tennis teams.

Winning Racer Foyt Will Know Tonight How Much He Won

Indianapolis Speedway Clocks Fouled; Foyt Did Make Record

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Texan A. J. Foyt, who sits mighty tall in a race car seat, won't know until tonight's victory dinner how much he won yesterday by capturing the golden anniversary 500-mile auto race in a record 139.131 miles an hour.

What he does know is that the $100,000 or so almost slipped through his fingers in a ferociously contested race that knocked out 21 of the 33 starting cars. And it wasn't until last night that he learned he had set a record instead of an almost. This because of a breakdown in the timing.

It was a three-car race in the last stages among Foyt, 26, Houston, Tex.; Eddie Sachs, Center Valley, Pa., and 1959 winner Rodger Ward. It finally was decided in the pits.

Foyt made his third and supposedly last pit stop for tires and fuel, but the connection on the pressure fueling system wouldn't work. His crew borrowed a refueling rig from Len Sutton's pit and called Foyt back in for an extra stop.

Meanwhile, Sachs was flying and looked like a sure winner after failing to finish in four previous starts. Then his right rear tire wore ragged and he had to stop for a new one with only three laps—7½ miles—to go.

Foyt passed Sachs as the Pennsylvanian was gunning his car out of the pits. The handsome Texan beat Eddie to the finish line by 8½ seconds. With four pit stops apiece, Sachs spent 8 2-5the seconds longer off the track.

Foyt drove the Indianapolis Bowes Special, Sachs the Long Beach, Calif., Dean Special.

Ward, having handling trouble with a new type Watson car, was less than a lap behind in third place. He could sympathize with Sachs because a worn tire forced Ward to surrender the lead to winner Jim Rathmann late in last year's race.

Mechanical trouble sent Rathmann to the sidelines yesterday after he had led part of the race. Other leaders at various times included 1952 winner Troy Ruttman, who became physically exhausted; rookie Parnelli Jones and second-time starter Jim Hurtubise.

Hurtubise and Jones both suffered facial cuts from small flying objects, and Jones' cut forced him into a four-minute plus pit stop.

Jack Brabham of Australia, the world road racing champion, drove a shrewd, smooth race to ninth place but he never was in contention. His little English Cooper simply didn't have enough oomph on the straightaways.

The race was run without death or serious injury to a driver, in spite of a series of spectacular wrecks on the west main straightaway. A speedway guard, John Masariu, became the old racing plant's 54th fatality, however, when a fire truck backed over him after extinguishing a fire in Eddie Johnson's wrecked car.

Foyt spent several hours after the race thinking he'd only turned in the second best time in the history of the race. The first posted time had Foyt finishing at 138.466, just a whisker behind Jim Rathmann's record 138.767 last year. During the evening, Speedway officials disclosed timing equipment had gone bad on the 175th lap and had to be replaced by stop watches for two or three minutes. The corrected time—139.131—made Foyt the fastest ever to finish the race.

Lions In Front Of Tiburon Little League

At the end of the first third of the season and with most of opening day's rained-out games made up, standings in Tiburon Little League through yesterday was: Lions (5-2), Octopi (4-2), Seals (2-4), Falcons (2-5).

In the Tiburon Little League minor group of nine teams the Cubs hold an unbeaten record in their first four games for first place, followed closely at .800 by the Braves who have also won four, but out of five starts. Third place goes to the Roosters with three wins out of four games, while the Giants have won two out of three for a .666.

The Riders are at .500 for two games out of four while there is a three-way tie for sixth place with the Colts, Cards, Jets all at one win out of four games. Slow starting is the newest team in the league, the Dons, bringing up last place with no wins in four tries.

TOM BLANCHARD GRABS MIDGET AUTO VICTORY

Blanchard, driving his own Ford V-Eight 60, captured first spot in the 15 lap dash and also won his heat race.

Other Marin County midget drivers and owners were headed for place spots but ran into mechanical trouble. Johnnie Dillman of San Rafael, driving his Ferguson of Sabella's, was forced out while in third position in the semi-main when his water pump failed to operate.

Clay Walsh of San Rafael was pushing his midget in the lead pack in the grinding 150 lap main event, but tire trouble put him in the pits for good yesterday.

The lakes scheduled for fish are Bon Tempe, Phoenix, and Lagunitas

Whitaker's Finnicula Wins Finn Regatta

Whitaker's craft, a monotype international yacht, stacked up 248 points for the victory.

TAM DINNER DATE WRONG

The Tamalpais High School Swimmers awards dinner will be held Friday at 7 p.m. at the high school's cafeteria. Swimming champions of the Marin County Athletic League will be honored.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Homers, Good Pitching Mark Memorial Day

By NORMAN MILLER
UP INTERNATIONAL

The New York Yankees fired a prodigious seven-home salute to Memorial Day and the Baltimore Orioles popped a pair of classy pitching performances, but with no such style or fanfare the Cincinnati Reds enjoyed the happiest holiday celebration of all.

In their inimitable scrambling fashion, the Reds dumped the San Francisco Giants in both games of a double-header, 7-6 and 6-4, and moved into a first-place tie in the National League race.

BOMBARDMENT

For the Yankees, Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris and Bill Skowron each hit a pair of homers to tie a Major League record and lead a 12-3 bombardment of the Boston Red Sox.

This was the fifth time in major league history that three players on a team each hit two homers in a game. Yogi Berra also contributed a homer as the Yankees fell one short of tying the major league record set by their 1939 predecessore.

Baltimore, meanwhile, capitalized on a pair of pitching performances reminiscent of last season — by Steve Barber and Skinny Brown—to sweep a double-header from the Chicago White Sox, 6-0 and 2-1.

RACE TIGHTENED

The American League race was tightened when the first-place Detroit Tigers split a double-header with the Kansas City Athletics, winning the opener, 5-3, on Norm Cash's grand slam homer, but losing the second game, 9-3.

The Cleveland Indians took advantage of this to move within 2½ games of the lead, sweeping a twin bill from the Minnesota Twins, 4-3 and 7-5. In the other A.L. game, the Washington Senators defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 5-1.

The Chicago Cubs pulled a surprise sweep of a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3 and 10-0; and the Milwaukee Braves split two games with the Philadelphia Phils, winning the first, 3-1, and losing the second, 11-4. In the only holiday night game, the Los Angeles Dodgers pulled to within 10 percentage points of the Reds and Giants by turning back the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-3.

EDGING UP

As a result of the Memorial Day activity, the leading four clubs in the American League were separated by only 4½ games, while the top five teams in the National were also separated by 4½ games.

Koreans Will Not Participate In Canada Cup Tilt

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP)—The ninth annual Canada Cup matches, already scarred in a power war with the Professional Golfers Association, suffered another battle wound today with the withdrawal of the South Korean team because of the revolution in that Asiatic country.

Chang Sang Hahn and Hak Young Kim, the two Korean professionals, cabled Frank Pace, Jr., of New York, president of the International Golf Association, they were unable to obtain visas for the trip and were withdrawing.

Teobaldo Parez and Francisco Gonzales, the two Venezuelans, also have problems but the South American country is expected to have a team here by Thursday morning when twosomes from 33 countries tee off in quest of the Canada Cup, now held by the United States.

Giants Can't Seem To Smile At Home

The Cincinnati Reds bopped the Giants twice Monday, 7-6 and 6-4, to crawl up beside the Giants atop the National League.

TWIN WIN

The twin win gave the hot Reds a sweep of the three-game series here and a 5-2 margin over the Giants this season.

It marked the Giants' sixth straight loss at home. And it came before a packed house of 41,692, biggest crowd of the season here.

The Giants' starting pitchers haven't completed a game since May 16, when Jack Sanford went nine innings for his only time in eight starts.

RELIEF PITCH

Southpaw Billy O'Dell (1-2), who has 15 relief appearances to date, rated his first start today against St. Louis' Curt Simmons (2-3).

There were seven home runs in the first game Monday, four by the Giants, but the winning run tallied when Jim Davenport, one of the steadiest fielders in baseball, dropped a pop fly with two out in the ninth.

POP UP

The Giants, behind 7-2 at that point, came up with four runs in a wild bottom of the ninth on a triple by Davenport and bases-empty homers by Hobie Landrith (No. 2), Charlie Hiller (No. 1) and Willie Mays (No. 10). But southpaw Bill Henry then got left-hand hitting Willie McCovey to pop up, ending the cliff-hanger.

Sam Jones (4-4), was the loser. He lasted just 2⅔ innings and hasn't gone nine innings since May 4 at Chicago.

LASTED FOUR

Juan Marichal (2-2), whose last complete game was May 5 at Philadelphia lasted four innings in the nightcap.

The Reds got four tallies on three singles and a walk in a wild third. Catcher Ed Bailey was thrown out when he started protesting Plate Umpire Ed Sudol's call on a play at home.

Felipe Alou's bases-empty homer, his fifth, provided most of the other Giant fireworks.

Billy Loes, who was scheduled to pitch Thursday, will miss his turn. Loes has gone to New York for the funeral of his father, James, 65, who died of a heart attack.

American Defeated In British Open

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP)—Diane Robb, a 17-year-old English girl, won four straight holes today and defeated the last American, Mrs. Ann Stranahan, 3 and 2, in the quarterfinals of the British Women's Golf Championship.

Mrs. Stranahan is the wife of Frank Stranahan, former British Amateur golf champion and now a pro from Toledo, Ohio.

The other winners today were Mrs. John Beck, 60, a former British Curtis Cup player; Mrs. Marley Spearman of England, and Claudine Cross of France.

Attendance Drops

Memorial Day attendance for major league baseball dropped some 20,500 from last year's figures despite an added site on the schedule due to the American League's expansion to 10 teams this season.

The BULLPEN
With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

For Two Weeks Of Baseball It's Been All Sweetness And Light

CONNOLLY

For two weeks now we have been nothing but sweetness and light. So it's about time to step on a few toes. This is no time to get out of character.

To start with, take a quote from sportscribe Frank Finch of the Los Angeles Times during the recent Dodger-Milwaukee series.

"With two men out," says Finch. "Wally Moon left third base and broke for the plate. He was called out by Umpire Dusty Boggess on a close play, but Lau dropped the ball and Moon was home with the tying run. Moon was credited with a STOLEN BASE although there was much dissent in the press box."

Now come along with us to Cincinnati and watch Willie Mays pile into catcher Jerry Zimmerman of the Reds. There goes the ball, and both Mays and Cepeda cross the plate. This time the catcher was charged WITH AN ERROR.

Move the clock back to Candlestick Park with Warren Spahn pitching to Felipe Alou. A routine fly ball along the right field foul line is dropped by Lee Maye of the Braves.

"TWO BASE HIT," says the official scorer for the Giants. The eyebrows of the Milwaukee scribes went up under their hats.

Back again to St. Louis, and Willie Mays hits a sizzler through Alex Grammas, and then Joe Cunningham bobbles the ball in the outfield. TWO ERRORS CHARGED on this play that should have been a hit and an error.

All of which only serves to point up the fact that it is about time the big league moguls took the official scoring job out of the hands of the sportswriters and handed it over to a "fifth umpire" who would make all of the rulings on hits, errors, earned runs and the like.

WE HAVE nothing but respect for our fellow scribes all around the circuit. Most of them are devoted to their jobs and do a good job trying to bring color to stories of games that have been bled white by the on-the-spot radio boys.

But it is asking too much to expect writers who travel and fraternize with the players of one club all season, not to be prejudiced in favor of some and against others.

We expect writers to be human. But who ever heard of an umpire who was called human? So let the job of the "fifth umpire" be created for this thankless job and then we can ALL get on him!

ACTUALLY THERE are plenty of competent retired ball players in every area of the country who could qualify for the job of official scorer—and who would jump at the chance to hold down the job.

It is embarrassing to sit in the press box and to see an entire team pour out of the dugout and stare up at you after a call has been made with which they do not agree. It is even more embarrassing to feel the disapproval of visiting scribes within the press box itself.

EVEN THE arguments of his local scribeners failed to change the call. Sad Sam still refers to that game as a no-hitter.

So let's take the official scorer's job away from the pure at heart among the fifth estate and give it to the umpires where it belongs, the blind bums.

Frank Carbo Convicted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Frankie Carbo, alleged underworld czar of boxing, has been convicted of extortion and conspiracy in what officials call a major blow against organized crime.

But, they warn, other links between bigtime boxing and the underworld apparently exist.

Carbo and four confederates were convicted Tuesday of trying to chisel into the earnings of ex-welterweight champion Don Jordan. They face possible prison terms ranging from 25 to 125 years and fines of $30,000 to $70,000.

"This case is unique in showing what happens when big business and the underworld team up," said Special Prosecutor Alvin N. Goldstein, a former aide of New York Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan.

"It's up to society to do something about it. If we stop with this conviction, the practice will continue. There are always people willing to step in and take the places of those who get caught."

Convicted with Carbo were Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Philadelphia fight manager who was allegedly Carbo's front man; Truman Gibson Jr., head of the now defunct International Boxing Club; and Joe Sica and Louis Tom Dragna, Los Angeles police characters.

The verdict by a jury of 10 women and 2 men climaxed a three-month trial and a two-year investigation by federal authorities and Los Angeles police into gangster-type invasion of professional boxing.

Marinites Bag Racing Trophies

Marin County water ski racers and V-drive boats yesterday brought back some more treasures from the big Memorial Day weekend races at Lakeport, Clear Lake, to add to their already stuffed trophy vault.

Roy Sayles, his wife Lorraine and daughter "Cindy" between them added four more first place and one second place trophy to their hoard of some 70 trophies in water ski V-drive boat racing.

CINDY WINS

Cindy, 12, took a first in the junior girls division. Mrs. Sayles, who is the second fastest skier in the senior women's division on the coast, won her division's race Sunday, and Roy Sayles won a trophy for towing both his wife and daughter and for towing a Vallejo girl who took a second in the girls' division.

Carl Dethlefsen of 11 Aqua Vista Drive, San Rafael, picked up a first at Lakeport in the "unlimited to 500 cubic inches" class race. Dethlefsen holds a world record in the SK class type boats and is the Pacific Coast's champion boat racer.

ARRIGHI WINS

A trophy was bagged by Joe Arrighi of 201 San Rafael Avenue, San Rafael, after he took a first in the "unlimited 375 cubic inches and under" class in his V-drive boat.

Psidium Captures Big Derby

Dicta Drake, a French-owned favorite, was second in a photo finish. The American-owned Pardao, another leading entry, was third. Pardao is owned by Mrs. C. O. Iselin of Glenhead, N. Y.

A throng of about 250,000, including Queen Elizabeth II and other members of the royal family, watched the famed 1½-mile race under perfect weather conditions. The queen, an ardent fan and owner, did not have an entry in the race.

An Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes is based on the result of the classic for 3-year-olds.

SF State Tops In All-Far West Choices

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco State and Sacramento State lead the 1961 All-Far Western Conference baseball selections by the conference coaches.

San Francisco State won five positions in the balloting yesterday and Sacramento State four. Chico State took three, University of Nevada two and Humboldt and Cal Aggies one each.

The selections: Pitchers — Dick Bach, Sacramento State, and Fred Glosser, San Francisco State. Catcher—Bill Moe, San Francisco State. First Base —Three-way tie, Marv Van Curen, Nevada; Al Stevenson, Cal Aggies; Kim Wallace, Sacramento State. Shortstop — Les Kuhnz, Sacramento State. Utility infielder — Wade Wall, Chico State. Outfielders — Joe Panella, San Francisco State; Dennis Pontoni, Humboldt State; Tom Pugliese, Sacramento State. Utility outfielders —Tie, Bill Flanagan, San Francisco State, and Marshall Kreuter, Chico State.

Most valuable player — Fred Glosser, San Francisco State pitcher.

BLACKBALL HIGHLIGHTS

Phil Wallace Looks Like Professional

Phil Wallace, 26-year-old press operator for the DuMont Manufacturing Corp. in San Rafael, hurled a 720 series last week with high games of 203, 273 and 244. Wallace's score is one of the highest series bowled in Marin County this year.

Wallace, a garduate of San Rafael High School bowled some before he entered the U.S. Army about four years ago. When he was discharged in 1959 he started to bowl and practice consistently and is now a 200 averager and one of the most promising bowlers in Marin.

"He's got a lot of work ahead, but may join the pro ranks one of these days," testified one of his bowling colleagues at Country Club Bowl.

Wallace recorded his brillant score in the "725" Classic Foursome at Country Club, and he was not up against any duffers. Zeno R. Gelatti ammassed a torrid 674-242 and Orin Teston heaped a 670-267, and bowlers "Jug" Paul, Ed Posusney, "Ace" Addenin and Bill Rhodes were all in the 600s.

Postman and veteran Marin bowler Cecil Simpson burned in a handsome 651 series last week in the Postman's League. Simpson had games of 210, 189 and 252.

Winning Racer Foyt Will Know Tonight How Much He Won

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Texan A. J. Foyt, who sits mighty tall in a race car seat, won't know until tonight's victory dinner how much he won yesterday by capturing the golden anniversary 500-mile auto race in a record 139.131 miles an hour.

What he does know is that the $100,000 or so almost slipped through his fingers in a ferociously contested race that knocked out 21 of the 33 starting cars. And it wasn't until last night that he learned he had set a record instead of an almost. This because of a breakdown in the timing.

It was a three-car race in the last stages among Foyt, 26, Houston, Tex.; Eddie Sachs, Center Valley, Pa., and 1959 winner Rodger Ward. It finally was decided in the pits.

Foyt made his third and supposedly last pit stop for tires and fuel, but the connection on the pressure fueling system wouldn't work. His crew borrowed a refueling rig from Len Sutton's pit and called Foyt back in for an extra stop.

Meanwhile, Sachs was flying and looked like a sure winner after failing to finish in four previous starts. Then his right rear tire wore ragged and he had to stop for a new one with only three laps—7½ miles—to go.

Foyt passed Sachs as the Pennsylvanian was gunning his car out of the pits. The handsome Texan beat Eddie to the finish line by 8½ seconds. With four pit stops apiece, Sachs spent 8 2-5the seconds longer off the track.

Foyt drove the Indianapolis Bowes Special, Sachs the Long Beach, Calif., Dean Special.

Ward, having handling trouble with a new type Watson car, was less than a lap behind in third place. He could sympathize with Sachs because a worn tire forced Ward to surrender the lead to winner Jim Rathmann late in last year's race.

Mechanical trouble sent Rathmann to the sidelines yesterday after he had led part of the race. Other leaders at various times included 1952 winner Troy Ruttman, who became physically exhausted; rookie Parnelli Jones and second-time starter Jim Hurtubise.

Hurtubise and Jones both suffered facial cuts from small flying objects, and Jones' cut forced him into a four-minute plus pit stop.

Jack Brabham of Australia, the world road racing champion, drove a shrewd, smooth race to ninth place but he never was in contention. His little English Cooper simply didn't have enough oomph on the straightaways.

The race was run without death or serious injury to a driver, in spite of a series of spectacular wrecks on the west main straightaway. A speedway guard, John Masariu, became the old racing plant's 54th fatality, however, when a fire truck backed over him after extinguishing a fire in Eddie Johnson's wrecked car.

Foyt spent several hours after the race thinking he'd only turned in the second best time in the history of the race. The first posted time had Foyt finishing at 138.466, just a whisker behind Jim Rathmann's record 138.767 last year. During the evening, Speedway officials disclosed timing equipment had gone bad on the 175th lap and had to be replaced by stop watches for two or three minutes. The corrected time—139.131—made Foyt the fastest ever to finish the race.

Lions In Front Of Tiburon Little League

At the end of the first third of the season and with most of opening day's rained-out games made up, standings in Tiburon Little League through yesterday was: Lions (5-2), Octopi (4-2), Seals (2-4), Falcons (2-5).

In the Tiburon Little League minor group of nine teams the Cubs hold an unbeaten record in their first four games for first place, followed closely at .800 by the Braves who have also won four, but out of five starts. Third place goes to the Roosters with three wins out of four games, while the Giants have won two out of three for a .666.

The Riders are at .500 for two games out of four while there is a three-way tie for sixth place with the Colts, Cards, Jets all at one win out of four games. Slow starting is the newest team in the league, the Dons, bringing up last place with no wins in four tries.

TOM BLANCHARD GRABS MIDGET AUTO VICTORY

Blanchard, driving his own Ford V-Eight 60, captured first spot in the 15 lap dash and also won his heat race.

Other Marin County midget drivers and owners were headed for place spots but ran into mechanical trouble. Johnnie Dillman of San Rafael, driving his Ferguson of Sabella's, was forced out while in third position in the semi-main when his water pump failed to operate.

Clay Walsh of San Rafael was pushing his midget in the lead pack in the grinding 150 lap main event, but tire trouble put him in the pits for good yesterday.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Homers, Good Pitching Mark Memorial Day

UP INTERNATIONAL

The New York Yankees fired a prodigious seven-home salute to Memorial Day and the Baltimore Orioles popped a pair of classy pitching performances, but with no such style or fanfare the Cincinnati Reds enjoyed the happiest holiday celebration of all.

In their inimitable scrambling fashion, the Reds dumped the San Francisco Giants in both games of a double-header, 7-6 and 6-4, and moved into a first-place tie in the National League race.

BOMBARDMENT

For the Yankees, Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris and Bill Skowron each hit a pair of homers to tie a Major League record and lead a 12-3 bombardment of the Boston Red Sox.

This was the fifth time in major league history that three players on a team each hit two homers in a game. Yogi Berra also contributed a homer as the Yankees fell one short of tying the major league record set by their 1939 predecessore.

Baltimore, meanwhile, capitalized on a pair of pitching performances reminiscent of last season — by Steve Barber and Skinny Brown—to sweep a double-header from the Chicago White Sox, 6-0 and 2-1.

RACE TIGHTENED

The American League race was tightened when the first-place Detroit Tigers split a double-header with the Kansas City Athletics, winning the opener, 5-3, on Norm Cash's grand slam homer, but losing the second game, 9-3.

The Cleveland Indians took advantage of this to move within 2½ games of the lead, sweeping a twin bill from the Minnesota Twins, 4-3 and 7-5. In the other A.L. game, the Washington Senators defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 5-1.

The Chicago Cubs pulled a surprise sweep of a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3 and 10-0; and the Milwaukee Braves split two games with the Philadelphia Phils, winning the first, 3-1, and losing the second, 11-4. In the only holiday night game, the Los Angeles Dodgers pulled to within 10 percentage points of the Reds and Giants by turning back the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-3.

EDGING UP

As a result of the Memorial Day activity, the leading four clubs in the American League were separated by only 4½ games, while the top five teams in the National were also separated by 4½ games.

Koreans Will Not Participate In Canada Cup Tilt

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP)—The ninth annual Canada Cup matches, already scarred in a power war with the Professional Golfers Association, suffered another battle wound today with the withdrawal of the South Korean team because of the revolution in that Asiatic country.

Chang Sang Hahn and Hak Young Kim, the two Korean professionals, cabled Frank Pace, Jr., of New York, president of the International Golf Association, they were unable to obtain visas for the trip and were withdrawing.

Teobaldo Parez and Francisco Gonzales, the two Venezuelans, also have problems but the South American country is expected to have a team here by Thursday morning when twosomes from 33 countries tee off in quest of the Canada Cup, now held by the United States.

Giants Can't Seem To Smile At Home

The Cincinnati Reds bopped the Giants twice Monday, 7-6 and 6-4, to crawl up beside the Giants atop the National League.

TWIN WIN

The twin win gave the hot Reds a sweep of the three-game series here and a 5-2 margin over the Giants this season.

It marked the Giants' sixth straight loss at home. And it came before a packed house of 41,692, biggest crowd of the season here.

The Giants' starting pitchers haven't completed a game since May 16, when Jack Sanford went nine innings for his only time in eight starts.

RELIEF PITCH

Southpaw Billy O'Dell (1-2), who has 15 relief appearances to date, rated his first start today against St. Louis' Curt Simmons (2-3).

There were seven home runs in the first game Monday, four by the Giants, but the winning run tallied when Jim Davenport, one of the steadiest fielders in baseball, dropped a pop fly with two out in the ninth.

POP UP

The Giants, behind 7-2 at that point, came up with four runs in a wild bottom of the ninth on a triple by Davenport and bases-empty homers by Hobie Landrith (No. 2), Charlie Hiller (No. 1) and Willie Mays (No. 10). But southpaw Bill Henry then got left-hand hitting Willie McCovey to pop up, ending the cliff-hanger.

Sam Jones (4-4), was the loser. He lasted just 2⅔ innings and hasn't gone nine innings since May 4 at Chicago.

LASTED FOUR

Juan Marichal (2-2), whose last complete game was May 5 at Philadelphia lasted four innings in the nightcap.

The Reds got four tallies on three singles and a walk in a wild third. Catcher Ed Bailey was thrown out when he started protesting Plate Umpire Ed Sudol's call on a play at home.

Felipe Alou's bases-empty homer, his fifth, provided most of the other Giant fireworks.

Billy Loes, who was scheduled to pitch Thursday, will miss his turn. Loes has gone to New York for the funeral of his father, James, 65, who died of a heart attack.

American Defeated In British Open

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP)—Diane Robb, a 17-year-old English girl, won four straight holes today and defeated the last American, Mrs. Ann Stranahan, 3 and 2, in the quarter-finals of the British Women's Golf Championship.

Mrs. Stranahan is the wife of Frank Stranahan, former British Amateur golf champion and now a pro from Toledo, Ohio.

The other winners today were Mrs. John Beck, 60, a former British Curtis Cup player; Mrs. Marley Spearman of England, and Claudine Cross of France.

Attendance Drops

Memorial Day attendance for major league baseball dropped some 20,500 from last year's figures despite an added site on the schedule due to the American League's expansion to 10 teams this season.

June Is Dairy Month Throughout The U.S.

June Dairy Month this year celebrates its Silver Anniversary as a nationwide promotion which salutes the dairy industry. For the past quarter century, June Dairy Month has been a time of recognition by the nation of the dairy industry's vital contributions to America's economy, health and welfare in a modern world.

With major dairy groups spearheading the observance, it has grown since 1937, into the largest single dairy foods sales and information campaign of the year with increasing support from associated businesses.

Again this year, the story of milk and dairy foods will be presented to the public by all parts of the dairy industry. Leaders in agriculture, business, education and government, and scores of enterprises tied to the multibillion dollar dairy industry, are uniting in this 25th annual once-a-year observance.

June is the dairy industry's biggest annual effort to tell its story and to encourage use of its products. This coincides with the busiest season in dairying when the dairy cattle graze in lush meadows and pastures.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture actively promotes June Dairy Month. It has received official support from the President and is a time for open house at dairies to better acquaint the public with the industry. Hundreds of special events are staged to make dairymen better known to the public they serve.

In its short four-generation history, dairying has grown to an agriculture giant in the United States and is a major part of its retail food business. In this short transition period, dairying has adopted the tools and methods of a mass-marketing modern technological and scientific society.

This progress has resulted in a wide variety of foods for the homemaker's table, many unknown a few years ago. Today's dairy food family, which provides about 30 per cent of the elements essential in the American diet, includes fresh whole milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, cottage cheese, cream and many other products. Milk may be evaporated, condensed, skimmed, in nonfat dry form, flavored or available in endless varieties.

Mocha Pie Has Touch Of Coffee

"Easy as pie" is a good expression to use in describing the making of "Almond Mocha Layer Pie." Packaged pudding mix makes the foundation on which you build this glamorous dessert, but its final mouth-watering appearance makes it hard to convince folks that you didn't spend hours in the kitchen. The filling is touched with coffee and almond flavorings for intriguing taste appeal, and boasts a middle layer of "Almond Mocha Cream."

Toasted almonds, crisp and golden, go into the cream layer and also garnish the top. You'll find they make heavenly fare in combination with the soft creamy filling.

ALMOND MOCHA LAYER PIE

1 (3-ounce) package chocolate pudding mix
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon instant coffee powder
1½ cups milk
½ cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/16 teaspoon almond extract
1 baked and cooled 9-inch pie shell
Almond Mocha Cream

ALMOND MOCHA CREAM

1 cup whipping cream
½ teaspoon instant coffee powder
Few grains salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 - tablespoon sugar
⅔ cup toasted slivered almonds

Measure pudding mix, salt and coffee powder into saucepan. Slowly stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until pudding comes to full boil, about 5 or 6 minutes. Remove from heat and cool. Beat ½ cup cream with vanilla and almond flavorings until stiff; fold into cooled pudding. Turn half of pudding into baked pie shell. Spread Almond Mocha Cream over top. Carefully spread remain chocolate filling over cream. Refrigerate until ready to serve. Garnish with additional whipped cream, if desired, and toasted almonds.

Almond Mocha Cream: Beat cream with coffee powder, salt, vanilla and sugar just until it holds a firm peak. Fold in ⅓ cup almonds. Use remaining almonds to garnish top of pie.

Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Note: To toast almonds—place with 1 teaspoon cooking oil in shallow pan. Toast in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) to a golden brown, about 10 to 15 minutes. Stir now and then to insure even browning. Cool.

Guests On Auxiliary Tour Will Visit A Kitchen Garden

The house and garden of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Antrobus of Mill Valley will be featured on the "First Day of Summer" House Tour being sponsored by Marin General Hospital Auxiliary and Branches June 21 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Champagne will be served at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley from 3 to 5, following the tour of five outstanding homes, pools and patios.

The kitchen garden of Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus is patterned after the Antrobus family estate, Cookhill Priory, in England.

When the Antrobuses moved to Mill Valley the first project on their list was to establish an old-fashioned kitchen garden. One by one they have conquered seemingly insurmountable gardening problems to accomplish this. The sloping lot in front of the house was the only place for the garden, and caravans of topsoil had to be brought in to level the area. Once the plants were set in, in the formal English pattern, the trouble really began. There were deer—herds of them, and apparently they were fully prepared to maintain a steady diet of lemon cucumbers, leeks and tender green tomatoes.

Antrobus installed fencing, but this was not enough of a deterrent. Finally a solution was found—the Antrobuses have built a cattle guard crossing at the foot of their drive. Made of sheet metal in spaced ribbing it's just about impossible for anything on four legs (or two) to cross over. Planks on either side of the crossing can be let down, a sort of super-imposed drawbridge, for people to walk over.

STUFFED CUCUMBERS

2 medium sized cucumbers
¾ c. cooked chicken
8 mushrooms cooked
¼ c. cooked ham
½ c. thick white sauce
½ c. aspic jelly
½ c. whipped cream
Salt and pepper
Grated nutmeg

Peel and slice cucumber and stamp out inside with a thin pastry cutter or knife. Put chicken, ham and mushrooms through fine blade of meat grinder. Season with salt and pepper and little grated nutmeg. Warm sauce and aspic together, cool until it begins to set, then add whipped cream. Cut out rounds of bread a little larger than the cucumber shapes, spread over a little of the chicken mixture, then place a round of cucumber on each and fill center with puree. Pile high, decorate with parsley.

GREEN TOMATO CHUTNEY

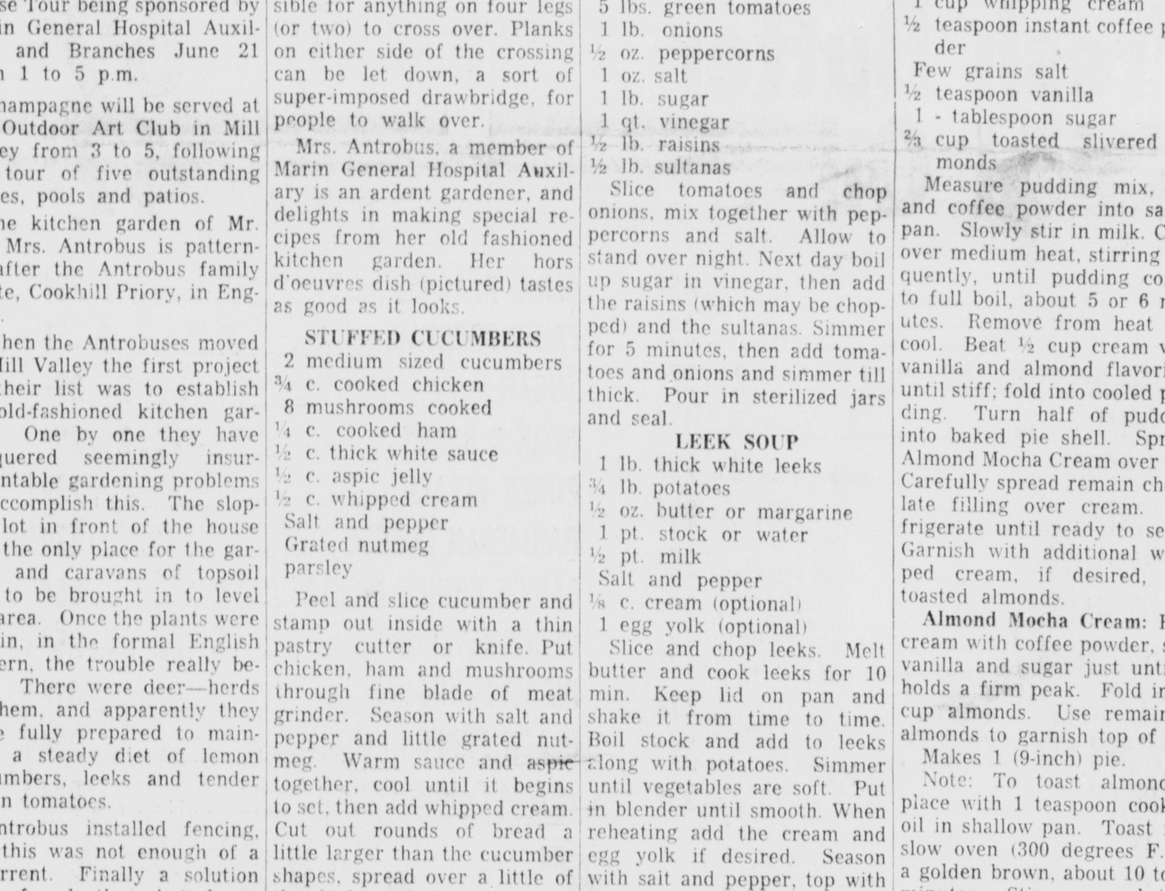
5 lbs. green tomatoes
1 lb. onions
½ oz. peppercorns
1 oz. salt
1 lb. sugar
1 qt. vinegar
½ lb. raisins
½ lb. sultanas

Slice tomatoes and chop onions, mix together with peppercorns and salt. Allow to stand over night. Next day boil up sugar in vinegar, then add the raisins (which may be chopped) and the sultanas. Simmer for 5 minutes, then add tomatoes and onions and simmer till thick. Pour in sterilized jars and seal.

LEEK SOUP

1 lb. thick white leeks
¾ lb. potatoes
½ oz. butter or margarine
1 pt. stock or water
½ pt. milk
Salt and pepper
⅛ c. cream (optional)
1 egg yolk (optional)

Slice and chop leeks. Melt butter and cook leeks for 10 min. Keep lid on pan and shake it from time to time. Boil stock and add to leeks along with potatoes. Simmer until vegetables are soft. Put in blender until smooth. When reheating add the cream and egg yolk if desired. Season with salt and pepper, top with chopped chives.



HERE'S A chocolate pie with a built-in layer of "Almond Mocha Cream." Truly lavish in appearance, "Almond Mocha Layer Pie" is easy to make. Crisp, delicate almonds contrast nicely with the soft creamy filling.

For Two Weeks Of Baseball It's Been All Sweetness And Light

CONNOLLY

For two weeks now we have been nothing but sweetness and light. So it's about time to step on a few toes. This is no time to get out of character.

To start with, take a quote from sportscribe Frank Finch of the Los Angeles Times during the recent Dodger-Milwaukee series.

"With two men out," says Finch, "Wally Moon left third base and broke for the plate. He was called out by Umpire Dusty Boggess on a close play, but Lau dropped the ball and Moon was home with the tying run. Moon was credited with a STOLEN BASE although there was much dissent in the press box."

Now come along with us to Cincinnati and watch Willie Mays pile into catcher Jerry Zimmerman of the Reds. There goes the ball, and both Mays and Cepeda cross the plate. This time the catcher was charged WITH AN ERROR.

Move the clock back to Candlestick Park with Warren Spahn pitching to Felipe Alou. A routine fly ball along the right field foul line is dropped by Lee Maye of the Braves.

"TWO BASE HIT," says the official scorer for the Giants. The eyebrows of the Milwaukee scribes went up under their hats.

Back again to St. Louis, and Willie Mays hits a sizzler through Alex Grammas, and then Joe Cunningham bobbles the ball in the outfield. TWO ERRORS CHARGED on this play that should have been a hit and an error.

All of which only serves to point up the fact that it is about time the big league moguls took the official scoring job out of the hands of the sportswriters and handed it over to a "fifth umpire" who would make all of the rulings on hits, errors, earned runs and the like.

WE HAVE nothing but respect for our fellow scribes all around the circuit. Most of them are devoted to their jobs and do a good job trying to bring color to stories of games that have been bled white by the on-the-spot radio boys.

But it is asking too much to expect writers who travel and fraternize with the players of one club all season, not to be prejudiced in favor of some and against others.

We expect writers to be human. But who ever heard of an umpire who was called human? So let the job of the "fifth umpire" be created for this thankless job and then we can ALL get on him!

ACTUALLY THERE are plenty of competent retired ball players in every area of the country who could qualify for the job of official scorer—and who would jump at the chance to hold down the job.

It is embarrassing to sit in the press box and to see an entire team pour out of the dugout and stare up at you after a call has been made with which they do not agree. It is even more embarrassing to feel the disapproval of visiting scribes within the press box itself.

EVEN THE arguments of his local scribeners failed to change the call. Sad Sam still refers to that game as a no-hitter.

So let's take the official scorer's job away from the pure at heart among the fifth estate and give it to the umpires where it belongs, the blind bums.

Frank Carbo Convicted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Frankie Carbo, alleged underworld czar of boxing, has been convicted of extortion and conspiracy in what officials call a major blow against organized crime.

But, they warn, other links between bigtime boxing and the underworld apparently exist.

Carbo and four confederates were convicted Tuesday of trying to chisel into the earnings of ex-welterweight champion Don Jordan. They face possible prison terms ranging from 25 to 125 years and fines of $30,000 to $70,000.

"This case is unique in showing what happens when big business and the underworld team up," said Special Prosecutor Alvin N. Goldstein, a former aide of New York Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan.

"It's up to society to do something about it. If we stop with this conviction, the practice will continue. There are always people willing to step in and take the places of those who get caught."

Convicted with Carbo were Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Philadelphia fight manager who was allegedly Carbo's front man; Truman Gibson Jr., head of the now defunct International Boxing Club; and Joe Sica and Louis Tom Dragna, Los Angeles police characters.

The verdict by a jury of 10 women and 2 men climaxed a three-month trial and a two-year investigation by federal authorities and Los Angeles police into gangster-type invasion of professional boxing.

Marinites Bag Racing Trophies

Marin County water ski racers and V-drive boats yesterday brought back some more treasures from the big Memorial Day weekend races at Lakeport, Clear Lake, to add to their already stuffed trophy vault.

Roy Sayles, his wife Lorraine and daughter "Cindy" between them added four more first place and one second place trophy to their hoard of some 70 trophies in water ski V-drive boat racing.

CINDY WINS

Cindy, 12, took a first in the junior girls division. Mrs. Sayles, who is the second fastest skier in the senior women's division on the coast, won her division's race Sunday, and Roy Sayles won a trophy for towing both his wife and daughter and for towing a Vallejo girl who took a second in the girls' division.

Carl Dethlefsen of 11 Aqua Vista Drive, San Rafael, picked up a first at Lakeport in the "unlimited to 500 cubic inches" class race. Dethlefsen holds a world record in the SK class type boats and is the Pacific Coast's champion boat racer.

ARRIGHI WINS

A trophy was bagged by Joe Arrighi of 201 San Rafael Avenue, San Rafael, after he took a first in the "unlimited 375 cubic inches and under" class in his V-drive boat.

BLACKBALL HIGHLIGHTS

Phil Wallace Looks Like Professional

Phil Wallace, 26-year-old press operator for the DuMont Manufacturing Corp. in San Rafael, hurled a 720 series last week with high games of 203, 273 and 244. Wallace's score is one of the highest series bowled in Marin County this year.

Wallace, a garduate of San Rafael High School bowled some before he entered the U.S. Army about four years ago. When he was discharged in 1959 he started to bowl and practice consistently and is now a 200 averager and one of the most promising bowlers in Marin.

"He's got a lot of work ahead, but may join the pro ranks one of these days," testified one of his bowling colleagues at Country Club Bowl.

Wallace recorded his brillant score in the "725" Classic Foursome at Country Club, and he was not up against any duffers. Zeno R. Gelatti ammassed a torrid 674-242 and Orin Teston heaped a 670-267, and bowlers "Jug" Paul, Ed Posusney, "Ace" Addenin and Bill Rhodes were all in the 600s.

Postman and veteran Marin bowler Cecil Simpson burned in a handsome 651 series last week in the Postman's League. Simpson had games of 210, 189 and 252.

Volunteers Needed At Center Medical

By FRANCES MARTIN

Time on your hands? Looking for an activity loaded with merit? One that will make many people grateful and happy?

The answer for you is the Center Medical Hospital in Terra Linda. After talking with James E. Moore, administrator, we found that there is a great need for volunteer workers during the week to do all those little extra services hospitalized people require over and above the expert nursing they receive.

Center Medical Hospital is a relatively small institution with 48 beds occupied by convalescents and geriatric (elderly) patients. It is the latter who need your services. Their days are long and rather dull after years of leading active busy lives. They need your help to while away the long hours. You can read to them, write letters, run errands or just sit down and talk about your own activities, families, or what's going on in the world.

At the present time there are but three women working at Center Medical as volunteers during the week. Saturdays, according to Moore, they are most fortunate in having a group of teen-age Junior Red Cross Aides doing volunteer work.

If you are interested in becoming a part of a volunteer group even if you can only spare a few hours from your own schedule call Mrs. Paul Spengler.

Find Summer Job That's Different

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Do you plan to work this summer?

It may be a breeze if you find a job that is different, advises pretty Diane O'Dell, 18, Northwestern University freshman.

She found a job last summer "with an element of newness, a challenge," as a U. S. mail carrier.

"I'd never seen or heard of a girl mail carrier when I began entertaining the idea," she explains, "but I reasoned that I couldn't lose anything by applying."

The postal executive at Wilton, Conn., her hometown, did a double take when she asked for a job.

"I thought it was a brush-off when he said he'd let me know, so I was surprised when he called me to report for work," says Diane.

Her regular job was special delivery carrier, but she also sorted and sacked mail, working split hours during the week and a long day Saturday until 11 p.m. She earned $90 some weeks, including overtime.

"The big drawback for a girl is dirt from the constant traffic in mail bags. The trucks are dirty, and sacking mail is like working in a coal bin. It gets your arms and clothes filthy, especially around the first of the month when bills make the mail heavier. But it can be lots of fun, particularly for a girl."

There are people who look at a mail lady in disbelief, she says, questioning whether you are rehearsing for a play or being initiated into a sorority. Others stare as if you are absconding with government property, particularly when you are on "pickup."

Women are more suspicious than men, who try to help lady carriers. And every individual seems to think that his special delivery letter has come straight from the post office.

"The popular conception of a special is that the carrier drops everything at the post office and speeds out in the mail truck to deliver the letter."

Special mail follows the same routes as other mail, Diane explains. "Those on the first part of the route are friendly, those who get their letters late are likely to growl." She delivered 94 letters in one day.

Diane says she's an "odd sort of person for doing things nobody else is doing," and it paid off in the mail job. The $1,000 she earned in two and one-half months helped pay her college tuition.

If you'd consider a mail carrier job, she says, the first consideration is not the money, the hours or the working conditions.

"The most important qualification for the job is strength and a good set of muscles. Those sacks are heavy," warns Diane.

Fairfax Piano Recital

Mrs. Viola W. Gottschalk is presenting three of her piano pupils in a recital at her Fairfax studio on June 8 at 8:30 p.m. On the program will be Janis Goldbaum, Carol Lee Gamas and Suzanne Gottschalk.

SAN RAFAEL CLUB SLATES JUNE LUNCH

Officers of San Rafael Improvement Club will be installed at the club's annual luncheon June 6 at the clubhouse when Mrs. Donald Murray will present the gavel to Mrs. Earl W. Burns during the installation ceremony conducted by Mrs. John Pitcher. Punch will be served in the club garden before the 12 m. luncheon. Mrs. Peter Anderson, tea chairman, has asked Mesdames Gabriel Bejarno, Harold Geister, Douglas Godfrey, Herbert Christ, Leiton Elder and Sanford McLaughlin to preside at the punch bowl.

Mrs. C. W. Zumwalt, first vice president and program chairman, has arranged a short musical program for the luncheon. Mrs. Wesley Baker, wife of Rev. Baker of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, will sing.

All past presidents of the club and honorary presidents will have places of honor. Members only are invited to the luncheon. Mrs. Andrew Ferrier is taking reservations.

Mrs. William Held and Mrs. Norris Rawles are in charge of decorations.

Silver Tea To Fete Teaching Sisters

Invitations have been mailed to a silver tea set for Sunday, June 11, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Mill Valley home of Mrs. George Pavilsin.

Taking reservations are Mesdames Eugene Fox and Gerald Nowell.

June Is Dairy Month Throughout The U.S.

June Dairy Month this year celebrates its Silver Anniversary as a nationwide promotion which salutes the dairy industry. For the past quarter century, June Dairy Month has been a time of recognition by the nation of the dairy industry's vital contributions to America's economy, health and welfare in a modern world.

With major dairy groups spearheading the observance, it has grown since 1937, into the largest single dairy foods sales and information campaign of the year with increasing support from associated businesses.

Again this year, the story of milk and dairy foods will be presented to the public by all parts of the dairy industry. Leaders in agriculture, business, education and government, and scores of enterprises tied to the multibillion dollar dairy industry, are uniting in this 25th annual once-a-year observance.

June is the dairy industry's biggest annual effort to tell its story and to encourage use of its products. This coincides with the busiest season in dairying when the dairy cattle graze in lush meadows and pastures.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture actively promotes June Dairy Month. It has received official support from the President and is a time for open house at dairies to better acquaint the public with the industry. Hundreds of special events are staged to make dairymen better known to the public they serve.

In its short four-generation history, dairying has grown to an agriculture giant in the United States and is a major part of its retail food business. In this short transition period, dairying has adopted the tools and methods of a mass-marketing modern technological and scientific society.

This progress has resulted in a wide variety of foods for the homemaker's table, many unknown a few years ago. Today's dairy food family, which provides about 30 per cent of the elements essential in the American diet, includes fresh whole milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, cottage cheese, cream and many other products. Milk may be evaporated, condensed, skimmed, in nonfat dry form, flavored or available in endless varieties.

Mocha Pie Has Touch Of Coffee

"Easy as pie" is a good expression to use in describing the making of "Almond Mocha Layer Pie." Packaged pudding mix makes the foundation on which you build this glamorous dessert, but its final mouth-watering appearance makes it hard to convince folks that you didn't spend hours in the kitchen. The filling is touched with coffee and almond flavorings for intriguing taste appeal, and boasts a middle layer of "Almond Mocha Cream."

Toasted almonds, crisp and golden, go into the cream layer and also garnish the top. You'll find they make heavenly fare in combination with the soft creamy filling.

ALMOND MOCHA LAYER PIE

1 (3-ounce) package chocolate pudding mix
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon instant coffee powder
1½ cups milk
½ cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/16 teaspoon almond extract
1 baked and cooled 9-inch pie shell
Almond Mocha Cream

ALMOND MOCHA CREAM

1 cup whipping cream
½ teaspoon instant coffee powder
Few grains salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 - tablespoon sugar
⅔ cup toasted slivered almonds

Measure pudding mix, salt and coffee powder into saucepan. Slowly stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until pudding comes to full boil, about 5 or 6 minutes. Remove from heat and cool. Beat ½ cup cream with vanilla and almond flavorings until stiff; fold into cooled pudding. Turn half of pudding into baked pie shell. Spread Almond Mocha Cream over top. Carefully spread remain chocolate filling over cream. Refrigerate until ready to serve. Garnish with additional whipped cream, if desired, and toasted almonds.

Almond Mocha Cream: Beat cream with coffee powder, salt, vanilla and sugar just until it holds a firm peak. Fold in ⅓ cup almonds. Use remaining almonds to garnish top of pie.

Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Note: To toast almonds—place with 1 teaspoon cooking oil in shallow pan. Toast in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) to a golden brown, about 10 to 15 minutes. Stir now and then to insure even browning. Cool.

Guests On Auxiliary Tour Will Visit A Kitchen Garden

The house and garden of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Antrobus of Mill Valley will be featured on the "First Day of Summer" House Tour being sponsored by Marin General Hospital Auxiliary and Branches June 21 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Champagne will be served at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley from 3 to 5, following the tour of five outstanding homes, pools and patios.

The kitchen garden of Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus is patterned after the Antrobus family estate, Cookhill Priory, in England.

When the Antrobuses moved to Mill Valley the first project on their list was to establish an old-fashioned kitchen garden. One by one they have conquered seemingly insurmountable gardening problems to accomplish this. The sloping lot in front of the house was the only place for the garden, and caravans of topsoil had to be brought in to level the area. Once the plants were set in, in the formal English pattern, the trouble really began. There were deer—herds of them, and apparently they were fully prepared to maintain a steady diet of lemon cucumbers, leeks and tender green tomatoes.

Antrobus installed fencing, but this was not enough of a deterrent. Finally a solution was found—the Antrobuses have built a cattle guard crossing at the foot of their drive. Made of sheet metal in spaced ribbing it's just about impossible for anything on four legs (or two) to cross over. Planks on either side of the crossing can be let down, a sort of super-imposed drawbridge, for people to walk over.

STUFFED CUCUMBERS

2 medium sized cucumbers
¾ c. cooked chicken
8 mushrooms cooked
¼ c. cooked ham
½ c. thick white sauce
½ c. aspic jelly
½ c. whipped cream
Salt and pepper

Peel and slice cucumber and stamp out inside with a thin pastry cutter or knife. Put chicken, ham and mushrooms through fine blade of meat grinder. Season with salt and pepper and little grated nutmeg. Warm sauce and aspic together, cool until it begins to set, then add whipped cream. Cut out rounds of bread a little larger than the cucumber shapes, spread over a little of the chicken mixture, then place a round of cucumber on each and fill center with puree. Pile high, decorate with parsley.

GREEN TOMATO CHUTNEY

5 lbs. green tomatoes
1 lb. onions
½ oz. peppercorns
1 oz. salt
1 lb. sugar
1 qt. vinegar
½ lb. raisins
½ lb. sultanas

Slice tomatoes and chop onions, mix together with peppercorns and salt. Allow to stand over night. Next day boil up sugar in vinegar, then add the raisins (which may be chopped) and the sultanas. Simmer for 5 minutes, then add tomatoes and onions and simmer till thick. Pour in sterilized jars and seal.

LEEK SOUP

1 lb. thick white leeks
¾ lb. potatoes
½ oz. butter or margarine
1 pt. stock or water
½ pt. milk
Salt and pepper
⅛ c. cream (optional)
1 egg yolk (optional)

Slice and chop leeks. Melt butter and cook leeks for 10 min. Keep lid on pan and shake it from time to time. Boil stock and add to leeks along with potatoes. Simmer until vegetables are soft. Put in blender until smooth. When reheating add the cream and egg yolk if desired. Season with salt and pepper, top with chopped chives.

HERE'S A chocolate pie with a built-in layer of "Almond Mocha Cream." Truly lavish in appearance, "Almond Mocha Layer Pie" is easy to make. Crisp, delicate almonds contrast nicely with the soft creamy filling.

Elegant Coiffures Are Not For Wearing In Sports Cars

"The only time an elegant hairdo has a proper setting in a car is when a woman is chauffeur driven," he explains. "The proper coiffure for driving or riding in a sports car is one that has an elegance of disarrangement, a hairdo that can look tousled but may be put back in place attractively with the fingers after the drive."

Michel himself is a sports car enthusiast, and he feels our current interest in speed has given us a new perspective on fashion.

"The sports coif should look as if it can be arranged quickly to coincide with the speed picture," he points out, "otherwise you are out of step."

Hair that is exposed to the elements needs protection, he says. And he advises women sports car enthusiasts to have lubricating hair treatments. These will act as a protective coating against summer sun while riding, to avoid discoloration particularly of bleached and touched-up hair.

Keep the hairbrush in the car and use it as much as possible, he suggests, and don't forget that frequent shampoos are necessary to keep the scalp clean.

"Because hair grows faster during the summer months, it should be cut no matter what its length," Michel says. This helps dispose of dead and split ends.

"The shape and cut of your summer coiffure is important to avoid an untidy appearance. A light undercurl permanent wave gives enough body resistance for a well-lasting graceful curl. Too much permanent wave exposed to the elements results in a frizzy hairdo."

ANCHORS AWEIGH . . . as Country Set by Margit steers a straight course for summer in these sea-going, fun-going, sun-going separates woven of Folker's sun gold pin striped sharkskin of Arnel triacetate and rayon that launders easily, drys wrinkle-free and stays crisp and clean while cruising just off-shore or around the world. These natty seafaring togs are perfectly mated to one another. The helmsman sailing jacket with its draw-string waist can be coordinated with the outrigger Jamaicas or as shown with their lined deck pants.

Nutritionist Out-Spoken Critic Of Diet Fads: Warns On Leftovers

NEW YORK (UPI)—A leading nutritionist says the only way to solve our overweight problems is a re-education of our eating habits.

Dr. Norman Jolliffe is an outspoken critic of diet fads, including the currently popular liquid diets and appetite depressant drugs in candy, pill and chewing gum form.

In an interview, he said that the only effective way to reduce and stay reduced is by cutting caloric intake while continuing to eat a little bit of everything.

Dr. Jolliffe is known internationally for his work in the medical control of obesity. He is the founder and director of the Bureau of Nutrition of the New York City Department of Health.

By his standards, a weight-watcher who follows a nutritionally well-balanced low-calorie meal with a high calorie dessert is in trouble only if he makes a habit of this lapse.

"There's no reason why you can't have a piece of cake once in a while," he said. "The most important thing is to go on a fixed diet (of caloric intake)."

"Many women who are frugal housewives and delightful cooks think it is better to eat leftovers than throw them in the garbage," he explained. "They're wrong. They're scavengers."

He is for the clean plate principle only if the portions are of modest size.

Dr. Jolliffe conceded that many of us lack willpower to stick to a reducing diet. To curb over-eating tendencies, he suggested a 50-calorie snack in the daily calorie allowance. Eaten 30 minutes before mealtime, a non-fattening snack is as effective in controlling appetites as commercial depressants, he said. A meal that starts with low-calorie foods and lasts at least half an hour also helps, he added. In other words, pace the meal—don't gobble.

Habitual dieters who repeatedly lose and regain 15 to 20 pounds are living dangerously, he said, because this practice raises blood cholesterol more than if they maintained excess poundage at that level.

Dr. Jolliffe's clinic provides suggested menu plans for overweight adults adapted to each patient's individual needs. General diet instructions give wide latitude in food selection but insist upon at least five fish meals weekly. Forty-nine vegetables are allowed, 28 of them in unlimited amounts without fat, sauces or salad oil dressing. Meat, fish and poultry selections number 54.

A joy killer regime? Not really, because herbs and spices are allowed without limit and even Jolliffe's list of 38 "forbidden" foods and beverages is conditional upon advice from each patient's doctor or nutritionist.

The taboo items range from alcoholic beverages and avocados to waffles, and include bacon, back fat, butter, chocolate, cream, gravy, mayonnaise, muffins, pancakes, popcorn, potato chips and pretzels.

The days are growing longer, says the calendar. But almost any mother knows it's wrong; these first days of summer have wings! If there just isn't time free for your own luncheon, do take a minute out for a glass of Instant HEMO . . . this delicious chocolate drink is truly energy-giving; rich in B-vitamins, minerals and iron, it is a wonderful stop-gap in a busy day.

"And Mo-other, the cake was pink, with yellow roses!" Children love color—who doesn't? And it is so easy to tint cakes, puddings, ice cream, with SCHILLING Food Colors. A handy chart on the SCHILLING package of four colors shows how to mix 12 shades to brighten everyday food. Try rose-colored rice on hard-to-please Susie; watch her appetite perk up!

Want to treat the family to a delicious new dish tonight? Serve SWANSON'S Fried Shrimp TV Dinner . . . it contains big, crisp shrimp, golden-brown and tender, potatoes and green peas, with a dish of tangy cocktail sauce for dipping. Just heat the foil-wrapped container as directed on the label: a wonderful new menu, and no dishes, no pots and pans to wash after dinner!

Peas and onions go so well together it's a joy to buy them ready to enjoy—tender GREEN GIANT Peas with Onions. Just heat them and add butter, if you like, cooking down the juice to a rich sauce, or add a white sauce for extra goodness. For a complete main dish, stir in sliced, hard-cooked eggs and pimiento, and serve in patty shells or biscuits.

Eating outdoors is a happy custom (even apartment-dwellers with sun-decks do it). And here's a dish you can cook on a small grill. Cut up 2 fryer chickens and place on 8 sheets of KAISER Quilted Broiler Foil. Top with slices of sweet potato, pineapple, green pepper, add butter, season, seal and grill over medium heat. Serve each guest his own packaged meal.

Wondering what to serve at a shower luncheon? Ham and Mushrooms is easy to prepare, always good to eat. For 8 persons, combine two cups cooked ham cut into thin strips, and two 4-oz. cans KEYSTONE Mushrooms. Add the mushroom juice to four cups rich cream sauce and stir in ham and mushrooms; heat all together. Serve over corn bread or hot waffles.

The well-dressed salad, like a well-dressed lady, does not require fancy decoration! Crisp greens, a sliced tomato for color, a bit of garlic, then STAR Olive Oil and a sprinkle of vinegar, will please a gourmet. For STAR Olive Oil really dresses a salad; it is a light oil which enhances the flavor of other foods, and makes them taste even better in salads or cooked form.

Remember when KLEENEX Facial Tissues were a purely feminine accessory? Then males discovered how useful they are—in a pocket, at a desk, in cars, on camping trips. But they are a necessity on dressing tables and in purses; KLEENEX Tissues, in color, harmonize with bathroom, bedroom and other color schemes. I like to keep a box of KLEENEX in every room.

That's all for now! See you next week! Bonnie Hubbard

Volunteers Needed At Center Medical

By FRANCES MARTIN

Time on your hands? Looking for an activity loaded with merit? One that will make many people grateful and happy?

The answer for you is the Center Medical Hospital in Terra Linda. After talking with James E. Moore, administrator, we found that there is a great need for volunteer workers during the week to do all those little extra services hospitalized people require over and above the expert nursing they receive.

Center Medical Hospital is a relatively small institution with 48 beds occupied by convalescents and geriatric (elderly) patients. It is the latter who need your services. Their days are long and rather dull after years of leading active busy lives. They need your help to while away the long hours. You can read to them, write letters, run errands or just sit down and talk about your own activities, families, or what's going on in the world.

At the present time there are but three women working at Center Medical as volunteers during the week. Saturdays, according to Moore, they are most fortunate in having a group of teen-age Junior Red Cross Aides doing volunteer work.

If you are interested in becoming a part of a volunteer group even if you can only spare a few hours from your own schedule call Mrs. Paul Spengler.

Find Summer Job That's Different

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Do you plan to work this summer?

It may be a breeze if you find a job that is different, advises pretty Diane O'Dell, 18, Northwestern University freshman.

She found a job last summer "with an element of newness, a challenge," as a U. S. mail carrier.

"I'd never seen or heard of a girl mail carrier when I began entertaining the idea," she explains, "but I reasoned that I couldn't lose anything by applying."

The postal executive at Wilton, Conn., her hometown, did a double take when she asked for a job.

"I thought it was a brush-off when he said he'd let me know, so I was surprised when he called me to report for work," says Diane.

Her regular job was special delivery carrier, but she also sorted and sacked mail, working split hours during the week and a long day Saturday until 11 p.m. She earned $90 some weeks, including overtime.

"The big drawback for a girl is dirt from the constant traffic in mail bags. The trucks are dirty, and sacking mail is like working in a coal bin. It gets your arms and clothes filthy, especially around the first of the month when bills make the mail heavier. But it can be lots of fun, particularly for a girl."

There are people who look at a mail lady in disbelief, she says, questioning whether you are rehearsing for a play or being initiated into a sorority. Others stare as if you are absconding with government property, particularly when you are on "pickup."

Women are more suspicious than men, who try to help lady carriers. And every individual seems to think that his special delivery letter has come straight from the post office.

"The popular conception of a special is that the carrier drops everything at the post office and speeds out in the mail truck to deliver the letter."

Special mail follows the same routes as other mail, Diane explains. "Those on the first part of the route are friendly, those who get their letters late are likely to growl." She delivered 94 letters in one day.

Diane says she's an "odd sort of person for doing things nobody else is doing," and it paid off in the mail job. The $1,000 she earned in two and one-half months helped pay her college tuition.

If you'd consider a mail carrier job, she says, the first consideration is not the money, the hours or the working conditions.

"The most important qualification for the job is strength and a good set of muscles. Those sacks are heavy," warns Diane.

Her plans for next summer aren't certain. She's looking for still another odd, challenging job.

Mrs. Peter Anderson, tea chairman, has asked Mesdames Gabriel Bejarno, Harold Geister, Douglas Godfrey, Herbert Christ, Leiton Elder and Sanford McLaughlin to preside at the punch bowl.

Mrs. C. W. Zumwalt, first vice president and program chairman, has arranged a short musical program for the luncheon. Mrs. Wesley Baker, wife of Rev. Baker of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, will sing.

All past presidents of the club and honorary presidents will have places of honor. Members only are invited to the luncheon. Mrs. Andrew Ferrier is taking reservations.

Elegant Coiffures Are Not For Wearing In Sports Cars

"The only time an elegant hairdo has a proper setting in a car is when a woman is chauffeur driven," he explains. "The proper coiffure for driving or riding in a sports car is one that has an elegance of disarrangement, a hairdo that can look tousled but may be put back in place attractively with the fingers after the drive."

Michel himself is a sports car enthusiast, and he feels our current interest in speed has given us a new perspective on fashion.

"The sports coif should look as if it can be arranged quickly to coincide with the speed picture," he points out, "otherwise you are out of step."

Hair that is exposed to the elements needs protection, he says. And he advises women sports car enthusiasts to have lubricating hair treatments. These will act as a protective coating against summer sun while riding, to avoid discoloration particularly of bleached and touched-up hair.

Keep the hairbrush in the car and use it as much as possible, he suggests, and don't forget that frequent shampoos are necessary to keep the scalp clean.

"Because hair grows faster during the summer months, it should be cut no matter what its length," Michel says. This helps dispose of dead and split ends.

"The shape and cut of your summer coiffure is important to avoid an untidy appearance. A light undercurl permanent wave gives enough body resistance for a well-lasting graceful curl. Too much permanent wave exposed to the elements results in a frizzy hairdo."

ANCHORS AWEIGH . . . as Country Set by Margit steers a straight course for summer in these sea-going, fun-going, sun-going separates woven of Folker's sun gold pin striped sharkskin of Arnel triacetate and rayon that launders easily, drys wrinkle-free and stays crisp and clean while cruising just off-shore or around the world. These natty seafaring togs are perfectly mated to one another. The helmsman sailing jacket with its draw-string waist can be coordinated with the outrigger Jamaicas or as shown with their lined deck pants.

Nutritionist Out-Spoken Critic Of Diet Fads: Warns On Leftovers

NEW YORK (UPI)—A leading nutritionist says the only way to solve our overweight problems is a re-education of our eating habits.

Dr. Norman Jolliffe is an outspoken critic of diet fads, including the currently popular liquid diets and appetite depressant drugs in candy, pill and chewing gum form.

In an interview, he said that the only effective way to reduce and stay reduced is by cutting caloric intake while continuing to eat a little bit of everything.

Dr. Jolliffe is known internationally for his work in the medical control of obesity. He is the founder and director of the Bureau of Nutrition of the New York City Department of Health.

By his standards, a weight-watcher who follows a nutritionally well-balanced low-calorie meal with a high calorie dessert is in trouble only if he makes a habit of this lapse.

"There's no reason why you can't have a piece of cake once in a while," he said. "The most important thing is to go on a fixed diet (of caloric intake)."

"Many women who are frugal housewives and delightful cooks think it is better to eat leftovers than throw them in the garbage," he explained. "They're wrong. They're scavengers."

He is for the clean plate principle only if the portions are of modest size.

Dr. Jolliffe conceded that many of us lack willpower to stick to a reducing diet. To curb over-eating tendencies, he suggested a 50-calorie snack in the daily calorie allowance. Eaten 30 minutes before mealtime, a non-fattening snack is as effective in controlling appetites as commercial depressants, he said. A meal that starts with low-calorie foods and lasts at least half an hour also helps, he added. In other words, pace the meal—don't gobble.

Habitual dieters who repeatedly lose and regain 15 to 20 pounds are living dangerously, he said, because this practice raises blood cholesterol more than if they maintained excess poundage at that level.

Dr. Jolliffe's clinic provides suggested menu plans for overweight adults adapted to each patient's individual needs. General diet instructions give wide latitude in food selection but insist upon at least five fish meals weekly. Forty-nine vegetables are allowed, 28 of them in unlimited amounts without fat, sauces or salad oil dressing. Meat, fish and poultry selections number 54.

A joy killer regime? Not really, because herbs and spices are allowed without limit and even Jolliffe's list of 38 "forbidden" foods and beverages is conditional upon advice from each patient's doctor or nutritionist.

The taboo items range from alcoholic beverages and avocados to waffles, and include bacon, back fat, butter, chocolate, cream, gravy, mayonnaise, muffins, pancakes, popcorn, potato chips and pretzels.

The days are growing longer, says the calendar. But almost any mother knows it's wrong; these first days of summer have wings! If there just isn't time free for your own luncheon, do take a minute out for a glass of Instant HEMO . . . this delicious chocolate drink is truly energy-giving; rich in B-vitamins, minerals and iron, it is a wonderful stop-gap in a busy day.

"And Mo-other, the cake was pink, with yellow roses!" Children love color—who doesn't? And it is so easy to tint cakes, puddings, ice cream, with SCHILLING Food Colors. A handy chart on the SCHILLING package of four colors shows how to mix 12 shades to brighten everyday food. Try rose-colored rice on hard-to-please Susie; watch her appetite perk up!

Want to treat the family to a delicious new dish tonight? Serve SWANSON'S Fried Shrimp TV Dinner . . . it contains big, crisp shrimp, golden-brown and tender, potatoes and green peas, with a dish of tangy cocktail sauce for dipping. Just heat the foil-wrapped container as directed on the label: a wonderful new menu, and no dishes, no pots and pans to wash after dinner!

Peas and onions go so well together it's a joy to buy them ready to enjoy—tender GREEN GIANT Peas with Onions. Just heat them and add butter, if you like, cooking down the juice to a rich sauce, or add a white sauce for extra goodness. For a complete main dish, stir in sliced, hard-cooked eggs and pimiento, and serve in patty shells or biscuits.

Eating outdoors is a happy custom (even apartment-dwellers with sun-decks do it). And here's a dish you can cook on a small grill. Cut up 2 fryer chickens and place on 8 sheets of KAISER Quilted Broiler Foil. Top with slices of sweet potato, pineapple, green pepper, add butter, season, seal and grill over medium heat. Serve each guest his own packaged meal.

Wondering what to serve at a shower luncheon? Ham and Mushrooms is easy to prepare, always good to eat. For 8 persons, combine two cups cooked ham cut into thin strips, and two 4-oz. cans KEYSTONE Mushrooms. Add the mushroom juice to four cups rich cream sauce and stir in ham and mushrooms; heat all together. Serve over corn bread or hot waffles.

The well-dressed salad, like a well-dressed lady, does not require fancy decoration! Crisp greens, a sliced tomato for color, a bit of garlic, then STAR Olive Oil and a sprinkle of vinegar, will please a gourmet. For STAR Olive Oil really dresses a salad; it is a light oil which enhances the flavor of other foods, and makes them taste even better in salads or cooked form.

Remember when KLEENEX Facial Tissues were a purely feminine accessory? Then males discovered how useful they are—in a pocket, at a desk, in cars, on camping trips. But they are a necessity on dressing tables and in purses; KLEENEX Tissues, in color, harmonize with bathroom, bedroom and other color schemes. I like to keep a box of KLEENEX in every room.

That's all for now! See you next week!

We Must Make Clear What Composes Our Bone, Sinew

Being just 100 years old ourselves, we are unusually interested in things that happened a century ago.

Just 100 years ago today, Seth Kinman of Humboldt County completed manufacture of a chair made from elkhorns for presentation to Louis Napoleon "as a speciment of what the bone and sinew of California can do."

Today things are different. Today our President is in France himself, detailing for General DeGaulle not "the bone and sinew" of California, but the "bone and sinew" of the United States and how we are willing to use it.

We hope he is firm and explicit. And that he gets more firm and more explicit as he leaves the general and goes on to Vienna for his talks with Nikita Khrushchev.

Personal diplomacy can not solve the problems of the world today. Neither can old style secret diplomacy. What is needed is a combination of the two backed up by affirmative actions to show that what we are saying, either in private or public, is what we really mean.

For this reason personal diplomacy at the highest levels does some good. It brings the leaders face to face so they can see for themselves who they are dealing with. They can get their own impressions and determine for themselves the calibre of the other leaders.

That is why we hope President Kennedy will be firm and explicit. He should make it clear that there are areas in which we will negotiate—and there are areas in which we will not negotiate, our background and way of life, our basic beliefs and desires will not permit us to negotiate in some areas. These have to do with liberty, equality and the rights of the individual to determine his own destiny. And they must be applied in specific overseas cases as we apply them here at home.

These are the basic ingredients of the "bone and sinew" of the United States of America. These are the ingredients of what we offer and demand for the peoples of all the world.

That New Puppy

As vacation time approaches, many Marin parents may be thinking about buying a dog for their children. This is the ideal time because the puppy can be outside much of the day—thus simplifying the housebreaking routine.

One important thing to remember when picking a pooch for the kids is that old saw—it isn't the cost, it's the upkeep. Look into the lineage of your puppy before you buy. That cute little puppy may grow into a St. Bernard-sized chow hound.

Even experts often miss their guess when it comes to mixed breeds. And feeding Skipper has become more difficult and expensive since we were children.

Buy that puppy, of course. But make sure what you are getting. A Shetland pony in an apartment is not very handy —no matter how lovable.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

AN ORDERLY THIEF

A restaurant owner in Honolulu had a few kind words for a burglar who raided his establishment six times in one month.

The proprietor admitted that the culprit "cut pie with professional neatness, washed his silverware after using it, and always replaced opened fruit juice cans in the refrigerator."

Orderliness in a thief does not make him a paragon of virtue. But it is a slight proof of the lingering goodness in lawbreakers.

God Himself creates every human being He sends into the world in His own image. No force on earth can entirely eliminate that divine imprint. Nor can the neglect and abuse of this gift by man himself completely efface it.

This basic goodness in man can be a starting point for his regeneration and redemption. You will perform a Godlike work if you strive patiently to revive, renew and build the divine fire hidden in thieves and every other evil doer.

Help me, O Holy Spirit, to find the good in even the worst of men.

INTERIOR DECORATOR SAYS:

Don't Ever Put A Red Sofa Next To A Mosaic-Topped Table

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI)—"You take one of those multicolored, mosaic-topped coffee tables, set it in front of a red sofa and you know why most people need an interior decorator."

This is interior decorator Marion L. Heuer's way of saying that most women don't know how to pick furniture for size, color and what goes with what.

She likes mosaic-topped tables, "but not with anything bright red, particularly a sofa that's too big to be red anyway," she said.

One of the best-known interior decorators in the Midwest, Mrs. Heuer believes that most women know a beautiful piece of furniture, like the mosaic-topped table, when they see one.

"The trouble is that most women spot two or three beautiful pieces when they go shopping and try to put them in the same room," she said. "Individually, the pieces may be gracious, but together, they may look as bad as the mosaic-topped table and red sofa."

Mrs. Heuer has found that most persons have just as much difficulty picking the right size and color furniture.

"Young newlyweds, in particular, have trouble selecting furniture for size," she said. "Their apartments are smaller than their parents' homes and they need lighter, smaller furniture . . . Yet the first thing most of them buy is a monstrous breakfront or a jumbo coffee table."

Even more women use color indiscriminately, Mrs. Heuer said.

"The big, upholstered pieces in any room should be about the same color as the walls," she said. "This gives them the appearance of receding into the walls and makes them look less massive."

MRS. HEUER SUGGESTED furnishing a home on a budget, but she advised a budget for a whole room rather than for each of the individual pieces.

She suggested that most women could use the advice of a decorator on this subject of where to splurge and where to skimp.

"IT COSTS NOTHING extra for a decorator's services," she said. Instead of charging a fee, the decorator generally buys furniture wholesale and sells it retail.

"And good decorators never try to sell you too much furniture," Mrs. Heuer said. "They couldn't stay in business that way."

Supervisors Should Abdicate Posts

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The supervisors were indeed patient and polite to such dedicated and competent organizations as the League of Women Voters, and many others, before them calmly abolished the county administrator's office. So no one can complain of being abused — unless it is the average Marin voter, and he doesn't exist under this apportionment of vote system we have here.

But I have another suggestion, with which William Fusselman should sympathize, and that is to keep the county administrator to run this 12 million dollar business (an efficient government is like an efficient business, you know) and vacate the supervisors' chairs, at least temporarily so that we can determine, like in a referendum, whether the people of the county really are convinced we can afford them.

Come to think of it, this should appeal to Walter Blair, who campaigned against extravagance and for elimination of all unnecessary cost.

I'm sure these two gentlemen know far more about this than I do, but I must confess to some uneasiness as to whether we really do have REPRESENTATIVE government.

That vote against the county administrator was carried by San Anselmo and Mill Valley (with the thoughtful addition of a "swing man") against San Rafael and Novato, the rather consistent alignment which I'm sure must be for our own good.

But with our own good so firmly recorded, what a priceless opportunity this would be for our peerless majority to obligate for all time those prudent ones who fear the corruption and naivete of all metropolitan government.

Yes, indeed, the abdication of the Board of Supervisors would be approved by a majority, if I add right, and on far firmer grounds than so many of their 3 to 2 decisions.

Cuban Invasion Planned To Fail?

Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of May 19 titled "We Need to Know What's Going On BEFORE It Happens" expressed some questions in regard to our Central Intelligence Agency and some other questions about our unknown foreign policy.

Allow me to agree with you in your views and to go one step further in raising the question, "Is it possible that the invasion of Cuba was a predetermined failure?"

It is hard to believe that our military men with their excellent training could bungle to this extent.

Who's To Say Shotless Wrong?

Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of May 24, regarding polio shots, startled me, to say the least. The idea that the people shall do as they are told to do, voluntarily, or they will be made to do it by "Big Brother" (your words) who is supposed to know just what is best for the people, is completely repugnant to me.

I was especially disturbed because I had just finished examining and browsing through a book my daughter is reading for English entitled, "1984," written by George Orwell, and your choice of the name "Big Brother" was unfortunate. For this is the title of the totalitarian head as depicted in Mr. Orwell's book who proceeded to impress his ideas on the people because he "knew what was good for them" and to make them like it, and even to come to LOVE him for it.

The methods he used to this end were revolting, sickening and frightening. And it looks like it could happen here if the people let the idea of bureaucracy, or any other group, dictate to them, under the guise of benevolence.

Right today Senate Bill 1515 would take away from the people the right to decide themselves whether or not the public water supply should be fluoridated and to put such decision in the hands of "those who know what is best." You stated that it's easy to imagine this as beginning a whole category of prescribed medical requirements—all because everyone didn't voluntarily get his polio shots—and you are so right.

And that is why there is such a large segment of people in this country who are jealous of their freedom to choose their own medicine and who are greatly concerned over the repeated attempts to deprive us of that right.

You also stated that less than half of Marin's population is vaccinated against polio. This indicates that there are over half of the people in Marin County who VOLUNTARILY did not get polo shots. Now who is to say that they are wrong? After all, voluntary is not synonymous with totality.

Khrushchev Can Thaw Cold War By Inviting Kennedy To Russia

He can re-extend the invitation to the President of the United States to visit the Soviet Union as a return courtesy for his tour of America. Khrushchev can make it possible for Kennedy to accept this invitation by making coexistence more peaceful in Laos, South Vietnam, and Berlin, and by negotiating seriously for a nuclear test ban.

OBVIOUSLY KENNEDY cannot visit the Soviet Union while the Kremlin is abetting aggression in Southeast Asia, pointing a gun at West Berlin, and applying a pocket-veto to test-ban inspection.

The U. S. experts who think that Khrushchev wants to reduce tensions might be right. But the test will not be what Mr. K. says, but what he does.

You will recall that in the fall of 1959 the Soviet Premier had the privilege of a long trip across the United States with many opportunities to present his views to the American people through the press, television, and radio.

THESE THINGS take time to work out. The President could not go on such a journey until Congress has adjourned. Perhaps this fall would be the right moment—if Khrushchev wishes co-existence to be more peaceful.

Since Mr. K. has already accepted U. S. hospitality, he must wish—or, at least, expect—to extend Soviet hospitality to the President.

Will Khrushchev act to bring about such a visit by Kennedy?

It will be interesting to see what happens. I know that President Eisenhower always believed—and still does—that the Kremlin used the U-2 incident as an excuse to withdraw the invitation because it couldn't tolerate letting Eisenhower have the kind of access to the Russian people that Khrushchev had to the American people — speeches to large audiences nearly every night, full texts in the press, continuous radio and television coverage, and a half-dozen major addresses over the networks.

NATURALLY IT would be obligatory for the Soviets to extend the same courtesies and facilities to Kennedy in Russia.

If Mr. K. does not expect this cultural exchange at the summit to be entirely a one-way street, may it not be timely for him soon to switch the red light, turned against Eisenhower last year, to a green light for Kennedy?

Parents Increasing Their Fight Against Life Adjustment Courses

A group of San Rafael parents—whose number seems to be steadily increasing — are demanding that certain courses be removed from seventh, eighth and ninth grade courses of study in the San Rafael Elementary and High School Districts.

The group has trained its sights on these particular courses: "life adjustment" courses in seventh and eighth grades; "freshman orientation" and "exploratory language" in the ninth grade.

"LIFE ADJUSTMENT" is taught for two periods a week at Davidson School. During the same period on two other days, the pupils have what are called "activities" — school paper, year book, Spanish club, etc. The fifth day, a class meeting is held.

At the other San Rafael District junior high school—Santa Venetia—the setup is slightly different, with only one period a week given to "life adjustment," according to Principal Lawrence Geiger.

WHAT IS "life adjustment"?

It is many things, apparently; but all of them come under the general heading of "manners and morals" which the state law requires. It may be—and is—anything from good table manners to sex instruction. Much is devoted to "getting along with people."

At Davidson School, teachers use a series of paperbacks issued by Science Research Associates as texts. Some of these are used also at Santa Venetia, but Geiger says some have been eliminated.

At neither school are these books issued to the pupils. At Davidson, they are available to pupils in the library. At Santa Venetia, they are not.

The parent group objects to "life adjustment" as a waste of time, to an attempt by the schools, through such courses, to invade areas outside the school's jurisdiction, particularly parental authority, and to some of the Science Research Associates series.

THE CITIZENS Committee on Education, appointed pursuant to an act of the legislature, made similar objection to such courses. It proposed "life adjustment" be thrown out of California public schools entirely.

"Freshman orientation" is a sort of catch-all course. It includes an extension of the "life adjustment" courses; five weeks of driver education, required by state law somewhere in the high school, and a course in world geography.

It is compulsory at San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools because of the driver education.

THE PARENTS propose the course be thrown out, that world geography be given as a full year's course (not compulsory), and that driver education be given at perhaps the 11th grade level, when the pupils are old enough to get learners' licenses to drive.

"Exploratory language" is supposed to be for eighth grade graduates who are "not yet ready" to take a foreign language. In fact, it appears to be for eighth grade graduates who are weak in English. Part of the course is given over to "boning up" on English grammar; part is an "introduction" to several foreign languages.

The parents feel the schools should give sufficient grammar during the first eight grades so the pupil can cope with a foreign language. They also feel a "bonehead English" course should not masquerade as a foreign language course.

Further, they feel that foreign language should be started at a lower grade level, and that "exploratory language" puts off a start on it for some students still another year, thus preventing their getting four years of foreign language in high school.

THE PARENTS have run up against (1) the natural resistance to change; (2) a feeling by some board of education members that the parents are trying to "force something down our throats," and (3) the hypersensitiveness always displayed by school people toward any criticism. So far, there has been no attempt by board or administrator to debate the merits—or lack of merits — of the courses attacked.

The San Rafael Board of Education has set for June 13 a report by it administrative staff on the courses under fire. The next round will be fought then.

REP. MILLER REPORTS

Vanishing Natural Resources A Problem

By
REP. CLEMENT W. MILLER

WASHINGTON—In the day-to-day competitive scramble here for attention and money, problems of the future too often end up being ignored.

For example, look at our vanishing natural resources. As one case history, consider our remarkable flights of migratory ducks and geese.

Migratory waterfowl is still among America's great natural resources. But today it's a vanishing resource. And tomorrow it will be gone unless we face up to the problem today. Tomorrow will be too late.

Our ducks and geese are vanishing because of the encroachment of civilization on the "wetlands" — the marshes and tidelands which are the breeding habitat for waterfowl.

Unless a certain minimum of wetlands can be saved before they are drained or polluted, the great migratory flights one day will be no more. Not just the sportsman, but all who love the out-of-doors, will have lost something of incalculable value.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has responsibilities for migratory ducks and geese because of their interstate travels. Back in 1934 the Fish and Wildlife Service set a goal of seven and one-half million acres of wetlands to be acquired for waterfowl refuges and breeding areas. This was considered a minimum for conservation of the resource.

Today, less than half of that acreage is protected.

Three years ago, at the request of sportsmen, Congress increased the fee for the migratory-bird hunting stamp from two dollars to three dollars and provided that all net proceeds would be used to acquire needed wetlands. This was a big step forward, but it had hardly gone into effect before its inadequacies became apparent.

Because of the accelerating destruction of wetlands, the numbers of ducks and geese have fallen off rapidly in recent years. As a result, hunting has become poorer and fewer hunters have bought fewer duck stamps. Consequently, the wherewithal to acquire wetlands is lagging. This, in turn, is causing even poorer hunting and even lower stamp receipts and a further lag in the wetlands program.

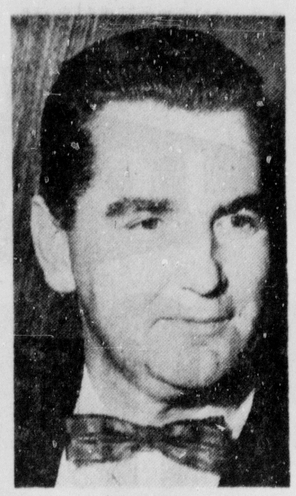
At the present rate we would have to wait 30 years to acquire the necessary wetlands at the $40 an acre which is estimated current average cost. But, as a practical matter, under the present arrangement we will never acquire enough wetlands for two reasons: rising land costs are pricing the Fish and Wildlife Service out of the market, and the present inadequate duck stamp receipts are continuing to fall off.

It has become apparent that what is needed—if we are to save the resource—is a crash program.

Such a program is now before Congress in the form of legislation of which I am a co-sponsor.

We propose acquiring the necessary minimum wetlands over the next 10 years. Our bill would authorize a loan program to pay for this, the loan to be repaid from duck stamp sales thereafter. By saving the wetlands now, we would be creating the means to repay the loan. It would work not unlike a revenue bond issue to finance a city water system.

Space and missile system research in 1962 will account for more than half of the total military research and development budget.



TO NEW YORK — J. Keith Thwaites, 203 Hillside Drive, Mill Valley, who recently resigned as executive director of the California Heart Assn., will leave with his wife and daughter next week for New York to take over as program coordinator for the American Heart Assn.

Steals Police Car

CHATTANOOGA (AP) —Grady Smith, 19, was given 11 months and 29 days in the workhouse to ponder whether stealing cars pays — especially police cars. Smith pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a patrol car from a lot behind police headquarters.

Governor Confident U. S. Will Spend Harbor Money

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today expressed confidence that Congress will approve a $300,000 appropriation for improvements to the Santa Cruz Harbor.

The governor announced the support of Rep. Michael J. Kirwan (D-Ohio), chairman of the public works subcommittee of the House Appropriations committee for the appropriation.

"That is good enough for me," Brown said in a press statement. "I am confident that with his support this money will be made available for the Santa Cruz Project which is so vital to the people and industry of that area."

Liberia, presently celebrating 114 years of independence, was the only republic in all of Africa more than a century.

Mrs. Kennedy Tells French Video Viewers Husband Can't Relax

PARIS (UPI)—Jacqueline Kennedy has confided to French television viewers that her husband is not a man who likes to relax, even in his famous rocking chair.

On May 10, Mrs. Kennedy filmed an interview with the French TV network which was broadcast throughout France yesterday preparatory to the arrival of the Kennedys in Paris today.

Speaking in French, the First Lady in answering questions, said of the President, "He never relaxes in his rocking chair, he works. He never relaxes."

The French interviewer thought the chief executive might ease the tensions of his high office by working cross word puzzles, but Mrs. Kennedy said no.

"He reads a lot and he likes to play with his children, but he's not a man who likes to relax," she said.

Among other comments by the First Lady about her husband and life in the White House —

And concerning her plans to send Caroline, now 3, to school ouptside White House when she's 5 or 6, "I cannot keep her here as the small prisoner of the tower.

Change In Motor Freight Rates Hasn't Given Anticipated Relief

The recent change in motor freight rates effective May 23 from points in southern and central Marin County to Arizona and New Mexico has not served to give the straight across-the-board reduction for local shippers that was anticipated.

Patrick W. Pollock of San Anselmo, senior traffic analyst for Fibreboard Paper Products Corp. in San Francisco has pointed out that the newly allowed arbitrariies of 73 cents per 100 pounds in less than truckload lots and 46 cents per 100 pounds on truckloads which are now applied in addition to the rates from San Francisco to Arizona and New Mexico will effect a saving only in weight brackets under 4,000 pounds.

From 4,000 and up, increases have resulted from 11 to 49 cents per 100 pounds and at 27 cents per 100 pounds in truckload shipments over previous rates, except among carriers not participating in the Inter-State Freight Carriers Conference.

So far it has not been determined what local shippers will be affected but Carroll A. Snyker of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation has promised an investigation of remedies available.

BOOKSHOP-MARIN, 928A Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, a rental library also engaged in book and greeting card sales, has been purchased by Mrs. Lewis G. Carpenter Jr., 33 Evergreen Drive, Kent Woodlands. She is being assisted by Mrs. Margaret Gray Hayden of Kent Woodlands.

Former owner Mrs. Florence C. Patterson has moved to Oregon.

ACCORDING to Russell H. Papenhausen, former commodore of the Sausalito Cruising Club, if the Sausalito Planning Commission looks favorably upon the project, the club will convert an old barge berthed near the foot of Napa and Locust Streets for its new headquarters.

The barge with dimensions of 31 by 110 feet will be self-contained and movable from one spot to another.

The club has been holding its meetings at the IDESST Hall, 511 Caledonia Street, Sausalito.

ARRANGEMENT for the William H. McDevitt Building Co. to take over the complete planning, financing, construction, leasing and landscaping of Mill Valley's new United Market in a one price deal is a highly satisfactory one for the Saccones.

"That way," says Ben Saccone, president of the Marin food firm, "we can concentrate on our own business—groceries, not building—and let McDevitt worry about the details and getting the market ready for occupancy in record time."

KEN LANDAGE, the Thrifty Drug manager at the Corte Madera Shopping Center, must hold some kind of record for commuting in Marin County.

The other morning he opened up the store, then flew to Los Angeles for a meeting at the chain's head office, flew back in the afternoon and closed up shop after the day's business.

BOB DEALY, 925 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera has been appointed the new gardener at the shopping center, according to Frank Rusalem, president of the Madera Gardens Development Co.

Marin Cities Receive $255,000 In Gas Tax

Marin County cities have received $255,063.28 as their share of state gas tax revenues apportioned to California cities for city street work during the fiscal year ending June 30.

A record total of $33,812,485.46 was apportioned to the 372 incorporated cities, State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack announced.

Largest share in Marin County—$55,502.56—went to San Rafael. Other apportionments: Novato, $33,745.11; San Anselmo, $34,922.65; Mill Valley, $31,139.67; Corte Madera, $17,717.50; Sausalito, $16,542.71; Larkspur, $16,412.18; Fairfax, $15,776.16; Ross, $7,430; Belvedere, $5,874.74.

Hairy Ear May Hold Clue To Race Mystery

NEW YORK (UPI)—If scientists around the world investigating men whose ears sprout hair they might penetrate some of the mysteries surrounding the origins of the existing races of human beings.

Dr. K. R. Dronamraju, the genetics scientist who urged such a world-wide investigation upon his colleagues, encouraged them with an example of what he himself had done with hairy ears.

By statistical analysis of hairy and non-hairy ears among present-day men, he found suggestive evidence in support of the legend that Ceylon was colonized from Bengal in India about 2,500 years ago.

Scientifically hairy human ears have more or less slumbered since 1907 when the geneticist, C. Tommasi, theorized that they were in inherited characteristic and were inherited through a gene linked to the "Y" chromosome.

This meant (if the theory was correct) that it would be impossible for women to have them since women have no "Y" chromosome. Two "X" chromosomes make a female but if takes a "Y" added to an "X" to make a male.

Dronamraju investigated the ears in his own family. He is an Indian, and India's races are not only very ancient but have been stable in the one place for a very long time. This means genetic clues to origins are easier to come by than in less stable races.

In the Dronamraju family pedigree covering 181 persons of seven generations he showed that hairy ears were not only inherited but inherited only by males.

In West Bengal 16 per cent of 150 pairs of male ears sprouted hair, especially along their outer rims. In various parts of Ceylon the percentage of 414 scattered pairs ranged from 32.1 to 43.3.

This was "statistically significant," as he emphasized. It indicated that long, long ago males from what now is West Bengal went to Ceylon taking their "Y" chromosome-linked hair ear gene with them.

The more scientific question raised by Dronamraju's ear investigations were: Is there any place in the world where all men have hairy ears? Answers to the question could tell a lot about where people came from.

Today is Wednesday, May 31, the 151st day of the year with 214 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter, Venus and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars and Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1819, American poet Walt Whitman was born.

In 1889, Johnstown, Pa. suffered a disastrous flood in which more than two thousand persons died.

In 1902, Great Britain and South Africa signed a treaty of peace ending the Boer War.

In 1910, the Union of South Africa was founded.

A thought for today: Walt Whitman said: "Liberty is to be subserved whatever occurs."

We Must Make Clear What Composes Our Bone, Sinew

Being just 100 years old ourselves, we are unusually interested in things that happened a century ago.

Just 100 years ago today, Seth Kinman of Humboldt County completed manufacture of a chair made from elkhorns for presentation to Louis Napoleon "as a speciment of what the bone and sinew of California can do."

Today things are different. Today our President is in France himself, detailing for General DeGaulle not "the bone and sinew" of California, but the "bone and sinew" of the United States and how we are willing to use it.

We hope he is firm and explicit. And that he gets more firm and more explicit as he leaves the general and goes on to Vienna for his talks with Nikita Khrushchev.

Personal diplomacy can not solve the problems of the world today. Neither can old style secret diplomacy. What is needed is a combination of the two backed up by affirmative actions to show that what we are saying, either in private or public, is what we really mean.

For this reason personal diplomacy at the highest levels does some good. It brings the leaders face to face so they can see for themselves who they are dealing with. They can get their own impressions and determine for themselves the calibre of the other leaders.

That is why we hope President Kennedy will be firm and explicit. He should make it clear that there are areas in which we will negotiate—and there are areas in which we will not negotiate, our background and way of life, our basic beliefs and desires will not permit us to negotiate in some areas. These have to do with liberty, equality and the rights of the individual to determine his own destiny. And they must be applied in specific overseas cases as we apply them here at home.

These are the basic ingredients of the "bone and sinew" of the United States of America. These are the ingredients of what we offer and demand for the peoples of all the world.

That New Puppy

As vacation time approaches, many Marin parents may be thinking about buying a dog for their children. This is the ideal time because the puppy can be outside much of the day—thus simplifying the housebreaking routine.

One important thing to remember when picking a pooch for the kids is that old saw—it isn't the cost, it's the upkeep. Look into the lineage of your puppy before you buy. That cute little puppy may grow into a St. Bernard-sized chow hound.

Even experts often miss their guess when it comes to mixed breeds. And feeding Skipper has become more difficult and expensive since we were children.

Buy that puppy, of course. But make sure what you are getting. A Shetland pony in an apartment is not very handy —no matter how lovable.

AN ORDERLY THIEF

A restaurant owner in Honolulu had a few kind words for a burglar who raided his establishment six times in one month.

The proprietor admitted that the culprit "cut pie with professional neatness, washed his silverware after using it, and always replaced opened fruit juice cans in the refrigerator."

Orderliness in a thief does not make him a paragon of virtue. But it is a slight proof of the lingering goodness in lawbreakers.

God Himself creates every human being He sends into the world in His own image. No force on earth can entirely eliminate that divine imprint. Nor can the neglect and abuse of this gift by man himself completely efface it.

This basic goodness in man can be a starting point for his regeneration and redemption. You will perform a Godlike work if you strive patiently to revive, renew and build the divine fire hidden in thieves and every other evil doer.

Help me, O Holy Spirit, to find the good in even the worst of men.

INTERIOR DECORATOR SAYS:

Don't Ever Put A Red Sofa Next To A Mosaic-Topped Table

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI)—"You take one of those multicolored, mosaic-topped coffee tables, set it in front of a red sofa and you know why most people need an interior decorator."

This is interior decorator Marion L. Heuer's way of saying that most women don't know how to pick furniture for size, color and what goes with what.

She likes mosaic-topped tables, "but not with anything bright red, particularly a sofa that's too big to be red anyway," she said.

One of the best-known interior decorators in the Midwest, Mrs. Heuer believes that most women know a beautiful piece of furniture, like the mosaic-topped table, when they see one.

"The trouble is that most women spot two or three beautiful pieces when they go shopping and try to put them in the same room," she said. "Individually, the pieces may be gracious, but together, they may look as bad as the mosaic-topped table and red sofa."

Mrs. Heuer has found that most persons have just as much difficulty picking the right size and color furniture.

"Young newlyweds, in particular, have trouble selecting furniture for size," she said. "Their apartments are smaller than their parents' homes and they need lighter, smaller furniture . . . Yet the first thing most of them buy is a monstrous breakfront or a jumbo coffee table."

Even more women use color indiscriminately, Mrs. Heuer said.

"The big, upholstered pieces in any room should be about the same color as the walls," she said. "This gives them the appearance of receding into the walls and makes them look less massive."

MRS. HEUER SUGGESTED furnishing a home on a budget, but she advised a budget for a whole room rather than for each of the individual pieces.

She suggested that most women could use the advice of a decorator on this subject of where to splurge and where to skimp.

"IT COSTS NOTHING extra for a decorator's services," she said. Instead of charging a fee, the decorator generally buys furniture wholesale and sells it retail.

"And good decorators never try to sell you too much furniture," Mrs. Heuer said. "They couldn't stay in business that way."

Supervisors Should Abdicate Posts

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The supervisors were indeed patient and polite to such dedicated and competent organizations as the League of Women Voters, and many others, before them calmly abolished the county administrator's office. So no one can complain of being abused — unless it is the average Marin voter, and he doesn't exist under this apportionment of vote system we have here.

But I have another suggestion, with which William Fusselman should sympathize, and that is to keep the county administrator to run this 12 million dollar business (an efficient government is like an efficient business, you know) and vacate the supervisors' chairs, at least temporarily so that we can determine, like in a referendum, whether the people of the county really are convinced we can afford them.

Come to think of it, this should appeal to Walter Blair, who campaigned against extravagance and for elimination of all unnecessary cost.

I'm sure these two gentlemen know far more about this than I do, but I must confess to some uneasiness as to whether we really do have REPRESENTATIVE government.

That vote against the county administrator was carried by San Anselmo and Mill Valley (with the thoughtful addition of a "swing man") against San Rafael and Novato, the rather consistent alignment which I'm sure must be for our own good.

But with our own good so firmly recorded, what a priceless opportunity this would be for our peerless majority to obligate for all time those prudent ones who fear the corruption and naivete of all metropolitan government.

Yes, indeed, the abdication of the Board of Supervisors would be approved by a majority, if I add right, and on far firmer grounds than so many of their 3 to 2 decisions.

Cuban Invasion Planned To Fail?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of May 19 titled "We Need to Know What's Going On BEFORE It Happens" expressed some questions in regard to our Central Intelligence Agency and some other questions about our unknown foreign policy.

Allow me to agree with you in your views and to go one step further in raising the question, "Is it possible that the invasion of Cuba was a predetermined failure?"

It is hard to believe that our military men with their excellent training could bungle to this extent.

Who's To Say Shotless Wrong?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of May 24, regarding polio shots, startled me, to say the least. The idea that the people shall do as they are told to do, voluntarily, or they will be made to do it by "Big Brother" (your words) who is supposed to know just what is best for the people, is completely repugnant to me.

I was especially disturbed because I had just finished examining and browsing through a book my daughter is reading for English entitled, "1984," written by George Orwell, and your choice of the name "Big Brother" was unfortunate. For this is the title of the totalitarian head as depicted in Mr. Orwell's book who proceeded to impress his ideas on the people because he "knew what was good for them" and to make them like it, and even to come to LOVE him for it.

The methods he used to this end were revolting, sickening and frightening. And it looks like it could happen here if the people let the idea of bureaucracy, or any other group, dictate to them, under the guise of benevolence.

Right today Senate Bill 1515 would take away from the people the right to decide themselves whether or not the public water supply should be fluoridated and to put such decision in the hands of "those who know what is best." You stated that it's easy to imagine this as beginning a whole category of prescribed medical requirements—all because everyone didn't voluntarily get his polio shots—and you are so right.

And that is why there is such a large segment of people in this country who are jealous of their freedom to choose their own medicine and who are greatly concerned over the repeated attempts to deprive us of that right.

You also stated that less than half of Marin's population is vaccinated against polio. This indicates that there are over half of the people in Marin County who VOLUNTARILY did not get polo shots. Now who is to say that they are wrong? After all, voluntary is not synonymous with totality.

Residents of Woodacre sought permission to turn the west part of the abandoned Bothin railroad tunnel into an air-raid shelter.

Capt. H. R. Searles of Mill Valley sought from his city council, without success, answers to questions as to need for a municipal bus system to San Francisco and what revenues might be expected.

Khrushchev Can Thaw Cold War By Inviting Kennedy To Russia

If this judgment is correct, there is one thing Khrushchev can do to bring it about:

He can re-extend the invitation to the President of the United States to visit the Soviet Union as a return courtesy for his tour of America. Khrushchev can make it possible for Kennedy to accept this invitation by making coexistence more peaceful in Laos, South Vietnam, and Berlin, and by negotiating seriously for a nuclear test ban.

OBVIOUSLY KENNEDY cannot visit the Soviet Union while the Kremlin is abetting aggression in Southeast Asia, pointing a gun at West Berlin, and applying a pocket-veto to test-ban inspection.

The U. S. experts who think that Khrushchev wants to reduce tensions might be right. But the test will not be what Mr. K. says, but what he does.

You will recall that in the fall of 1959 the Soviet Premier had the privilege of a long trip across the United States with many opportunities to present his views to the American people through the press, television, and radio.

THESE THINGS take time to work out. The President could not go on such a journey until Congress has adjourned. Perhaps this fall would be the right moment—if Khrushchev wishes co-existence to be more peaceful.

Since Mr. K. has already accepted U. S. hospitality, he must wish—or, at least, expect—to extend Soviet hospitality to the President.

Will Khrushchev act to bring about such a visit by Kennedy?

It will be interesting to see what happens. I know that President Eisenhower always believed—and still does—that the Kremlin used the U-2 incident as an excuse to withdraw the invitation because it couldn't tolerate letting Eisenhower have the kind of access to the Russian people that Khrushchev had to the American people — speeches to large audiences nearly every night, full texts in the press, continuous radio and television coverage, and a half-dozen major addresses over the networks.

NATURALLY IT would be obligatory for the Soviets to extend the same courtesies and facilities to Kennedy in Russia.

If Mr. K. does not expect this cultural exchange at the summit to be entirely a one-way street, may it not be timely for him soon to switch the red light, turned against Eisenhower last year, to a green light for Kennedy?

Parents Increasing Their Fight Against Life Adjustment Courses

A group of San Rafael parents—whose number seems to be steadily increasing — are demanding that certain courses be removed from seventh, eighth and ninth grade courses of study in the San Rafael Elementary and High School Districts.

The group has trained its sights on these particular courses: "life adjustment" courses in seventh and eighth grades; "freshman orientation" and "exploratory language" in the ninth grade.

"LIFE ADJUSTMENT" is taught for two periods a week at Davidson School. During the same period on two other days, the pupils have what are called "activities" — school paper, year book, Spanish club, etc. The fifth day, a class meeting is held.

At the other San Rafael District junior high school—Santa Venetia—the setup is slightly different, with only one period a week given to "life adjustment," according to Principal Lawrence Geiger.

WHAT IS "life adjustment"?

It is many things, apparently; but all of them come under the general heading of "manners and morals" which the state law requires. It may be—and is—anything from good table manners to sex instruction. Much is devoted to "getting along with people."

At Davidson School, teachers use a series of paperbacks issued by Science Research Associates as texts. Some of these are used also at Santa Venetia, but Geiger says some have been eliminated.

At neither school are these books issued to the pupils. At Davidson, they are available to pupils in the library. At Santa Venetia, they are not.

The parent group objects to "life adjustment" as a waste of time, to an attempt by the schools, through such courses, to invade areas outside the school's jurisdiction, particularly parental authority, and to some of the Science Research Associates series.

THE CITIZENS Committee on Education, appointed pursuant to an act of the legislature, made similar objection to such courses. It proposed "life adjustment" be thrown out of California public schools entirely.

"Freshman orientation" is a sort of catch-all course. It includes an extension of the "life adjustment" courses; five weeks of driver education, required by state law somewhere in the high school, and a course in world geography.

It is compulsory at San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools because of the driver education.

THE PARENTS propose the course be thrown out, that world geography be given as a full year's course (not compulsory), and that driver education be given at perhaps the 11th grade level, when the pupils are old enough to get learners' licenses to drive.

"Exploratory language" is supposed to be for eighth grade graduates who are "not yet ready" to take a foreign language. In fact, it appears to be for eighth grade graduates who are weak in English. Part of the course is given over to "boning up" on English grammar; part is an "introduction" to several foreign languages.

The parents feel the schools should give sufficient grammar during the first eight grades so the pupil can cope with a foreign language. They also feel a "bonehead English" course should not masquerade as a foreign language course.

Further, they feel that foreign language should be started at a lower grade level, and that "exploratory language" puts off a start on it for some students still another year, thus preventing their getting four years of foreign language in high school.

THE PARENTS have run up against (1) the natural resistance to change; (2) a feeling by some board of education members that the parents are trying to "force something down our throats," and (3) the hypersensitiveness always displayed by school people toward any criticism. So far, there has been no attempt by board or administrator to debate the merits—or lack of merits — of the courses attacked.

The San Rafael Board of Education has set for June 13 a report by it administrative staff on the courses under fire. The next round will be fought then.

Interpreter Dies On Eve Of Big Parley

OYSTER BAY, N. Y. (UPI) — Nicholas Orloff, 66, former chief interpreter for the United Nations, died of a heart attack here yesterday shortly before his scheduled departure for Vienna to help cover the Khrushchev-Kennedy summit meeting for the American Broadcasting Co.

Orloff was an interpreter with the United Nations from its first meeting in 1946 until his retirement as deputy chief of the interpreting section in 1956.

He has since worked as a free lance U. N. interpreter and covered Khrushchev's two visits to the United States for ABC.

Orloff's interpretations of the Russian premier's salty remarks often have been favored over those of the official Soviet translator because Orloff had full command of both colloquial Russian and colloquial English. He was fluent in six languages and was the author of several books including "Russian Self Taught."

Orloff was born a prince in Imperial Russia where his family had been close to the throne since the days of Catherine the Great. He married the daughter of Grand Duke Constantine in 1917 when he was serving in the Russian artillery. After World War I he served in the White Russian Army against the Bolsheviks.

Orloff lived in exile in France, where he was a journalist, until he came to the United States and became a naturalized citizen in 1941. He translated many Russian classics and contemporary fiction for American publishers.

He is survived by a second wife, Marina, and two children by his first marriage.

Vanishing Natural Resources A Problem

By
REP. CLEMENT W. MILLER

WASHINGTON—In the day-to-day competitive scramble here for attention and money, problems of the future too often end up being ignored.

For example, look at our vanishing natural resources. As one case history, consider our remarkable flights of migratory ducks and geese.

Migratory waterfowl is still among America's great natural resources. But today it's a vanishing resource. And tomorrow it will be gone unless we face up to the problem today. Tomorrow will be too late.

Our ducks and geese are vanishing because of the encroachment of civilization on the "wetlands" — the marshes and tidelands which are the breeding habitat for waterfowl.

Unless a certain minimum of wetlands can be saved before they are drained or polluted, the great migratory flights one day will be no more. Not just the sportsman, but all who love the out-of-doors, will have lost something of incalculable value.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has responsibilities for migratory ducks and geese because of their interstate travels. Back in 1934 the Fish and Wildlife Service set a goal of seven and one-half million acres of wetlands to be acquired for waterfowl refuges and breeding areas. This was considered a minimum for conservation of the resource.

Today, less than half of that acreage is protected.

Three years ago, at the request of sportsmen, Congress increased the fee for the migratory-bird hunting stamp from two dollars to three dollars and provided that all net proceeds would be used to acquire needed wetlands. This was a big step forward, but it had hardly gone into effect before its inadequacies became apparent.

Because of the accelerating destruction of wetlands, the numbers of ducks and geese have fallen off rapidly in recent years. As a result, hunting has become poorer and fewer hunters have bought fewer duck stamps. Consequently, the wherewithal to acquire wetlands is lagging. This, in turn, is causing even poorer hunting and even lower stamp receipts and a further lag in the wetlands program.

At the present rate we would have to wait 30 years to acquire the necessary wetlands at the $40 an acre which is estimated current average cost. But, as a practical matter, under the present arrangement we will never acquire enough wetlands for two reasons: rising land costs are pricing the Fish and Wildlife Service out of the market, and the present inadequate duck stamp receipts are continuing to fall off.

It has become apparent that what is needed—if we are to save the resource—is a crash program.

Such a program is now before Congress in the form of legislation of which I am a co-sponsor.

We propose acquiring the necessary minimum wetlands over the next 10 years. Our bill would authorize a loan program to pay for this, the loan to be repaid from duck stamp sales thereafter. By saving the wetlands now, we would be creating the means to repay the loan. It would work not unlike a revenue bond issue to finance a city water system.

Governor Confident U. S. Will Spend Harbor Money

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today expressed confidence that Congress will approve a $300,000 appropriation for improvements to the Santa Cruz Harbor.

The governor announced the support of Rep. Michael J. Kirwan (D-Ohio), chairman of the public works subcommittee of the House Appropriations committee for the appropriation.

"That is good enough for me," Brown said in a press statement. "I am confident that with his support this money will be made available for the Santa Cruz Project which is so vital to the people and industry of that area."

The federal money would go for construction of a jetty as part of a four-million-dollar improvement project.

PARIS (UPI)—Jacqueline Kennedy has confided to French television viewers that her husband is not a man who likes to relax, even in his famous rocking chair.

On May 10, Mrs. Kennedy filmed an interview with the French TV network which was broadcast throughout France yesterday preparatory to the arrival of the Kennedys in Paris today.

Speaking in French, the First Lady in answering questions, said of the President, "He never relaxes in his rocking chair, he works. He never relaxes."

The French interviewer thought the chief executive might ease the tensions of his high office by working cross word puzzles, but Mrs. Kennedy said no.

"He reads a lot and he likes to play with his children, but he's not a man who likes to relax," she said.

Among other comments by the First Lady about her husband and life in the White House —

And concerning her plans to send Caroline, now 3, to school ouptside White House when she's 5 or 6, "I cannot keep her here as the small prisoner of the tower.

Families That Can Play Together Are The Ones That Stay Together

June is a nice month for playing. Will you have fun with your kids in the days ahead?

Some families can't play. There's too much hatred and fear in them.

Maybe the mother is a self-centered goop who moans about herself and is a killjoy. Maybe the daddy is crabby, always snarling at his children. Picnics in such families always end in tears and vacations are hellish.

But most of us can enjoy family outings. Most of us can have fun going to the beach and swimming. We can get a kick out of fishing together, hiking, picnicking, going to the zoo and ball games. We even have fun sitting on the lawn in the soft twilight, singing together.

Long ago I discovered that families who play together, stay together. They develop loyalty and love. They fight frequently, of course. They have their bitter times and their worries, but when a real crisis comes they close ranks and stand united.

Family loyalty is especially important when our youngsters reach their teens. At that stage they do f o o l i s h, dangerous things. We have to say "no" to them, repeatedly.

If they love and trust us, they will obey. But if they don't they'll rebel. We may lose them forever.

So have fun together in June. Don't be too bossy. Let your kids see you as a friendly, happy human being.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of Tomales Bay Union School District, of Marin County."

In addition bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the District on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the District. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said District, or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

Change In Motor Freight Rates Hasn't Given Anticipated Relief

The recent change in motor freight rates effective May 23 from points in southern and central Marin County to Arizona and New Mexico has not served to give the straight across-the-board reduction for local shippers that was anticipated.

Patrick W. Pollock of San Anselmo, senior traffic analyst for Fibreboard Paper Products Corp. in San Francisco has pointed out that the newly allowed arbitraries of 73 cents per 100 pounds in less than truckload lots and 46 cents per 100 pounds on truckloads which are now applied in addition to the rates from San Francisco to Arizona and New Mexico will effect a saving only in weight brackets under 4,000 pounds.

From 4,000 and up, increases have resulted from 11 to 49 cents per 100 pounds and at 27 cents per 100 pounds in truckload shipments over previous rates, except among carriers not participating in the Inter-State Freight Carriers Conference.

So far it has not been determined what local shippers will be affected but Carroll A. Snyker of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation has promised an investigation of remedies available.

BOOKSHOP-MARIN, 928A Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, a rental library also engaged in book and greeting card sales, has been purchased by Mrs. Lewis G. Carpenter Jr., 33 Evergreen Drive, Kent Woodlands. She is being assisted by Mrs. Margaret Gray Hayden of Kent Woodlands.

Former owner Mrs. Florence C. Patterson has moved to Oregon.

ACCORDING to Russell H. Papenhausen, former commodore of the Sausalito Cruising Club, if the Sausalito Planning Commission looks favorably upon the project, the club will convert an old barge berthed near the foot of Napa and Locust Streets for its new headquarters.

The barge with dimensions of 31 by 110 feet will be self-contained and movable from one spot to another.

The club has been holding its meetings at the IDESST Hall, 511 Caledonia Street, Sausalito.

ARRANGEMENT for the William H. McDevitt Building Co. to take over the complete planning, financing, construction, leasing and landscaping of Mill Valley's new United Market in a one price deal is a highly satisfactory one for the Saccones.

"That way," says Ben Saccone, president of the Marin food firm, "we can concentrate on our own business—groceries, not building—and let McDevitt worry about the details and getting the market ready for occupancy in record time."

Every man to his trade.

KEN LANDAGE, the Thrifty Drug manager at the Corte Madera Shopping Center, must hold some kind of record for commuting in Marin County.

The other morning he opened up the store, then flew to Los Angeles for a meeting at the chain's head office, flew back in the afternoon and closed up shop after the day's business.

BOB DEALY, 925 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera has been appointed the new gardener at the shopping center, according to Frank Rusalem, president of the Madera Gardens Development Co.

Marin Cities Receive $255,000 In Gas Tax

Marin County cities have received $255,063.28 as their share of state gas tax revenues apportioned to California cities for city street work during the fiscal year ending June 30.

A record total of $33,812,485.46 was apportioned to the 372 incorporated cities, State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack announced.

The total apportionment is the revenue from five-eights of a cent per gallon out of state gas taxes paid by highway users.

Largest share in Marin County—$55,502.56—went to San Rafael. Other apportionments: Novato, $53,745.11; San Anselmo, $34,922.65; Mill Valley, $31,139.67; Corte Madera, $17,717.50; Sausalito, $16,542.71; Larkspur, $16,412.18; Fairfax, $15,776.16; Ross, $7,430; Belvedere, $5,874.74.

Hairy Ear May Hold Clue To Race Mystery

NEW YORK (UPI)—If scientists around the world investigating men whose ears sprout hair they might penetrate some of the mysteries surrounding the origins of the existing races of human beings.

Dr. K. R. Dronamraju, the genetics scientist who urged such a world-wide investigation upon his colleagues, encouraged them with an example of what he himself had done with hairy ears.

By statistical analysis of hairy and non-hairy ears among present-day men, he found suggestive evidence in support of the legend that Ceylon was colonized from Bengal in India about 2,500 years ago.

Scientifically hairy human ears have more or less slumbered since 1907 when the geneticist, C. Tommasi, theorized that they were in inherited characteristic and were inherited through a gene linked to the "Y" chromosome.

This meant (if the theory was correct) that it would be impossible for women to have them since women have no "Y" chromosome. Two "X" chromosomes make a female but it takes a "Y" added to an "X" to make a male.

Dronamraju investigated the ears in his own family. He is an Indian, and India's races are not only very ancient but have been stable in the one place for a very long time. This means genetic clues to origins are easier to come by than in less stable races.

In the Dronamraju family pedigree covering 181 persons of seven generations he showed that hairy ears were not only inherited but inherited only by males.

In West Bengal 16 per cent of 150 pairs of male ears sprouted hair, especially along their outer rims. In various parts of Ceylon the percentage of 414 scattered pairs ranged from 32.1 to 43.3.

This was "statistically significant," as he emphasized. It indicated that long, long ago males from what now is West Bengal went to Ceylon taking their "Y" chromosome-linked hair ear gene with them.

The more scientific question raised by Dronamraju's ear investigations were: Is there any place in the world where all men have hairy ears? Answers to the question could tell a lot about where people came from.

Interpreter Dies On Eve Of Big Parley

Orloff was an interpreter with the United Nations from its first meeting in 1946 until his retirement as deputy chief of the interpreting section in 1956.

He has since worked as a free lance U. N. interpreter and covered Khrushchev's two visits to the United States for ABC.

Orloff's interpretations of the Russian premier's salty remarks often have been favored over those of the official Soviet translator because Orloff had full command of both colloquial Russian and colloquial English. He was fluent in six languages and was the author of several books including "Russian Self Taught."

Orloff was born a prince in Imperial Russia where his family had been close to the throne since the days of Catherine the Great. He married the daughter of Grand Duke Constantine in 1917 when he was serving in the Russian artillery. After World War I he served in the White Russian Army against the Bolsheviks.

Orloff lived in exile in France, where he was a journalist, until he came to the United States and became a naturalized citizen in 1941. He translated many Russian classics and contemporary fiction for American publishers.

He is survived by a second wife, Marina, and two children by his first marriage.

Families That Can Play Together Are The Ones That Stay Together

June is a nice month for playing. Will you have fun with your kids in the days ahead?

Some families can't play. There's too much hatred and fear in them.

Maybe the mother is a self-centered goop who moans about herself and is a killjoy. Maybe the daddy is crabby, always snarling at his children. Picnics in such families always end in tears and vacations are hellish.

But most of us can enjoy family outings. Most of us can have fun going to the beach and swimming. We can get a kick out of fishing together, hiking, picnicking, going to the zoo and ball games. We even have fun sitting on the lawn in the soft twilight, singing together.

Long ago I discovered that families who play together, stay together. They develop loyalty and love. They fight frequently, of course. They have their bitter times and their worries, but when a real crisis comes they close ranks and stand united.

Family loyalty is especially important when our youngsters reach their teens. At that stage they do f o o l i s h, dangerous things. We have to say "no" to them, repeatedly.

If they love and trust us, they will obey. But if they don't they'll rebel. We may lose them forever.

So have fun together in June. Don't be too bossy. Let your kids see you as a friendly, happy human being.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "What is a junior college? They want to start one where I live and I'm puzzled."

(A) A junior college is a two-year college, ending with the sophomore year. Many cities are starting junior colleges to enable a larger number of high school graduates to go to college than would be possible otherwise.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

REGISTRATION: Coupon bonds will be issued by said Board of Supervisors on behalf of said District. Such bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds were authorized by more than two-thirds of the voters voting at an election held in said District on April 18, 1961, and will be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for authorized school purposes.

SECURITY: The bonds are general ooligations of said District, and said Board of Supervisors has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said District, subject to taxation by said District (except certain intangible personal property, which is taxable at limited rates), without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may at his option prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds and in such case the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the following firm approving the validity of said bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge: Orrick, Dahlquist, Herrington & Sutcliffe of San Francisco, California. A copy of the legal opinion, certified by the official in whose office the original is filed, will be printed on each bond at the expense of the successful bidder, if requested in his bid.

TERMS OF SALE

HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals unless such time of award is waived by the successful bidder.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale, but not prior to the date of the bonds.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of Tomales Bay Union School District, of Marin County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $2,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the District on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the District. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said District, or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

IN OPERATIC ROLE — Ko-Ko, Lord High Executioner (Keith Bentley) and Katisha (June Wilkin) are respectively astonished and pensive in this scene from Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado." This all-time favorite will be presented Saturday and Sunday, by San Francisco's Lamplighters, guest artists at Marin's first Festival of the Performing Arts.

Performing Arts Festival Scheduled This Weekend

Hundreds of Bay Area devotees of music, dance and drama are expected to gather on the campus of San Rafael's Dominican College this weekend, according to chairman Winifred Baker, for the first Marin Festival of Performing Arts.

A new feature just announced by Mrs. Baker is a "festival center," which will be located at less than a minute's walk from Angelico Hall on the grounds of Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Anderson on Palm Avenue.

The center, planned by a committee under Eugene Ramey of Sausalito, will have exhibits and booths serving light refreshments amid a gaily decorated setting enlivened by strolling madrigal singers, instrumentalists and folk dancers. Folk dancing is being arranged through the Marin Folk Dance Council.

Harry Alto and Dale Ramey will be a guitar duo; Roderick H. Aya, a piper, will be in full Scottish dress, and a capella singers from the Winifred Baker Chorale will sing madrigals.

The center will be open Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 7 p.m.

The first Festival of the Performing Arts ever to be staged in Marin will bring together artists from all over the county in a program ranging from the classical to the very modern.

Identical programs on Saturday and Sunday starting at 1:45 p.m. will be topped off with 8 p.m. presentations of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" by San Francisco's widely acclaimed Lamplighters.

Featured will be Keith Bentley as Ko-Ko, the lord high executioner, June Wilkins as Katisha and Orva Hoskinson as Nanki Poo.

Tickets for "The Mikado" and other attractions will be on sale on a first-come basis, according to Mrs. Norman Beals, ticket sales chairman.

The festival will open Friday at 8 p.m. with a concert featuring the 80-voice Winifred Baker Chorale, boys' chorus and orchestra. Highlight of their program will be Benjamin Britten's "St. Nicolas" with tenor Tenophilus Stephanou in the title role.

Saturday and Sunday identical programs start at 1:45 p.m. with the Bach Chaconne interpreted by the Dick Ford Dancers from Mill Valley.

Then comes the Marin Arts String Quartet under Charles Meacham, with pianist Robaline Meacham.

Next will be Wilbur F. Russell, organist of the San Francisco Theological Seminary staff, assisted by James and Thompson Chesnut, trumpets, and John Benson and David Reed, trombones.

Final event of the afternoon, at 5:30 p.m., will be by the Sausalito Little Theater under Lynne Arden.

Of the $7.5 billion spent for tobacco products last year, nearly $3 billion was for direct excise taxes.

IN OPERATIC ROLE — Ko-Ko, Lord High Executioner (Keith Bentley) and Katisha (June Wilkin) are respectively astonished and pensive in this scene from Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado." This all-time favorite will be presented Saturday and Sunday, by San Francisco's Lamplighters, guest artists at Marin's first Festival of the Performing Arts.

Performing Arts Festival Scheduled This Weekend

Hundreds of Bay Area devotees of music, dance and drama are expected to gather on the campus of San Rafael's Dominican College this weekend, according to chairman Winifred Baker, for the first Marin Festival of Performing Arts.

A new feature just announced by Mrs. Baker is a "festival center," which will be located at less than a minute's walk from Angelico Hall on the grounds of Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Anderson on Palm Avenue.

The center, planned by a committee under Eugene Ramey of Sausalito, will have exhibits and booths serving light refreshments amid a gaily decorated setting enlivened by strolling madrigal singers, instrumentalists and folk dancers. Folk dancing is being arranged through the Marin Folk Dance Council.

Harry Alto and Dale Ramey will be a guitar duo; Roderick H. Aya, a piper, will be in full Scottish dress, and a capella singers from the Winifred Baker Chorale will sing madrigals.

The center will be open Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 7 p.m.

The first Festival of the Performing Arts ever to be staged in Marin will bring together artists from all over the county in a program ranging from the classical to the very modern.

Identical programs on Saturday and Sunday starting at 1:45 p.m. will be topped off with 8 p.m. presentations of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" by San Francisco's widely acclaimed Lamplighters.

Featured will be Keith Bentley as Ko-Ko, the lord high executioner, June Wilkins as Katisha and Orva Hoskinson as Nanki Poo.

Tickets for "The Mikado" and other attractions will be on sale on a first-come basis, according to Mrs. Norman Beals, ticket sales chairman.

The festival will open Friday at 8 p.m. with a concert featuring the 80-voice Winifred Baker Chorale, boys' chorus and orchestra. Highlight of their program will be Benjamin Britten's "St. Nicolas" with tenor Tenophilus Stephanou in the title role.

Saturday and Sunday identical programs start at 1:45 p.m. with the Bach Chaconne interpreted by the Dick Ford Dancers from Mill Valley.

Next will be Wilbur F. Russell, organist of the San Francisco Theological Seminary staff, assisted by James and Thompson Chesnut, trumpets, and John Benson and David Reed, trombones.

Final event of the afternoon, at 5:30 p.m., will be by the Sausalito Little Theater under Lynne Arden.

Of the $7.5 billion spent for tobacco products last year, nearly $3 billion was for direct excise taxes.
